AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Otakar L. Hanzek, master, of the Czech Motorship, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port of place during her present voyage.

I have noted the coin of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and coin of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 17th day of October, 19 50

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be restricted to aliens, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "motorway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew and all other persons on board, which lists shall be sworn to before a United States consular officer, or, if there be no such officer at the place of departure, before the chief executive officer of the district, city, or town from which the vessel sails, and shall show the full name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien member of the crew and each other person who intends to land in the United States, and such other information regarding them as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall show the name, birthplace, and last permanent residence of each alien member of the crew who has been left behind in a foreign port, and the cause of his detention there, so far as known. If any crew shall be increased or diminished in number before the departure of the vessel from each port, the master shall report the additions to or subtractions from the crew, with the reasons therefor, to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure. Any master who knowingly fails to report the name of any alien member of the crew or other person who has been employed on board his vessel at any port, or who knowingly lands or permits to land any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States without the permission of the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who lands or permits to land any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States at any time other than that reported to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who fails to detain on board his vessel any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States who has been ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration to be detained on board his vessel, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States who has been left behind in a hospital or elsewhere, or who fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list containing the names of all alien members of the crew or other persons employed on board his vessel at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel at the time of departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and the amount of money due to each, and the amount of property belonging to each, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien member of the crew and each other person in respect of whom such failure occurs, and by imprisonment for not more than one year. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list containing the names of all persons who have been employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States who have been paid off and discharged, and the amount of money due to each, and the amount of property belonging to each, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien member of the crew and each other person in respect of whom such failure occurs. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the Republic of Panama, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, Jamaica, and the other British West Indies, or the Republic of Colombia, or any island adjacent to any thereof, shall, before the vessel shall depart from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the name, birthplace, last permanent residence, destination, and other information required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor concerning each alien master, officer, seaman, or other person employed on board such vessel, and each alien who intends to land in the United States from such vessel, and shall furnish to each such alien master, officer, seaman, or other person a card containing a printed notice to aliens in such form as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe, and shall require each such alien to fill out and sign in the alien's own handwriting and in the English language before the vessel shall depart from the port of arrival. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the list of alien members of the crew and other persons required by this section to be delivered to such immigrant inspector, or who fails to deliver to each such alien master, officer, seaman, or other person a card containing the notice to aliens prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who fails to require each such alien master, officer, seaman, or other person to fill out and sign such card in the manner and form prescribed, or who knowingly makes any false statement in any such list or card, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. Any master who knowingly fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States who has been ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration to be detained on board his vessel, or who fails to report the name of any such alien member of the crew or other person who has been left behind in a hospital or elsewhere, or who fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list containing the names of all persons who have been paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all such persons who were respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and description of each such alien, together with any information likely to lead to its apprehension; and who knowingly lands or permits to land any such alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States without the permission of the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who lands or permits to land any such alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States at any time other than that reported to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of those who have been paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all such persons who were respectively shipped or entered, and description of each such alien, together with any information likely to lead to its apprehension; and who fails to deliver to each such immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival as many lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew and other persons employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who fails to report the illness or hospitalization of any alien member of the crew or other person employed on board his vessel at any port in the United States who has been left behind in a hospital or elsewhere, or who fails to deliver to each such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been found secreted on board his vessel at any port in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been found secreted on board his vessel at any port in the United States, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of any such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each such immigration officer a description of each such alien, together with any information likely to lead to its apprehension; and

(c) If the Attorney General, or any person designated by the immigration officer or the Attorney General to detain or deport alien crewmembers by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity of such seaman to attend proceedings before a court, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory of Canada to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all bonefide alien shipmasters employed on June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman for medical treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside for medical treatment, or because of any regulation as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign owned falls to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if detained by such immigration officer at the time of such departure, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every fine on alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to any place in the duly of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position which they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, and stating the number of all seamen, including masters, employed on such vessel; and it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel to report to the principal immigration officer, in manner as above provided, the name of any alien seaman who may desert or be discovered, or who may leave the vessel for any cause whatever, before the departure of such vessel from the port, and also the cause of such desertion or departure, if known, and the destination of such alien seaman, if known; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel, before granting clearance papers to any such vessel, to require and receive from the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof a certificate that all the provisions of this section have been complied with, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers without such certificate. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who refuses to make report or deliver certificate required of him by this section, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to go on board of and search his vessel for any alien seaman, or who refuses to detain any alien seaman on board his vessel when requested so to do by any immigration officer, or who refuses to pay the cost of maintenance of any alien seaman while detained on board his vessel by order of the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses to pay any fine imposed upon him for violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refusal the Attorney General in the discretion shall refuse the permission of such vessel to depart from any port of the United States. Any fine collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and credited to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate and remit any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred under the provisions of this section, upon such terms as he may deem just and reasonable. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations governing the granting of clearance papers in accordance with the provisions of this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise to such extent and for such time as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, or to depart as a passenger, other than as a stowaway, on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, pending the determination of the question of the right of such alien to land in the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport any alien seaman on board such vessel when such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate and remit any fine, penalty, or forfeiture of not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof shall be an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a seaman, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such vessel or the owner thereof, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain tough approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or said list containing no more of such information as to the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said list is incorrect or incomplete, and all aliens illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall thereafter join the vessel, and the reasons for the departure of all such employees who have been discharged or have died on board, and also the names of those, if any, who have been born on board the vessel, and such information shall be given before the departure of such vessel from the port: Provided, That the Attorney General may prescribe the form of such lists and the additional information to be furnished thereon: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

SEC. 39. That no alien seaman shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at any port of the United States from a place outside the United States, or on board any vessel departing from any port of the United States for a place outside thereof, unless and until he shall have been examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service and certified to be free from any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease: Provided, That in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, in cases where no such medical officer is available, the examination may be made by any other medical officer detailed for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, or by any civil surgeon of the United States Public Health Service, or by any regularly licensed practicing physician of the place from which the vessel is about to depart, whose certificate shall be accepted in lieu of examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to permit the employment on board any vessel of any alien certified to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease if he shall be of opinion that the certificate was issued improperly or that sufficient opportunity was not given for such examination.

SEC. 40. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof shall not allow any alien seaman employed on such vessel finally to depart from the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside of contiguous territory and adjacent islands a memorial physical examination by the medical examiners). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving anywhere in the United States on or after the date of the passage of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 38 Stat. 1165; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (c).)

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman employed on such vessel (whether such seaman is examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected and admitted or detained for special inquiry at a hospital by the medical examiners). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving anywhere in the United States on or after the date of the passage of this Act.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was returned by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "motorway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including the crew and officers, being on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destinations they respectively have in view, which list or manifest shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the master of every such vessel shall, if required by any such officer, truly answer all questions concerning the persons on board such vessel and their business on board and the ports whence they came. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver such list or manifest, or to answer such questions, or who shall make any false answer thereto, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, but not more than $200 for all such aliens; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, or by any other officer authorized to perform the duties of the collector at such port, while any such fine remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191), when need furnished, has been delivered to the administrative officer in charge of the port, unless such list is prepared by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 193) unless the master of the vessel has complied with the requirements of 8 CFR 150.1–150.17, and need made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the United States (except from a contiguous territory or adjacent island) unless such seaman establishes to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that he intends to depart from the United States on board the vessel bringing him to the United States or on board some other vessel, and unless such seaman (which term includes a seaman employed on such vessel) first has the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival indorse upon his certificate of identity the fact that he has been permitted to land temporarily and the period of time allowed for his departure, and has delivered to such officer for transmission to the commissioner of immigration and naturalization at the port of departure a true copy of the list or manifest of the vessel upon which he arrived, certified by the master of such vessel. Upon the departure of such seaman from the United States he shall be required by the master of the vessel on which he departs to deliver to an immigration officer at the port of departure the certificate of identity issued to him upon his arrival. Upon failure of any seaman to depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of the certificate of identity issued to him, he shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 hereof. The master of any vessel who fails to report the departure of any seaman as required by this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished, but not more than $200 for all such aliens; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, or by any other officer authorized to perform the duties of the collector at such port, while any such fine remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

(a) Penalty fines in alien seamen cases remitted or mitigated.

(b) Penalty fines in all deportation cases independent of June 5, 1920.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation cases in which the warrant of arrest was issued after the date of the approval of this Act, whether the alien seaman did not appear upon the outbreak manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be arrested upon the warrant of any immigrant inspector, or upon the certificate of the master of any vessel as provided in this section, or shall be arrested upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor

The list described below shall be filled out on blank forms which may be obtained from the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration station inspector boarding the vessel. In the port of arrival, they shall be delivered to the proper immigration officer at the port. When an alternate schedule is authorized, a copy shall be delivered to the proper immigration officer at the port of departure.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That alien seamen of any race in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to which the Immigration laws apply, before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such alien seamen are to be employed to report the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel, the last foreign port from which such alien seaman came to the United States, the intended future destination of such alien seaman, and such other facts regarding such alien seamen as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure a list containing such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such fine or while the question is under consideration by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of departure the list required by this section, or who knowingly lists, marks, or otherwise indicates falsely the race of any such alien seaman, or who refuses or fails to report, list, mark, or otherwise indicate the race of any such alien seaman, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect to whom such offense occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the payment of fines imposed hereunder upon the production of a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor, or by such person as he may designate, in such amount as he may require not exceeding the amount of fines imposed or likely to be imposed by reason of violations committed or likely to be committed by such vessel.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees provided for by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, and, when duties become payable by reason of failure to file manifest or entry, or by reason of the character of the cargo, duties shall be paid or secured to be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, except that clearance may be granted to vessels touching at ports in the United States for bunker coal or supplies, upon the filing of a bond in the penal sum of $2,000 for each such vessel to secure the production of the manifest and the payment of duties, if any, within such time as may be fixed by the collector of customs, not exceeding 10 days from the date of departure of the vessel from the port of last arrival in the United States.

(a) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate.

(b) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such bonds, to be determined by the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, and the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs shall relieve the vessel from the requirement of such bonds.

(c) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such bonds, to be determined by the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, and the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs shall relieve the vessel from the requirement of such bonds: Provided, That clearance may be granted under the provisions of this subdivision to vessels touching at ports in the United States for bunker coal or supplies, upon the filing of a bond in the penal sum of $2,000 for each such vessel to secure the production of the manifest and the payment of duties, if any, within such time as may be fixed by the collector of customs, not exceeding 10 days from the date of departure of the vessel from the port of last arrival in the United States.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the United States, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of section 16 of the Act of February 5, 1917, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on such other vessel as in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor may be necessary to secure the prompt deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to await examination as to his right to be admitted into the United States, or to await the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while the vessel on which he arrived remains in port, but shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or the deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and for the deportation of such alien from the United States.

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees provided for by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, and, when duties become payable by reason of failure to file manifest or entry, or by reason of the character of the cargo, duties shall be paid or secured to be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, except that clearance may be granted to vessels touching at ports in the United States for bunker coal or supplies, upon the filing of a bond in the penal sum of $2,000 for each such vessel to secure the production of the manifest and the payment of duties, if any, within such time as may be fixed by the collector of customs, not exceeding 10 days from the date of departure of the vessel from the port of last arrival in the United States.

(a) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such bonds, to be determined by the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, and the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs shall relieve the vessel from the requirement of such bonds.

(b) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such bonds, to be determined by the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, and the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs shall relieve the vessel from the requirement of such bonds: Provided, That clearance may be granted under the provisions of this subdivision to vessels touching at ports in the United States for bunker coal or supplies, upon the filing of a bond in the penal sum of $2,000 for each such vessel to secure the production of the manifest and the payment of duties, if any, within such time as may be fixed by the collector of customs, not exceeding 10 days from the date of departure of the vessel from the port of last arrival in the United States.

(c) Clearance may be granted to vessels carrying passengers between ports in the United States and foreign ports upon the execution of bonds in the penal sum of $300 for each passenger carried, conditioned upon the delivery of such passengers to the immigration officer at the port of arrival at the destination named in the bond, unless such passengers are relieved from the requirement of such bonds by the Secretary of Labor or by such person as he may designate, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such bonds, to be determined by the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel is documented before clearance is granted, and the deposit of such sum with the collector of customs shall relieve the vessel from the requirement of such bonds.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the United States, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of section 16 of the Act of February 5, 1917, by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on such other vessel as in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor may be necessary to secure the prompt deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to await examination as to his right to be admitted into the United States, or to await the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily while the vessel on which he arrived remains in port, but shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or the deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and for the deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who is afflicted with any contagious disease, or who is found to be a person who is excluded from admission into the United States by the laws thereof, shall be detained on board or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port, pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived or the deportation of such alien from the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment, to such extent and upon such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowable deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall not have complied with the requirements of section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 131), with respect to the list of alien seamen employed on such vessel, shall be subject to a penalty of $10 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master fails to deposit such seaman on board such vessel, such inspection to be conducted by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and, if such seaman is found to be afflicted with any such disease or mental or physical defect or disorder as would be ground for exclusion from the United States under the immigration laws then in force, to deposit such seaman in a hospital designated by the Secretary of Labor for the treatment of such disease or defect or disorder, or in default thereof to pay the cost of maintenance of such seaman in such hospital for a period not exceeding four weeks, and to pay the cost of his return to the country to which he belongs or to the country from which he last came to the United States, unless security is given to the satisfaction of the Attorney General for the payment of such cost of maintenance and return, or such seaman is admitted to the United States by the Secretary of Labor or such person as he may designate for the purpose, or unless such seaman is a citizen of the United States. Such penalty shall not be remitted or refunded except that remission may be made within one year after the payment thereof if it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the vessel on which such seaman arrived in the United States departed from the United States before the list required by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 was demanded by the proper officer of the United States, or that the vessel was not scheduled to depart from the United States within ten days after the date of arrival of such vessel in the United States, or that the vessel sailed from a port in the United States within ten days after the date of arrival of such vessel in the United States without the knowledge or consent of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof, or that such seaman actually entered the United States prior to the time the vessel on which he arrived was scheduled to depart from a port in the United States, or that such seaman was forcibly detained on board the vessel by threats or violence, or that the vessel was unseaworthy, or that such seaman was a member of the crew of such vessel and was destined to a port in the United States for the purpose of joining the vessel, or that such seaman was detained in the United States for the purpose of prosecution or as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with the commission within the United States of any crime, or that such seaman was not a native of a country contiguous to the United States and was not a citizen or subject of the country in which he had his last permanent residence prior to embarking for the United States, or that such seaman was in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa at the time of his application for admission to the United States, or that such seaman was in the United States at the time the vessel on which he arrived sailed from a port in the United States, or that such seaman was destined to a port in the United States for the purpose of joining the vessel, and that such vessel sailed from such port without having been notified by the immigration officer in charge thereof that such seaman was detained in the United States for the purpose of prosecution or as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any person charged with the commission within the United States of any crime, and that such seaman was not a native of a country contiguous to the United States and was not a citizen or subject of the country in which he had his last permanent residence prior to embarking for the United States, and that such seaman was in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa at the time of his application for admission to the United States, and that such seaman was in the United States at the time the vessel on which he arrived sailed from a port in the United States, and

SEC. 36. That from arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [here continue the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and description of each such alien, as hereinafter required by such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered], all cases in which any such alien has been allowed to land from any such vessel, and also the name of each such alien employed on any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted the service of any such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel from the time of her last departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have been left thereon at the time of her departure, and the cause for their absence. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving with alien passengers on board to deliver lists of such passengers, which lists shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, before any such passengers are landed from such vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same, or to any other matter concerning any such passenger, when required so to do by any such immigration officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any such immigration officer any such list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question in relation to the same, or to any other matter concerning any such passenger, when required so to do by any such immigration officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall falsely report, the illness or death on board such vessel of any person, or the cause thereof, previous to the arrival of such vessel at any port in the United States, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival [here continue the names of all alien members employed on such vessel] all the immigration officers in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), for the hospital, or treatment in connection therewith, of such alien seamen found to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 3 of this Act, or any other contagious disease, and for the detention of such seamen pending the certification of the result of such inspection to the Attorney General and to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, and adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless he shall be in possession of a valid passport and a visa issued by a consular officer at the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory to which such vessel is regularly operated on such vessel shall cause the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), the Attorney General is to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the time allowed by law for the application for remission or mitigation of such penalty has not expired, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival [here continue the names of all alien members employed on such vessel] all the immigration officers in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), for the hospital, or treatment in connection therewith, of such alien seamen found to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 3 of this Act, or any other contagious disease, and for the detention of such seamen pending the certification of the result of such inspection to the Attorney General and to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens who have been shipped, or engaged, and who subsequently shall have come on board at any intermediate port, in the order and form and containing the data required by the Secretary of Labor, and such other information as may be required by the said officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien may have been smuggled on board the vessel, either prior to departure from the last foreign port or during the journey to the United States, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company shall be subject to the provisions of section 8 of this Act. Before the departure of any such vessel from the port of arrival at the first port in the United States or any subsequent port, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company shall deliver to the last immigration officer at such port a list containing the names of all aliens who have been discovered on board since the last previous report was rendered, and the immigration officer at the port of departure shall be notified of the number of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to their apprehension; but before the departure of any such vessel, except a vessel of the navy, arrival at a second port in the United States, or clearance therefrom, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company shall deliver to the last immigration officer at the port of departure a list containing the names of all aliens employed, who were not employed therein at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the first port in the United States, and who will leave such port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and the amount paid to each alien respectively; and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or to a like penalty in addition to the penalty to which such vessel may be subject for bringing an alien who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, as provided in section 2 of this Act, unless it is proved that he did not know, and could not have known by the exercise of reasonable diligence, that such alien was afflicted with such disease at the time of departure: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 888–898; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

SEC. 150.15. Duty of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via landing vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), when need furnished, has been filed with the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company has been notified by the immigrant inspector in charge that no further hearings are to be held in connection therewith. (See also section 35 of the Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 191) prescribing penalties to be administered upon presentation of such list.) 11 Fed. Reg. 13,601–13,601; T.D. 46,601, as amended.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the return of such alien on board such vessel or another vessel in which he may lawfully be carried to the country to which he belongs, or to the country from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or operator of the vessel on which he arrived shall have engaged to ship him as a seaman: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any seaman who has resided in the United States for five years and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be insane. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted such alien permission to land, or shall have delivered such alien to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company of the vessel on which he arrived, or to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company of any other vessel which shall be willing to receive him on board and which shall be certified by the Secretary of Labor as a vessel which may lawfully receive such alien on board for the purpose of his return to the country to which he belongs, or to the country from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or operator of the vessel on which he arrived shall have engaged to ship him as a seaman. Every such alien seaman shall be entered on the manifest of the vessel on which he arrives, and shall be inspected by the immigrant inspectors at the time of arrival at the port of first arrival. Any such alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel on which he arrives, or who shall remain in the United States beyond the period of twenty days after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall be found in the United States at any time within one year after such departure, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully, at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company of the vessel on which he arrived shall have paid the cost of his maintenance and subsistence while in the United States and the cost of his deportation, or shall have given a bond with sufficient security to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor to indemnify the United States against such cost. Every such alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel on which he arrives, or who shall remain in the United States beyond the period of twenty days after the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall be found in the United States at any time within one year after such departure, shall be liable to a penalty of $100, which shall be a lien upon the vessel on which he arrived, and no clearance shall be granted to such vessel while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereafter approved by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refund the said penalty shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported at the instance of such vessel as a passenger, shall be given such assistance to obtain employment as may be practicable, and shall during such assistance be subject to the provisions of section 19 of this Act relating to aliens in the United States. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 167.)

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or others to be taken ashore to appear before the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien accompanying a parent who is a "non-quota" a duration to final effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That from arrival of vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart of the manifest of all the aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company; when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and specifying those of the latter who are destined to the United States; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, at arrival at each port in the United States, the name of every alien who may have been discharged from the vessel, giving the cause of discharge, and the destination of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel at which any alien employee of the vessel may desert to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but were employed thereon at the time of the departure, and the cause, if known, why every such alien employee was not so employed; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all aliens employees who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but were discharged before the departure of the vessel, giving the cause of discharge, if known, and the destination of such alien so far as known. Every master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to report the desertion, discharge, or departure of any such alien employee, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question touching the same asked by any immigration officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from via place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from via place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman) (whether inspected or not) any alien who arrives in the United States and who is not in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival a sum of money determined by the Attorney General to be sufficient to cover the cost of the return of such alien, including maintenance and incidental expenses, pending such return, but not exceeding $30 for each such alien, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master has complied with all the requirements of this section with respect to such alien and has no reason to believe that such alien will become a public charge, in which case he may, in his discretion, refund such sum or any part thereof. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such payment to be made from the head tax fund provided for by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, in the case of any such alien who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be unable to defray the expenses of his return and who has been ordered deported to a country contiguous to the United States or adjacent islands thereto. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize such payment to be made from the head tax fund provided for by section 2 of the Act of March 3, 1903, as amended, in the case of any such alien who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be unable to defray the expenses of his return and who has been ordered deported to a country contiguous to the United States or adjacent islands thereto.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from via place outside thereof, or who shall not be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmittance by the immigration officer to the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from via place outside thereof, to any foreign territory contiguous to the United States or adjacent islands thereto, is impracticable or unreasonable, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel or vessels to the country of which he is a subject, citizen, or national, or to any country which will receive him, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien members of crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternative manner is authorized by the Commissioner of Immigration, a duplicate of such manifest may be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or person in charge of the port or station at which said vessel shall arrive, to immediately report to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of each alien member of the crew employed on such vessel, whether such alien member be a seaman or not, and such other information relative to such alien members of the crew as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and to detain on board or at such port such alien members of the crew as may be required so to remain by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, pending the inspection of such alien members by an immigrant inspector, and to deliver to such immigrant inspector such lists of alien members of the crew as may be required. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the United States the sum of $10 for each alien member of the crew with respect to whom such refusal or neglect occurs. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse to detain any alien member of the crew when ordered so to do by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, and any master who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector any list required of him, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each refusal. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall knowingly make a false report concerning any alien member of the crew, or who shall refuse to detain any such alien member on board or at any port of the United States when ordered so to do by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector any such alien member of the crew when required so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien member of the crew with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of any penalty or penalties imposed by this section, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or penalties or a bond approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.1. Limit of alien employees; navy clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to apply for clearance has been filed with the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to the immigrant inspector prescribed by section 32 of said Act. (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 181.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 17. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 186.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it is the duty of the immigration officer to do upon request made by such master if required by such immigration officer or the medical examiner), or to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel when required so to do by such immigration officer or the Attorney General or to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or after the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear before the proper immigration officer at the time of such vessel's departure, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel as required, shall be furnished by the master of such vessel or his representative, and shall not be construed to require the master to detain such alien seaman on board after the vessel has cleared from the last port in the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or any other vessel in the possession or service of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel has been unduly delayed by reason of the failure of the master to comply with the provisions of this section, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or at the expense of the vessel or master pending the final determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman, including expenses incurred in maintaining such alien seaman, and such expenses shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld or granted in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury pending such determination, upon the deposit of such sum as he may deem sufficient to cover the cost of such detention, or the execution of such bond as may be required by the Secretary of the Treasury. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as requiring the detention of any alien seaman for a longer period than is otherwise provided by law.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or for medical treatment, or treatment to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, to land in the United States, except temporarily for emergency, and specifically for such purpose by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and subject to such conditions as may be imposed by such officer. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien seaman (which includes a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), there inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), at the time of arrival at the port of arrival is located the alien or who fails to detain such seaman on board for such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall, in addition to any other requirements of this Act, pay for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens employed on board any vessel as a seaman, shall be retroactive to June 5, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain the deposit after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in such institutions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any person bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman), who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien crewman pending his examination by the medical examiner), or to cause such seaman to be detained on board if required by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the examination of such alien by the medical examiner, or who fails to detain such alien crewman on board after such examination if so directed by the medical examiner, or who fails to deport such alien crewman if required by the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit by the collector of customs with the Attorney General (and application in writing therefor, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Attorney General) of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. Such bond shall be void upon the payment of such fine, or upon the remission thereof. Clearance may be granted to any vessel as to any alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs upon such fine being deposited with the collector of customs, or upon such bond being given, in an amount not exceeding $200 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Such section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels, domestic or foreign, which shall arrive at or depart from any place in the United States after the passage of this Act.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman, but such vessel as to such seaman may be granted clearance upon the deposit with the Attorney General of a bond sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the payment of such fine, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to all persons entitled to the same, or a sufficient sum deposited to meet the same, as determined by the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived has been unduly delayed by the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person interested in such vessel, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel at the expense of the vessel or owner thereof until such alien seaman can be deported. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel while any expense has been paid to all payment unauthorized to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below must be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. The list of aliens embarked on board, but not to be landed at, any port in the United States, must be prepared in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure of the vessel, and the other copy to be retained on board. Use black ink. Write plainly. Do not abbreviate. Any error or omission may cause delay in the departure of the vessel. Answer all questions by a cross (X) in the proper column, or by a figure or word, as the case may require. Where no alien embarked or landed, write "NONE." A duplicate should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alien American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEAL OF THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed and those who are destined to ports in the United States. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or, if there be more than one such officer, to the officer designated by him for the purpose, before any of the aliens contained therein shall be landed, and shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master or agent of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who lands or permits to be landed any alien contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be fined for each such offense not more than $500. The master of any such vessel shall also be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not listed, and the vessel shall be liable for the payment of such penalty and may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States at any port into which such vessel may enter or depart. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the entry or clearance of any vessel at any port not designated by the Secretary of Commerce as a port of entry for such vessel.

SEC. 37. (a) The master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States shall be responsible for the proper conduct while on board such vessel of such alien, and for his safekeeping and delivery to the proper immigration officer or his authorized representative, and shall not permit any such alien to land in the United States except at the time and place designated by such officer or representative. Any such master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via a vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not later than noon of the day of departure of the vessel to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, or to some officer duly designated by such immigration officer to receive the same. Any change in the list of aliens embarked, after the delivery of the list, and prior to the departure of the vessel, shall be reported by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, or to some officer duly designated by such officer to receive the same. Any alien who has been inadvertently omitted from the list of aliens embarked, and who is found on board after the departure of the vessel from the port, shall be reported by the master to the principal immigration officer at the next port of arrival

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form 1–68) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate examination is authorized, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assigned, include names of returning American citizen members as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to a place at which the quota of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof is subject to the provisions of section 3 of the Act approved May 19, 1921, as amended by the Act approved June 11, 1924, the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival shall be the duly authorized officers of the United States Government to examine all aliens applying for admission to the United States, and the said officers shall have power and authority to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States, and to make a record of so much of the testimony taken and such other facts ascertained in the examination of such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any person who knowingly makes a false statement or misrepresentation in his testimony with respect to any matter under consideration by such officers shall be guilty of perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and shall thereafter be inadmissible into the United States and be deported upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. Such officers shall have power to administer oaths and to appoint, in writing, and at pleasure to remove, interpreters whose duties shall be specified by the Secretary of Labor. Such interpreters shall receive as compensation for their services such sum per annum as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, not exceeding $1,200 per annum, payable monthly, and their traveling expenses when traveling on the business of the United States, to be paid upon the presentation of itemized vouchers therefor approved by the Secretary of Labor and certified by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such officers shall have power to board any vessel at any time after her arrival within the jurisdiction of the United States, either at a port of entry or elsewhere, for the purpose of inspecting the vessel in relation to the provisions of this Act, and for the purpose of discharging any duty imposed upon them by this Act, and it shall be unlawful for the master of any vessel to refuse to such officers the right to board or search any part of the vessel, or any of the vessel's boats, whether the vessel be in port or at sea, or to refuse to such officers the right to take with them such boats and employ such persons and use such force as may be necessary to enable them to board the vessel. Any master who refuses to stop his vessel or to facilitate the boarding thereof by such officers, or any person who obstructs any such officers in the discharge of their duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and the vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300. Such officers shall have power to go and be carried in vessels of the United States or belonging to the United States while in the performance of their duties, between ports of the United States and from ports of the United States to foreign ports, and shall have power to order the return to the United States of any alien who may come to the United States in violation of this Act, the cost of whose return is borne by the master of the vessel on which such alien arrived. Such officers shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching the privilege of any person to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, or concerning any matter which is material and necessary to the inspection of aliens coming into the United States, and to perform such other duties relating thereto as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and may be authorized by the President to perform in pursuance of the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1717), when such lists are found to be incomplete or inaccurate, or to contain the name of any alien employee who may be ineligible to the administrative authority thereby by this section or to any prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 158) pending penalty based thereon, the deposit described in 11 150.151–150.161, and paid made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual necessity, to the same extent as aliens entering as passengers, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel clearing from any port of the United States for any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel clearing for a foreign port, unless prevented by illness or other cause beyond his control, shall be allowed to land in the United States at any subsequent time or port. Any alien seaman who departs from the United States as a member of the crew of any vessel shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this section. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended by section 3 of the Act approved May 10, 1920, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and who fails to deposit with the Secretary of Labor a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Commissioner General of Immigration to pay the expenses and maintenance of such alien from the United States, or who fails to deport any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, shall be subject to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fund, or while the fund remains liable to cover such fund, or to a bond duly executed therefor approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Every alien who shall be allowed to enter the United States temporarily as a member of the crew of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be allowed to enter the United States solely in transit through the United States to a foreign country, shall be deemed to be a passenger, shall be given a special landing certificate, and shall be entered on the list of passengers.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or at the port of arrival pending the action of the Attorney General in the matter of deportation, and such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual necessity, until the Attorney General has given notice that deportation has been suspended. Such alien seaman shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel when directed by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 161–162, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing as many of all the persons employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of whom the said officer may require information, as he may deem necessary, relative to their right to enter the United States, which list shall be certified to by the master of such vessel if there be a surgeon employed on board such vessel, and by the first officer thereof if there be no surgeon, and by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel if there be no surgeon or first officer, and delivered to such officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to report any alien seaman who shall have been duly discharged in a foreign port before the departure of such vessel from such port, and who shall produce to the said officer a certificate from the shipping commissioner, or his deputy, before whom such discharge was had, showing the name, nationality, last residence, and such other facts concerning such alien seaman as may be required by the said officer to establish his identity fully: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to report any alien seaman who was not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel within the United States from any foreign port or place: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to report any alien seaman who shall have been duly discharged in a foreign port or place in accordance with the shipping laws of the United States and produce to the said officer the certificate of the shipping commissioner, or his deputy, before whom such discharge was had, showing the name, nationality, last residence, and such other facts concerning such alien seaman as may be required by the said officer to establish his identity fully: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to report any alien seaman employed on such vessel in case of the illness or injury to such seaman, necessitating his removal from such vessel before the report required by this section is made, but in such case a report shall be made concerning such seaman as soon after the arrival of such vessel as his condition will permit. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 151), when such vessel is destined to a port where a head tax is collected, has been delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of destination of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of such alien unless a certificate of the physical and mental examination of such alien, executed by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or by a civil surgeon designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall have been delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seamen on board such vessel until such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $100 for each such alien seaman if deported, and $1,000 for each alien seaman if respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment thereof, or any question upon the payment of such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, unless the applicant to payment of such sum, or while the time remains during which an appeal may be taken from the decision of the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or cancel the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 51. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and under such immigration officer in charge at the port of deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

For medical examination of aliens seeking to enter the United States, see Section 16, Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 152).

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and under such immigration officer in charge at the port of deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

For medical examination of aliens seeking to enter the United States, see Section 16, Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 152).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory of such alien unless a certificate of the physical and mental examination of such alien, executed by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or by a civil surgeon designated by the Secretary of Labor, shall have been delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seamen on board such vessel until such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman if respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment thereof, or any question upon the payment of such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, unless the applicant to payment of such sum, or while the time remains during which an appeal may be taken from the decision of the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or cancel the same upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(d) Front alien seaman on which he arrived at a port for the purpose of applying for a visa as a temporary visitor for pleasure, who was refused such visa by the consular officer to whom he applied, shall not be deemed to have been landed in the United States, notwithstanding such seaman was allowed to leave the vessel temporarily for the purpose of such application, and such seaman may be required to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel which may be available for such purpose.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of illness, such seaman may be permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment under such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, but the cost of maintenance and treatment of such seaman shall not be charged to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate vessel is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection at alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to the knowledge, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to replace aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel, stating the positions they respectively, or so as to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be required by the Attorney General, by or to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit prescribed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 151),* have been complied, and not then unless notice of hearing is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, shall be granted by the Attorney General, but in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other emergency, or by reason of the sickness or injury of such alien seaman, as certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all branches of the service of such vessel as a master, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure from any cause on the part of the master to deport such seaman.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to defray the deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared pending clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of injury or illness requiring his removal for hospital treatment, or pending the departure of such vessel, or pending the departure on another vessel within a reasonable time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 26. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with alien seamen employed on board who refuses to deport any such seaman, when required so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which shall have accrued on account of the employment of alien seamen on board any vessel as aforesaid, shall be paid to the collector of the district in which the port is situated, and may be recovered by the master of such vessel as a penalty in the United States District Court for the district in which the port is situated. (44 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 316; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conclusion of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel an nonresident, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after employment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived and such vessel cannot be arranged within a reasonable time, he may authorize the master of such vessel to detain such seaman on board or at the expense of the vessel or apply the expenses of the Attorney General, and shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes or alien members' names shall be prepared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (from 1–6 a.m., 6–10 a.m., 10 a.m.–1 p.m., 1–6 p.m., 6–10 p.m., 10 p.m.–1 a.m.). When an arriving alien is at "anchor," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, masters of vessels should not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving alien is at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes of alien members' names shall be prepared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is at "anchor," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information about alien members' seamen, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of departure lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been shipped and discharged, and the cause or reason therefor. Any person who knowingly or intentionally fails to perform any duty imposed upon him by the provisions of this section, or who knowingly or intentionally makes, causes to be made, or connives at the making of any false or incomplete statement or report in relation to the matters required by this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master or commanding officer of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver lists required by this section, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the crew list, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as to such alien, and in the event such alien is improperly, while it remains during: non shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel delayed. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 169) prevail been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital to which he may be taken for medical treatment, or burial to such destination as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly limited to depart on board via alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who limits to depart on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, the limitation to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which to depart after readmittance by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally determined until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until he shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowable deserters. Removal of the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 163.)

SEC. 26. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien crewman employed on such vessel during its stay in the port of arrival and intended to depart with the vessel as a member of the crew) shall, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before such vessel shall depart from such port, deliver to such officer a list or manifest of all such alien crewmen (except those employed on such vessel during its stay in the port of arrival and intended to depart with the vessel as a member of the crew), in such form as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe, and such list or manifest shall contain such particulars with respect to each such alien crewman as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. The master of such vessel shall sign such list or manifest in the presence of the immigration officer, who shall certify on such list or manifest the name of each alien crewman who is to be allowed to depart from the United States from such vessel. Any such alien crewman not included in such list or manifest, or any such alien crewman who departs from the United States from such vessel without the consent of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deported as provided in this Act to the country in which he was born or which he last had a residence, unless a different country shall be designated by such alien crewman and agreed to by the government of such country, subject to the provisions of section 23 of this Act. Any master who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such penalty, or pending the application to the Secretary of the Treasury for remission or mitigation of such penalty, or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination as to any vessel from any port in the United States to any port in any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, or to any port in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, if the master of such vessel shall have deposited with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof upon the payment of such sum as he may determine to be appropriate under the circumstances existing at the time of application.

(b) Every alien, as an alien seaman shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or, if he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States and delivered to the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, the cost of maintaining such alien seaman on such vessel while in the United States shall not be charged against the vessel in excess of $3 per day. Such cost of maintenance and the cost of returning such alien seaman to the country from which he came to the United States shall be paid out of appropriations for the enforcement of this Act. (43 Stat. 161–162, as amended by 44 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any alien by water at any port in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry of all alien members of the crew, whether destined to remain in the United States permanently or temporarily, a complete manifest of all such aliens, which manifest shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department of Labor, and shall contain such particulars with respect to each alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be signed by the master of the vessel, who shall certify on such manifest the name of each alien who is to be allowed to depart from the United States from such vessel. Any master who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such penalty, or pending the application to the Secretary of the Treasury for remission or mitigation of such penalty, or while such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination as to any vessel from any port in the United States to any port in any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, or to any port in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, if the master of such vessel shall have deposited with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $12 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof upon the payment of such sum as he may determine to be appropriate under the circumstances existing at the time of application.

(d) Every alien, as an alien seaman shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or, if he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States and delivered to the Attorney General.

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is used, it must be delivered by the master to a boarding officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) and not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is used, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

Attention is called to the requirement that the number of persons of each race or people mentioned in the list must be stated in figures opposite the race or people designated, and the total number of persons listed must be carried forward and entered on the last page of the manifest. Particular attention is called to the necessity for including in the list the names of all persons, including members of the crew, employed on board the vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and where they respectively intend to leave the vessel. If absolutely no race or people is to be listed, a blank space must be inserted in the list and the word "None" written therein.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be preserved on board vessel and produced to any officer of the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port of arrival, but shall not be required to be delivered up from the vessel. The list or manifest required by section 12 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917 (U. S. C., title 8, sec. 1212), shall not be delivered up to the immigration officer at the principal port of entry (from 1–68) shall not be required to be delivered up from the vessel by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is used, the addition to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens arriving, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, steward, or other officer of the vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete and accurate list or manifest of all aliens, including the full name, age, and sex of each alien; the calling or occupation of each alien, if any; whether each alien can read or write; the nationality of each alien, and the country to which each alien belongs, according to the last recognized sovereignty; the last permanent residence of each alien; whether each alien has a ticket to any place in the United States and whether the transportation is paid for by any person or corporation or other agency, and by whom paid; whether each alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long ago; whether each alien is coming to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his complete address or place of destination; whether each alien has money in his own possession or control, and if so, how much, and whether any alien has been in prison or in a almshouse or asylum, or supported by charity, or is a polygamist, or is an anarchist; whether any alien is coming to perform labor, and if so, what kind of labor, and whether he has been promised employment, and if so, by whom; whether each alien is married or single, and the age, sex, and relationship of those accompanying him or her; whether each alien is in possession of a ticket through to his or her final destination, and whether he or she has been assisted in coming by any individual or society; whether each alien has been deported from the United States previously, and if so, how many times and the cause for each deportation; whether each alien is coming in pursuance of a previous promise or agreement of labor, and if so, with whom such promise or agreement was made; whether each alien is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, or deaf, dumb, blind, or feeble-minded person; whether each alien is a professional beggar, or is coming for any purpose or object for which provision is made by this Act; and such other facts regarding each alien and his or her destination and journey as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. The said master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall also furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the names of all passengers who have been landed at a foreign port, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have the right to board any vessel for the purpose of examining the list or manifest of passengers. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver to the immigration officer, at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, the list or manifest required, or refuses to allow the immigration officer to board the vessel for the purpose of examining the list or manifest of passengers, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every such refusal, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such penalty or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of the penalty or the giving of the bond. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or cancel the bond as he may deem proper. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final determination of the case. The Attorney General may refer to the collector of customs all matters in dispute concerning the payment of such penalties, and the collector shall have power to remit or mitigate any penalty or cancel any bond pending such reference. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of the head tax provided for by section 2 of this Act, or the giving of a bond for the payment thereof, or pending an appeal from the decision of the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such head tax or cancel any bond given for the payment thereof in such manner and upon such terms as he may deem proper. Such application must be made within one year from the date of the final determination of the case. The Attorney General shall have the power to prescribe rules and regulations governing the administration of the provisions of this section, as amended, and the penalties and procedure for the collection, mitigation, or remission thereof.

(a) Every alien arriving at a seaport in the United States from a foreign port or place is entitled to enter, except that any alien who is afflicted with any of the following-described diseases or mental defects shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor by the examining medical officer, and unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, waives such certification, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act: Idiocy, imbecility, feeble-mindedness, insanity, epilepsy, constitutional psychopathic inferiority, chronic alcoholism, tuberculosis in any form, or leprosy.

(b) Any alien who by reason of mental or physical defect is certified by the examining medical officer at the port of arrival may appeal to the Secretary of Labor for the admission of himself or herself or any child under sixteen years accompanying or following to join either parent, and the decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the rejection or admission of any alien so certified.

(c) Any alien who at the time of entry is a member of one of the following classes shall be certified by the examining medical officer to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry under his direction: Persons who are coming or have come to the United States under offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor, skilled or unskilled; persons who have come in consideration of the payment of their passage or who have their passage paid for by others who are not their parents, grandparents, children, husband, wife, or parents; persons who have been deported and who have come in violation of law; persons who are or have been connected with the business of importing prostitutes or women for immoral purposes; persons who are or have been prostitutes; persons who are or have been professional beggars; persons who are or have been anarchists or persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or who disbelieve in or are opposed to organized government, or who advocate the assassination of public officials, or who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property; persons who are or have been members of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified; and persons coming to the United States to engage in any immoral sexual act. Any alien certified under this subdivision shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(d) Every alien shall be examined by the examining medical officer of the Public Health Service at the time of his application for admission to the United States, and if he is found to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, he shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor, and unless the Secretary of Labor, in his discretion, waives such certification, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive certification of any alien who is afflicted with a disease which is not dangerous to the public health, and which is curable, and who, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, is not likely to become a public charge, and who is not otherwise excludable.

(e) Any alien who is certified by the examining medical officer of the Public Health Service as afflicted with a dangerous contagious disease, or who is certified by the examining medical officer as afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in subdivision (c) of this section, shall be detained on board the vessel or at the immigration station at the option of the master, pending examination by a second medical officer. If the second medical officer certifies that the alien is not afflicted with such disease or defect, he shall be entitled to enter, but if the second medical officer certifies that the alien is afflicted with such disease or defect, he shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. The decision of the second medical officer may be appealed to a board of three medical officers, to be appointed by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision by a majority vote shall be final. Pending the appeal, the alien shall be detained on board or at the immigration station, at the option of the master. The physician appointed by the master shall be entitled to be present at the examination by the second medical officer and shall have the right of appeal as herein provided.

(f) Any alien who at the time of entry is a member of one of the following classes shall be certified by the examining medical officer to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry under his direction: Persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, prostitutes, or procurers; persons who have been imprisoned for one year or more for conviction of a crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in narcotic drugs or marihuana, or who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of the white-slave traffic laws; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in obscene matter; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in counterfeit money; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in any kind of securities issued without authority of law; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in passports; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in any kind of property taken by robbery, burglary, embezzlement, larceny, or fraud; persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a violation of any law relating to the traffic in any kind of property received by any person with knowledge at the time of such receipt that such property had been unlawfully obtained

I, John R Clarke, Master of the American oil motor P.P. LOVELOX, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this twenty ninth day of October, 1928

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of alien crew (Form I-418) shall not be restricted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "moratorium," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they have severally been landed; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before the departure of any such vessel, to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been employed on board the vessel at the time of the arrival but who have been discharged, and the cause of their discharge, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel; and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien who is destined to the United States to report the fact and furnish information in regard to such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. If any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge shall refuse to comply with the requirements of this section, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal, and shall also be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every alien concerning whom any such report is required by this section but not reported as herein provided, and no clearance shall be granted any such vessel while in the harbor of any port of the United States while any such fine or penalty remains unpaid; but the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any such fine or penalty, in whole or in part, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem just and proper. (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of the temporary landing of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the limits of the United States shall provide adequate and suitable hospital accommodations, as determined by the Attorney General, for the proper isolation of any alien seaman (whether in all cases such include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), found on board such vessel who is afflicted with any communicable disease specified in section 19 of this Act. Such hospital accommodations shall be provided on board such vessel unless the Attorney General shall determine that such accommodations are not necessary. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel when so directed by the Attorney General shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman found on board at the time of inspection or to which any such alien seaman may have been removed from such vessel without the permission of the Attorney General. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the time therefor is pending, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond upon the payment of such fine or any part thereof, or may remit such fine or any part thereof, if in his opinion such action is justified on account of the sickness or death of such seaman or for other reasons. The Attorney General may in the discretion shall refund proportionately any deposit made to secure the payment thereof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels entering ports of the United States on and after July 1, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge hereinafter or by the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found to be a member of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses may be recovered as a debt due the United States by the Attorney General. Any such seaman who shall depart from the United States shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be used for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be delivered or mailed immediately upon the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival. If no inspector be taken from the vessel, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port, or other place designated by him. Where no such officer is stationed at the port of arrival, a duplicate list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration inspector nearest the port of first arrival. Where the vessel is bound to a port for customs purposes beyond the port of first arrival, a duplicate list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at such port. Where no immigration officer is stationed at the port of first arrival, the list shall be delivered by the master to the collector of customs. The list or manifest must be prepared in the exact order in which the names of the aliens appear upon the ship's register, and the number of the page of the register on which each name appears shall be stated in the list or manifest. Before the vessel departs from the port of first arrival the master shall certify to the correctness of the list or manifest, and of the number of aliens named therein, and of the number of aliens, if any, who have been omitted therefrom, and the reasons for such omission, and deliver the list or manifest so certified to the immigration officer or collector, as the case may be, or his representative. The master shall also certify to the correctness of each subsequent list or manifest required to be delivered by him, and of the number of aliens named therein, and of the number of aliens, if any, who have been omitted therefrom since the delivery of the last preceding list or manifest, and the reasons for such omission, and deliver the same to the immigration officer or collector, as the case may be, or his representative, at the port of last arrival before departure from the United States or before pratique is granted. Any master who fails to deliver the list or manifest required by this section, or who includes therein the name of any alien who has not been examined by the immigration officer, as provided by law, or who refuses to answer any question touching the immigration or the right of any alien to enter the United States propounded to him by any immigration officer, or who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by any immigration officer, or who refuses to carry any alien who has been ordered excluded from the United States by the Secretary of Labor on board the vessel which brought such alien to the United States, or who refuses to detain such alien on board such vessel or to deliver him to the custody of the officer designated to take charge of him, or who refuses to pay the head tax levied by section 1 of this act in the case of any alien who is not specifically exempted therefrom, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom any such violation occurs. (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 102.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel before departure from the United States, or at the time of departure from the customhouse if the vessel departs directly therefrom, or to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel, any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 33 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 34 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 35 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 37 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 38 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section 39 of this act, or who fails to deliver to the boat or officer sent to board the vessel any certificate, list, or manifest required by section

VATTENDANT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... Island Harbor ..... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the cobb of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of 1950 21

Master, First or Second Officer.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port or place of entry (Form I–418) shall not be detached or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alphabetic manifest is required, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assessed, include names of arriving American citizen members as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether such persons be citizens or aliens, whether entering the United States for permanent residence or temporary visit, whether in transit through the United States to some foreign country, or entering the United States from some foreign country, and whether entered as cabin passengers, steerage passengers, or members of the crew, or otherwise, and whether such persons have or have not been admitted to the United States prior to the time of the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, and whether such persons are in possession of valid documents or not, which list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof before the departure of the said vessel from each foreign port or place, and before the departure of such vessel from each subsequent port in the United States at which it may touch, and before the departure of such vessel for the United States from any port or place in a country adjacent thereto, which list or manifest shall be in such form and contain such information touching each and every person named therein as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof, taken before the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or before any officer designated by him for the purpose, which said oath the said immigration officer is hereby authorized to administer. Any master, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the said immigration officer at the port of arrival the list or manifest required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question touching each and every person named therein propounded to him by the said immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any person liable to be detained for special inquiry by the said immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the said immigration officer any person so detained, or who shall refuse or neglect to prevent any person so detained from communicating with persons on shore before the said person has been passed by the said immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain in his custody on board his vessel or at the dock at which his vessel may be moored any person who has been ordered by the said immigration officer to be detained, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the orders of the said immigration officer for the safekeeping of persons detained on board his vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax provided for by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspectors at the time of inspection the certificate from the consular officer, as provided for in section 10 of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty, or any part thereof, and may remit the whole thereof, upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem reasonable and proper. The payment, remission, or mitigation of any penalty provided for in this section shall not relieve the vessel on which such penalty was incurred from any lien to which it may be subject for the head tax.

(a) Upon application therefor by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or intending to depart from the United States, there shall be furnished to such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel a sufficient number of manifests, or other documents, as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, to be delivered by him to the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof for medical treatment, or intending to depart from the United States for the purpose of obtaining such medical treatment, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily if certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival that the proposed landing would endanger the public health, and may be required to furnish a bond or undertaking, with sufficient sureties, in such amount, not exceeding $500 for each alien, and conditioned that such alien will not become a public charge, and will be deported if required by the Secretary of Labor, and that the owner will pay any expenses incurred in the maintenance and deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 16. No alien seaman employed on board any vessel which arrives at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or which departs from the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, until after the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have been satisfied that the proposed landing will not be inimical to the welfare, health, or safety of the United States, and that such alien seaman (a) is in possession of a valid passport and an unexpired immigration visa, if such alien seaman is a native of a country which requires passports and visas, or (b) is in possession of a special immigrant visa, if such alien seaman is a native of a country which requires special immigrant visas, or (c) is in possession of a special reentry permit, if such alien seaman is a native of a country which requires special reentry permits, or (d) establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is not required by the country of which he is a national to obtain a passport, immigration visa, special immigrant visa, or special reentry permit, as the case may be, before being admitted to such country. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to amend, modify, or repeal the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relating to the literacy test for admission into the United States, or the provisions of section 4 of the Act of May 26, 1924, relating to the documentary requirements for admission into the United States, or the provisions of section 2 of the Act of May 22, 1924, relating to the admission into the United States of certain classes of aliens without regard to the quota. (43 Stat. 161–162, as amended by the Act of June 21, 1930, 46 Stat. 854; 8 U. S. C. 136 (a), (b), (c).)

(a) Every alien seaman shall be treated as a passenger for the purpose of the payment of the head tax and the immigrant inspection at the port of arrival, but he shall be deducted from the number of passengers for which the vessel is certificated.

(b) Every alien seaman shall be entered on the list or manifest of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States, and such list or manifest shall contain, in addition to the information required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, the following information concerning each alien seaman: Name in full; age; sex; whether married or single; calling or occupation; nationality; last permanent residence; whether having a passport, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; whether having a seaman's identification certificate, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; whether having a special immigrant visa, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; whether having a special reentry permit, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; whether having a permanent certificate of registry, and, if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; whether having been previously admitted to the United States, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously deported from the United States, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously refused admission to the United States, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously excluded from the United States, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously deported from any foreign country, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously refused admission to any foreign country, and, if so, the date and place thereof; whether having been previously excluded from any foreign country

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off at the port of arrival; to list separately the names of aliens who have been in the United States and the length of time they have been therein; and to furnish the arrival of the vessel at such port, to the principal immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has become a charge upon the authorities of the United States or of any State or municipality within five years after the date of his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to such entry; and to furnish such immigration officer with such information in regard to the movements of aliens employed on such vessel as may be required by him. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists, or to furnish information, or to report cases of sickness or death, as required by this section, shall pay to the collector of the district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each such refusal or failure. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any such immigration officer any such list, or furnish such information, or report such cases of sickness or death, as required by this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each such refusal or failure. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board any vessel when ordered by such immigration officer, or to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States from any vessel at any port, shall pay to the collector of the district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien so detained, or for each alien landed or permitted to land contrary to the provisions of this section, and such sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by the United States in the district court of the district in which the port is located; and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the United States district court for such district. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the penalties imposed by this section have been paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the collector, but the Secretary of the Treasury may, upon application in writing, remit fines and penalties in whole or in part, and may direct the cancellation of any bond given hereunder. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, mitigate such penalty or discharge the same upon the payment of such sum as he shall deem reasonable, having regard to the circumstances in the case, to the amount of the penalty incurred, and to the previous record and character of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890–891; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sole purpose of obtaining the necessary documents for his departure and return, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be detained on board and on the vessel at the immediate expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the case of any such alien seaman (which determination in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination in any case in which a bond with sufficient surety in a penal sum not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, mitigate such penalty or discharge the same upon the payment of such sum as he shall deem reasonable, having regard to the circumstances in the case, to the amount of the penalty incurred, and to the previous record and character of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(b) From time to time the Attorney General may, upon application in writing, modify or waive such rules and regulations with respect to the admission of aliens seamen as he may deem necessary.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or at hence if all shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of the port of arrival list containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifically state those of the port of arrival list containing as much of such information as can be ascertained by reasonable inquiry of the master as to the aliens who intend to land in the United States, and as to such other aliens on board as the master may be required to report by the Commissioner General of Immigration prescribed; and every such master of the vessel shall be fined not more than $10 for each alien with respect to whom he fails to report or refuses to furnish information above required, or who furnishes information which he knows to be false, and may be imprisoned not more than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court. Every master of the vessel shall, before any alien is allowed to land from the vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true list of all such aliens, with such information as is required to be reported by the master of the vessel concerning each alien. Every master of the vessel who knowingly fails to deliver such list or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigrant inspector at such port, or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port, or who knowingly assists any alien to land in the United States in violation of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Every master of the vessel shall, before any alien is allowed to land from the vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true list of all such aliens, with such information as is required to be reported by the master of the vessel concerning each alien. Every master of the vessel who knowingly fails to deliver such list or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigrant inspector at such port, or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port, or who knowingly assists any alien to land in the United States in violation of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Every master of the vessel shall, before any alien is allowed to land from the vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true list of all such aliens, with such information as is required to be reported by the master of the vessel concerning each alien. Every master of the vessel who knowingly fails to deliver such list or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigrant inspector at such port, or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port, or who knowingly assists any alien to land in the United States in violation of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Every master of the vessel shall, before any alien is allowed to land from the vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a true list of all such aliens, with such information as is required to be reported by the master of the vessel concerning each alien. Every master of the vessel who knowingly fails to deliver such list or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States without the permission of the immigrant inspector at such port, or who knowingly lands or attempts to land any alien at any port in the United States at any time or place other than as designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at such port, or who knowingly assists any alien to land in the United States in violation of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or attempted to be landed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land at the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital, or such temporary purpose as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 203.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to deliver on board on the vessel before it departs from the port of arrival and before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has personally inspected each seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deliver on board such vessel before it departs from the port of arrival and before the immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do any alien who is a seaman in respect of whom such inspection or examination is required by this Act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or on a bond fully adequate, surety or security for the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not without reasonable cause be entitled to enter the United States at the time of his application for admission, and who is ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be deported to the country whence he came, shall be deported to such country as the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States may designate, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that deportation to such country will result in injury to the public welfare by reason of the existence of unsanitary conditions, or of the probability of the introduction of contagious disease into the United States, or that such country refuses to accept such alien seaman, and in such event the Secretary of Labor shall cause such alien seaman to be deported to such other country as he may designate which will accept such alien seaman. Any expense incurred in the deportation of any alien seaman under the provisions of this section shall be paid out of the appropriation for the expenses of the Department of Labor for the fiscal year in which such deportation is effected.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States has been afflicted with any communicable disease specified in the regulations of the Attorney General, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such place as the Attorney General may designate, for such time as may be necessary to determine whether such disease exists and to prevent the introduction of such disease into the United States. The cost of such detention and of the maintenance of such alien seaman, including seamen's wages, shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall pay a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman employed on such vessel (other than the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival) who is inspected and such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart with such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if temporarily by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do or shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deserters arising subsequent to June 2, 1930.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, to which he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence as to a failure to depart after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 28 Stat. 816; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be prepared on Form I–418 shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, "Unknown" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection at ports having multiple piers, indicate names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector assigned the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seaman, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, manifest the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively alien as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure; and also the names of those, if any, who have been laid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein required; and in the event such alien is improperly allowed to land, or in case of the illness of such alien employee, or master thereof, at the time of departure, the Attorney General, upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector in charge, shall have the right to collect from such owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, if the vessel such fine is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–904; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 198) thereafter, pending payment, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the act of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, or because of any refusal of any consular officer to issue to him a passport, or for any cause beyond his control, until a sufficient sum of money, not exceeding $300, shall be deposited with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit to not less than of such deposit when the liability to such sum has been finally determined. Such deposits shall not bear interest. Any such withdrawal may be conditioned upon the future departure of such alien seaman. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the vessel or the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof from any other liability or penalty.

(a) Any alien seaman who shall have been admitted to the United States under the provisions of this section, as amended, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws of the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not be permitted to land from any vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and returned to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to another vessel owned by the same interests, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector in charge, unless such seaman is found by the Attorney General to be lawfully entitled to enter some other country, in which case he may be deported to such country at the option of the Attorney General.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall have been admitted to the United States under the provisions of this section, as amended, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws of the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not be permitted to land from any vessel as a deserter, upon the certificate of the immigrant inspector in charge, unless such seaman is found by the Attorney General to be lawfully entitled to enter some other country, in which case he may be deported to such country at the option of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted, and such descriptive facts in regard to each of them as may be required by the Attorney General. Such lists shall be delivered from time to time as occasion may require, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have authority to administer oaths and take testimony concerning the same. Any person willfully failing to comply with the requirements of this section or willfully furnishing false or misleading information regarding any alien seaman, or willfully failing to perform any duty imposed upon him by any rule or regulation made hereunder, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or admitted, and such descriptive facts in regard to each of them as may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been so employed and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, to report any case of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains during: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 181.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 12. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of a medical certificate in the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to delain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who shall fail to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond fully sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action, as aforesaid, shall apply to all penalties which shall have accrued as well before as after the passage of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not be lawfully entitled to be admitted to land in the United States, and who shall leave any vessel at a seaport in the United States, shall be deported by the master of such vessel as a passenger, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he is a stowaway, or that he was forced to leave such vessel because of illness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or that he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Attorney General, or that he has been granted a visa as a nonimmigrant and is in possession of a valid passport and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of State under section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and the Attorney General is satisfied that he has the means and intention to depart from the United States and will depart therefrom within the period of his temporary admission. Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on such other vessel as may be designated by the master thereof, unless the Attorney General shall determine that he is not a deserter, or that he was forced to leave such vessel because of illness or injury requiring hospital treatment, or that he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the Attorney General, or that he has been granted a visa as a nonimmigrant and is in possession of a valid passport and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of State under section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and the Attorney General is satisfied that he has the means and intention to depart from the United States and will depart therefrom within the period of his temporary admission. Every alien seaman who shall not be lawfully entitled to be admitted to land in the United States, and who shall leave any vessel at a seaport in the United States, shall be deported by the master of such vessel as a passenger, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he is a stowaway

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Attorney General (from 1–100) shall not be refunded or repaid, but shall be retained by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or [here confirmed as near as may be] delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, a list or manifest of all such aliens, which list or manifest shall contain such information as may be required by the Attorney General as to the name, nationality, last permanent residence (foreign and last), and such other facts concerning any such alien seaman as may be required by the Attorney General in the discretion of the Attorney General, which list or manifest shall be prepared on forms furnished by the Attorney General for the purpose, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand or modify such requirement as to any vessel or class of vessels. (As amended by act of June 2, 1924.)

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel and a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the fact that he has become naturalized or has married or established a home in the United States, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens of alien members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an attorney acquires a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of attorney American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or the agent, consignee, master, or commander of any vessel violating the provisions of this section as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall knowingly or willfully make any false statement in relation to the names, nationality, or last residence of any such alien, shall pay to the Attorney General, for the use of the United States, a sum not exceeding $300 for each such alien in respect of whom such default occurs, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such default occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties which have accrued or which may accrue under section 2 of the Act of June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a finding to detain or deport after readjustment by the Immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or brought to such territories as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof or such alien from the United States, not to exceed $300 for each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been informed such seaman (which information in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or unless he shall deposit with the collector of customs or the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section as amended shall apply to all deserting alien seamen subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not depart upon the discharge manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall not be returned by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and upon the warrant of the Attorney General be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of other aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 53 Stat. 814; 8 U. S. C. 167 (d), 167 (c).)

NOTE.—Failure to furnish full or correct information in columns (3), (8), (9), and (17) may result in a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien.

See list of crews on back hereof.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ROBERT HICKS, master of the S S PRINCESS LOAN, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 14 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, [redacted]

Sworn to before me this 4th day of OCTOBER, 19 20

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or lists containing as many of such alien members as the master may elect to be so paid off and discharged at the port of arrival, and the names of those who are to be left behind in the country, or who are destined to some foreign port, and the intended destination of each. Such list shall be produced and delivered to the immigration officer or officers boarding the vessel on her arrival before any alien member of the crew shall be allowed to land from the vessel, and before the vessel shall be granted clearance or the customs entry shall be passed. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver such list or lists, or who shall refuse to any immigration officer access to the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew thereof, or any part thereof, or who shall refuse or willfully neglect to detain on board any alien member of the crew specified in any list or lists which may have been delivered to him, as provided in this section, or who shall refuse to detain any such alien member on board the vessel at any subsequent time or place until a permit to land such alien member shall have been granted by the proper immigration officer, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance and transportation of such alien members as may be ordered to be deported, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 and by imprisonment for not more than one year. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall land or permit to be landed any alien member of the crew of such vessel at any port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention for hospital treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or detention of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing in the United States from any place outside thereof any alien member of the crew of such vessel who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 3 of this Act, shall be required to detain such alien member on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and issued a certificate of landing in favor of such seaman or has given written notice that such inspection is not required. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel failing to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if so required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his detention for hospital treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof having on board any alien seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or any alien seaman who has been treated in a hospital, to detain on board such alien seaman until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has given written notice that such inspection is not required. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master failing to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if so required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members for crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Motorman" a position to shall effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of the persons on board such vessel, whether passengers or members of the crew, setting forth their names, ages, sex, nativity, last permanent residence, final destination, whether they have been previously in the United States or not, and if so, when and where, whether they have a ticket through to their destination, whether they have been in prison or almshouses or institutions for the care of the insane or supported by charity, whether they are in possession of $50 and if not, by whom such amount was furnished, whether they are coming to join relatives or friends, and if so, what relatives or friends, and their names and complete addresses, whether they have been connected with the military or naval forces of any country during the war, and if so, what country, whether they are going to join a contract labor, and if so, what contract, whether they have been deported within one year prior, and if so, when and why, whether they have ever been in jail or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what the character of such contract or agreement is, the condition of the immigrant as to health, mental and physical, whether deformed or crippled, and if so, how long and how the deformity was caused, the height and complexion of such immigrant, the color of hair and eyes, and all distinguishing marks of such immigrant, and the place of birth of such immigrant, specifying the country, island, province, and municipality or township, and the last residence of such immigrant, specifying the country, island, province, and municipality or township, and whether such immigrant has a passport and visé thereof, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The said list shall be signed by the master or agent of the vessel, who shall make oath before the consul or other officer of the United States at the port of departure, if there be a consul or such officer at such port, and if there be no consul or such officer at such port, then before the consul or such officer at the port most convenient by reason of proximity or ease of communication, to the truth of the statements made therein, and shall deliver a duplicate list, signed and sworn to in like manner, to the consul or such officer. The master or agent of every vessel bringing such immigrant to the United States shall, at the time of the inspection of such immigrant by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, deliver to such inspector the list required by this section, and shall report any additions to or variations from the list and the reasons therefor, and any deaths or births occurring on board the vessel after the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, and the cause of death or birth. Such list shall be prepared in such form and contain such other information regarding each immigrant as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe by regulations not inconsistent with law. Such additional information shall be given by the master or agent of the vessel, if practicable, in the list delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, but if not so given it shall be furnished by the master or agent of the vessel to the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival within twenty-four hours after the immigrant inspector has boarded the vessel, unless sooner required by the commissioner of immigration. Any master or agent who refuses or fails to deliver the list required by this section, or refuses or fails to furnish the additional information required within the time specified, or who lands or permits to land any immigrant at any port in the United States except as provided in section 19 hereof, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each immigrant concerning whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico shall, prior to the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the name of every alien who is a member of the crew or other person on board such vessel, and such other information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such list shall be prepared at such time before the vessel's departure from a foreign port or place as the Commissioner General may prescribe by regulations. Any such master or agent who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or who refuses or fails to furnish such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General within the time specified, or who lands or permits to land any alien member of the crew except in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Commissioner General, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) The Commissioner General, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe such rules and regulations as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 51. (a) The master, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico any alien seaman (whether an inspection is made or not) shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a complete list of all such alien seamen employed on board such vessel, stating the full name, date and place of birth, last foreign residence, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Such list shall be prepared at such time before the vessel's departure from a foreign port or place as the Commissioner General may prescribe by regulations. Any such master, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses or fails to deliver such list, or who refuses or fails to furnish such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner General within the time specified, or who lands or permits to land any alien seaman except in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the Commissioner General, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay the penalty or the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in the execution shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien seamen employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States from any place outside thereof, or that may thereafter arrive from the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico.

(b) Front fine on alien seamen did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence sufficient to obtain a deposit after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the amount expended by the United States for the maintenance of such alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, but such expenditure shall not be treated as a deposit to the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived is for the convenience of the vessel or the public interest, such alien seamen may be permitted to land temporarily under bond in the United States, subject to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and deported on any vessel or other conveyance when required by the Attorney General.

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished; but not then unless notice of intention to file such lists has been given at least 24 hours in advance of sailing: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the expiration of such 24 hours if the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall file with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure a written statement that the lists required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been prepared and will be delivered to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the first port of call in the United States: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the expiration of such 24 hours if the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall file with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure a written statement that the lists required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with any alien seaman employed on board such vessel, shall before such vessel departs from the port of arrival, cause such alien seaman to be inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and to secure from such officer a permit in writing for the departure of such alien seaman. Such inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner, and such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance papers until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival is advised that such alien seaman has been found upon such physical examination to be free from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be ground for exclusion of aliens from admission into the United States under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended, and that such alien seaman (unless a member of the crew destined to some port in foreign contiguous territory) has been issued a certificate from a consular officer at the port at which such alien seaman intends to land in the United States, or, if such alien seaman intends to land at a port in foreign contiguous territory, has been issued a certificate from a consular officer at such port, to the effect that such consular officer has been informed by the master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, that such alien seaman intends to land at such port in foreign contiguous territory, and that such consular officer consents that such alien seaman may land at such port. Such certificate shall be in triplicate, and the original thereof shall be delivered to the alien seaman, a duplicate thereof shall be filed with the visa of the consular officer granting the same, and the triplicate shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Such inspection shall be made and such certificate issued in the discretion of the consular officer to whom application is made, and without the payment of any fee or charge therefor. Such certificate shall be valid for such period of time as shall be fixed therein by the consular officer issuing the same, but may be revoked at any time in the discretion of the Attorney General or the commissioner of immigration and naturalization. Such certificate shall be void after the vessel departs from the port for which issued. Such certificate shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall be delivered by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be kept on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been notified of the departure of such alien seaman. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "W" men are alternate seamen, including seamen of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew, whether destined to the United States or not, and full information concerning each alien member of the crew as may be required by the Attorney General, and it shall be the duty of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, arriving at a contiguous foreign port, when and where they were respectively shipped to embark, and specifically those to be hired on the ship's company, when and where they were respectively hired, and the capacity in which they were employed, and the amount of wages agreed to be paid, and the number of days' pay advanced, if any, and the name of the vessel in which they last arrived, and the date of her departure, and the port from which she cleared, and the length of time they have been employed on board, and such other information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who were employed thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel, and the cause of, and the circumstances connected with, the departure of each alien employee, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill such vacancies, and such other information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such illegally landed alien as the Attorney General may require; and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any immigration officer concerning any alien who was an employee on board such vessel, or who shall knowingly or willfully answer falsely any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense; and any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall knowingly or willfully conceal, or attempt to conceal, any such alien employee on board such vessel, or who shall assist any such alien employee to escape from the vessel, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think just, the collector of customs may withhold clearance from any vessel the master, agent, consignee, or owner of which is liable to a penalty on account of the failure of any seaman employed thereon to be on board at the time of departure, and may detain such vessel from port to port or at any port until such seaman has been found and delivered to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or the payment of such penalty has been secured to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. This section, as amended, shall apply to all seagoing alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure to which such seamen were originally destined shall have been notified of the completion of the voyage for which they were engaged, or of the cancellation of their engagement, or of their discharge from such vessel, or until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have been relieved from the obligation to detain such seamen on board by the Attorney General or a special inquiry officer. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien seaman for a longer period than one month after the date of his arrival at the port of departure, or to require the payment of wages to any such seaman in advance of the time when they become due and payable under the law or contract, or to require the detention of any such seaman after the vessel on which he arrived shall have left the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such legislation as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such seamen. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone or any insular possession of the United States (except Guam, Samoa, and the Virgin Islands of the United States) with any alien coming to the United States, or any person employed on board such vessel during such vessel's stay in the United States, shall, before such vessel departs from the port at which such alien arrives in the United States, deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all such aliens, in such form as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, containing such information as may be required by the Attorney General under the provisions of this Act, or any other law, regarding the admission of aliens. Such list or manifest shall be signed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or by the purser, surgeon, or chief officer thereof, and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall also deliver to such immigration officer a like list or manifest of any such aliens who may come on board such vessel subsequent to the departure from the last foreign port or place, and before the departure from the United States, whether they come on board at a port touched at for convenience or by reason of accident to such vessel or for any other reason. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such manner and at such time as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who fails to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the list of the members of the crew, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer any person on board such vessel, or who refuses to allow such immigration officer to take such person from such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port in the United States by land, including an alien in transit through the United States, shall be examined by an immigration officer, and such alien shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of such officer that he is not subject to exclusion under the provisions of this Act or any other law regulating the admission of aliens. Such examination shall be conducted at or within a reasonable time after such arrival, and shall have precedence over the examination of aliens seeking to enter the United States for the purpose of performing skilled or unskilled labor, or both, unless the Attorney General shall otherwise by regulation prescribe. Such examination shall be conducted only by immigration officers, except in the case of aliens who are applicants for admission from foreign contiguous territory, or who have been in the United States for less than twenty-four hours, or such other aliens as the Attorney General may designate, whose examination may be conducted by special inquiry officers. The decision of any immigration officer that any alien arriving at a port in the United States by land, including an alien in transit through the United States, is not subject to exclusion under the provisions of this Act or any other law regulating the admission of aliens shall be subject to review by special inquiry officers, whose concurrent decision adverse to the admission of such alien shall be necessary in order to sustain such decision. Any alien who is excluded by such special inquiry officers shall have the right to appeal from such decision to the Board of Special Inquiry Officers, which shall have power, by concurrent decision, to affirm or reverse such decision. Such appeal shall be taken within such time as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Pending the decision on such appeal, such alien shall be detained in the custody of the immigration officer in charge. Determinations by special inquiry officers shall be subject to review by the Board of Special Inquiry Officers at any time within one year after the rendition of such decisions, upon the motion of the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, the Assistant Commissioner, the Chief Inspector, or the Chief of the Division of Deportation, with the approval of any of the foregoing officials. Such review may be upon the record, or upon the record and such additional evidence as may be submitted, or upon such other evidence as may be required by the Board of Special Inquiry Officers. Nothing contained in this section shall limit the authority of the Attorney General to exercise the powers conferred upon him by section 23 of this Act. (43 Stat. 162–163, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 156.)

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees: waiver clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit prescribed by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), as amended by section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 131a), has been complied with or waived by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Application for waiver of the limit prescribed by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), as amended by section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 131a), shall be made on Form I–508, in duplicate, executed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, and shall be filed with the district director in charge of the port at which application for clearance is to be made. Upon receipt of the application, the district director shall cause an investigation to be made and shall forward the application, with his recommendation thereon, to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C. The district director shall notify the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel of the action taken on the application. If the application is granted, the district director shall issue a permit to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel authorizing the clearance of the vessel upon the payment of the penalty prescribed by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), as amended by section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 131a), and upon the deposit of the amount of wages required

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival, and no vessel shall be cleared from the port. The list of members of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given in a foreign country, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of private American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such other information touching each alien employed on such vessel as may be required by the Attorney General, and to report to such immigration officer, at such time as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe, and also to report the name of any such alien illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to the immigration officer, at the time of the vessel's departure, the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of such arrival, and to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not on board at the time of the vessel's arrival but who have been employed thereon at any time during the period of its stay in port: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the requirements of this section with respect to the keeping of such lists by masters of vessels touching at ports in contiguous territory of foreign countries, and may by regulation provide for the withdrawal of such lists of aliens employed on vessels touching frequently at ports of the United States instead of the delivery of such lists to the immigration officer at each such port, and for the substitution therefor of such other reports concerning alien seamen as may be necessary to the proper execution of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 13.15. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, but not after such lists are delivered to the appropriate immigration officer at the port of departure, nor to any vessel concerning whom the Commissioner of Immigration shall have reported: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 13.1. Aliens employed on vessels touching at ports of the United States. (a) Lists required. Every master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall, before any such vessel departs from the port of arrival, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port lists on Form I–418 containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, except alien members of the crew who will depart on board the vessel for a foreign port. Such lists shall show the full name, age, sex, nationality, last foreign residence, calling, and final destination of each alien employee, the vessel on which he arrived, the date and port of his last entry into the United States, whether he has been lawfully admitted for permanent residence, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, and whether he has been in the United States or elsewhere during the six months immediately preceding the date of his employment on the vessel. Such lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the original and duplicate shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, the triplicate shall be delivered to the collector of customs at the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the quadruplicate shall be retained by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel for delivery to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure. Such lists shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival before any alien employee is permitted to land from the vessel, except that the master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel touching at ports of the United States only for the purpose of taking on board or discharging cargo or passengers, or both, may, in the discretion of the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, be permitted to deliver the lists required by this section at the first port of departure from the United States. Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, any alien employee not listed on the lists required by this section to be delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, and any alien employee who has been granted shore leave, may be required to report in person to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival before he will be permitted to land from the vessel. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been furnished such information as the Attorney General may by regulation require concerning the departure of aliens employed on vessels. Masters, agents, owners, or consignees of vessels arriving from foreign ports shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessels, and shall report the names of those who have been granted shore leave, and the names of those who have failed to return on board before the departure of the vessel from the port. Masters, agents, owners, or consignees of vessels shall report the names of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind in hospitals, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure a list containing

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof until such alien has been granted a landing certificate as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, except seamen specifically provided for by section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and such alien seaman may be required to land in the United States, except temporarily for such immigration officer to the extent necessary for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any place outside the United States in violation of this section, and remain therein for a longer period than fifteen days, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (U. S. C., Supp. VII, title 8, sec. 155), and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), shall be responsible for the proper maintenance of such alien seaman on board while such inspection is to be made, and for his detention on board or on the dock from which he is to be landed, pending such inspection or to such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port for the purpose of such examination, and for the safekeeping of such alien seaman while on board or on such dock or place, and for his removal therefrom when required so to do, and shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival until the amount of such fine has been paid to the collector or tendered to the satisfaction of the Attorney General or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival until the amount of such fine, or of such part thereof as may not be remitted by the Attorney General, is deposited with the collector of customs or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof entered into by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel in such sum, not exceeding $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as may be required by the Attorney General.

(b) This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he may be returned by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain such seamen on board or otherwise as required by this section, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers from any port of the United States while any such seaman remains thereon without the consent of the Attorney General. Any fine imposed under this section shall be remitted upon the production of

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to be examined for certificates (Form I–94) shall not be required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, including names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board pending the examination of the aliens by the Attorney General or his representative, and such other information thereafter, relative to such aliens, as may be required by the Attorney General or his representative. Such lists shall be prepared on the printed blanks furnished by the Attorney General for the purpose, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consul at the port of departure, and also vised by the consul of the United States at the first port in the United States at which the vessel shall arrive, if there be a consul at such port. The master of such vessel shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of all alien members of the crew employed to replace those who cease to be employed during the period the vessel remains in port. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver any list required by this section, or who knowingly delivers a false list, or who willfully refuses to allow any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the crew, or who knowingly conceals, removes, or assists in concealing or removing any alien member of the crew for the purpose of preventing the examination of such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be arrested either before or after the departure of the vessel from the port. Any alien member of the crew who fails to present himself for examination before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deported at any time thereafter upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be incapable of being admitted to the United States unless upon the written consent of the Secretary of Labor and upon the payment of a head tax of $8 and a visa fee as provided for in section 2 of this Act. Any master who fails to deliver the list required by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be collected by the Attorney General, by suit in the name of the United States, or by withholding the clearance of the vessel, and in addition shall be liable to the United States for the head tax of $8 for each alien not included in the list delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, to be recovered in the same manner as the penalty provided for in this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States since before July 1, 1924, and who is returning from a temporary visit to a foreign country. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have certified that the master has complied with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the multiple deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien passenger brought to the United States by such vessel shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and a certificate issued to each alien so examined, which certificate shall be delivered by such immigration officer to the master of such vessel, and by him delivered to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, minimize such penalty or not impose it in any case if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver any certificate issued under the provisions of this section shall be subject to a penalty of $300 for each alien in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such failure occurring the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not impose it in any case if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or not impose it in any case if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such penalty or not impose it in any case if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrivals on and after July 1, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: the form of the list of aliens; the information required to be furnished thereby in respect to each alien; the number of copies thereof and by whom to be executed; and the time and place of delivery thereof and of the penalties to be imposed for failure or refusal to furnish the same, or for furnishing false information therein; and the disposition to be made by the immigration officers of the copies delivered to them; and the procedure in respect of aliens employed on vessels arriving at different ports of the United States on the same voyage, all such regulations shall be observed by the owner, agent, consignee, master, or commander of any vessel specified in subdivision (a) of this section, and by every other person to whom they may be applicable, and shall have the force of law.

(d) Proof shall be filed and decided by the immigration officer or the Attorney General from time to time, on the application of any person who shall appear to be interested therein, in such manner and under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, as to the sickness or hospital treatment of any alien seaman who shall have been certified by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated in such certificate, or the sickness or hospital treatment of such alien seaman, or the inability of such master to produce such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on account of such sickness or hospital treatment, and the cause thereof, and shall not be required to produce such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in respect of such alien seaman. Such proof may be made before any United States consul, United States immigrant inspector, or before the collector of customs of the district in which the port is situated at which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, and shall be transmitted to the Attorney General. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrivals on and after July 1, 1940.

(e) If the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe the information required by the provisions of this section, the same shall be furnished to the satisfaction of the Attorney General to determine whether any person is subject to any penalty under this section, and such information shall be furnished by the master of any vessel arriving in the United States or by any person who shall have been a member of the crew of such vessel, whether the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board pending the examination of the aliens by the Attorney General or his representative, and such other information thereafter, relative to such aliens, as may be required by the Attorney General or his representative. Such lists shall be prepared on the printed blanks furnished by the Attorney General for the purpose, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consul at the port of departure, and also vised by the consul of the United States at the first port in the United States at which the vessel shall arrive, if there be a consul at such port. The master of such vessel shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who will leave the vessel at such port, and specifying those to be held on board pending the examination of the aliens by the Attorney General or his representative, and such other information thereafter, relative to such aliens, as may be required by the Attorney General or his representative. Such lists shall be prepared on the printed blanks furnished by the Attorney General for the purpose, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consul at the port of departure, and also vised by the consul of the United States at the first port in the United States at which the vessel shall arrive, if there be a consul at such port. The master of such vessel shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of all alien members of the crew employed to replace those who cease to be employed during the period the vessel remains in port. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver any list required by this section, or who knowingly delivers a false list, or who willfully refuses to allow any immigration officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the crew, or who knowingly conceals, removes, or assists in concealing or removing any alien member of the crew for the purpose of preventing the examination of such alien, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be arrested either before or after the departure of the vessel from the port. Any alien member of the crew who fails to present himself for examination before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be deported at any time thereafter upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be incapable of being admitted to the United States unless upon the written consent of the Secretary of Labor and upon the payment of a head tax of $8 and a visa fee as provided for in section 2 of this Act. Any master who fails to deliver the list required by this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be collected by the Attorney General, by suit in the name of the United States, or by withholding the clearance of the vessel, and in addition shall be liable to the United States for the head tax of $8 for each alien not included in the list delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, to be recovered in the same manner as the penalty provided for in this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States since before July 1, 1924, and who is returning from a temporary visit to a foreign country. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrivals on and after July 1, 1940.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 12. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the multiple deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, shall be prohibited from discharging any alien seaman who arrives in the United States on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and has certified to the collector of customs that no certificate has been issued by the Attorney General to do so. Such alien seaman shall be deported upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor in the manner provided by section 19 hereof, and the cost of maintaining such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in respect of such alien seaman, or pending the deportation of such alien seaman if such tax is required to be paid or such alien seaman is required to be deported, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax and the expenses of the detention and deportation of such alien seaman, including maintenance, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such deposit or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such deposit or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrivals on and after July 1, 1940.

(b) Proof shall be filed and decided by the immigration officer or the Attorney General from time to time, on the application of any person who shall appear to be interested therein, in such manner and under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, as to the sickness or hospital treatment of any alien seaman who shall have been certified by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts stated in such certificate, or the sickness or hospital treatment of such alien seaman, or the inability of such master to produce such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on account of such sickness or hospital treatment, and the cause thereof, and shall not be required to produce such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to pay the tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in respect of such alien seaman. Such proof may be made before any United States consul, United States immigrant inspector, or before the collector of customs of the district in which the port is situated at which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, and shall be transmitted to the Attorney General. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such head tax or any part thereof if he is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of this section as far as practicable. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arrivals on and after July 1, 1940.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily to secure treatment for medical reasons, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention of such alien seaman on board such vessel, or his removal to the custody of the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, or his deportation on board or otherwise, as the Attorney General may direct. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be examined by the medical officer of the port or by such medical officer of the United States as may be designated by the Attorney General, and unless certified by such medical officer to be free from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be the cause of his exclusion from the United States under the immigration laws, he shall be granted a landing certificate valid for the period of the vessel's stay in port, and shall be detained on board. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical officer to be afflicted with any of such diseases or defects, or who is suffering from any mental or physical disability which in the opinion of the medical officer may become a public charge, shall be reported by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival and be detained on board or at such place as the immigrant inspector may direct, pending examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and pending the decision of the Attorney General based upon such examination. Such alien seaman shall be subject to such regulations governing his detention on board or elsewhere, and his removal from the United States, as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any alien seaman who is certified by the medical officer to be afflicted with any of such diseases or defects, or who is suffering from any mental or physical disability which in the opinion of the medical officer may become a public charge, shall be reported by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival and be detained on board or at such place as the immigrant inspector may direct, pending examination by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 163.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall pay to the collector of customs at the port of arrival a sum prescribed by the Attorney General not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman (other than an alien seaman described in section 3 (6) of this Act) employed on board such vessel and reported by the master under section 13 hereof, and a sum prescribed by the Attorney General not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel and reported by the master under section 13 hereof who shall fail to remain with the vessel during its stay in port, unless such seaman shall have been granted shore leave under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or unless the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such seaman (a) was prevented from returning to the vessel before it departed from the port of arrival by illness or injury necessitating his hospitalization, or (b) was left behind in a foreign port because he was not in possession of a valid passport or other travel document required by the immigration laws, or (c) was left behind in a foreign port because the master, commander, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel refused to pay the cost of repatriation to the United States of such seaman. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any sum or portion thereof paid to the collector of customs pursuant to this section, if he is satisfied that the circumstances are such that remission is justified and that reasonable efforts were made to prevent the departure of such seaman in violation of this section. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or on the transit passage, or the navigation of such vessel while in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness which arises after the vessel's arrival in the United States from any place outside thereof. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof more than 5 days after the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States, shall be required to file with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection or to deposit such seamen for inspection at a designated place, a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence (whether in continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or elsewhere), immigration status, and such additional information relative to each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection or to deposit such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of departure, as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or operator of any vessel bringing an alien crewman to the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit such seamen on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival and inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of departure, or who fails to detain such seamen on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer at the port of departure, or who fails to comply with any regulation issued pursuant to section 7 of the Act of February 5, 1917, governing the admission of aliens to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival and inspection or deportation is located for each alien seaman with respect to whom such failure occurs and for each day during which such failure occurs a sum equivalent to $10 for each alien seaman if employed in any service other than that of a fireman, and $12.50 for each alien seaman if employed as a fireman, to be recovered by the collector of customs in an action of debt in the name of the United States. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. Any such application must be filed with the Attorney General within one year from the date of the final order in the case. The decision of the Attorney General in the matter shall be final. Proceedings shall not be instituted for the recovery of such fine after the vessel has departed from the port at which the alien seaman was required to be deported, unless such proceedings are instituted prior to June 2, 1940.

The master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel on which any alien seaman shall arrive at a port of the United States shall not permit such alien seaman to land from such vessel, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness which arises after the vessel's arrival in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless and until such alien seaman has been granted a landing permit or other document authorizing him to land, by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and inspection or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that any alien seaman has been granted a landing permit or other document authorizing him to land, by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and inspection or the Attorney General, and such alien seaman has been permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment because of illness which arises after the vessel's arrival in the United States from any place outside thereof, such master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or operator of such vessel as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose shall be required to deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel or means of transportation as may be specified by the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended by 54 Stat. 673; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pointed out by the master at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the master. The list of aliens to be inspected at ports (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alleged alien claims to a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of native American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or manifest of all aliens embarked on such vessel, showing the additional facts respectively called for by such list or manifest, and to subscribe thereto a statement in writing and under oath before an immigrant inspector, to the effect that said list or manifest contains a correct, complete, and true account of all aliens embarked on such vessel, together with the facts required to be stated therein, at the time of sailing of such vessel from such foreign port or place, and of all changes and additions that occur prior to the departure of such vessel from the United States: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States from any foreign port or place, shall, upon the arrival of such vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at such port a list containing the names of all persons who have embarked on such vessel at any foreign port or place, and who intend to land at such seaport, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such persons as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall, before such vessel departs from such seaport, deliver to such inspector a list containing the names of all persons who have embarked on such vessel at such seaport, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such persons as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall perform such other duties relative to the inspection of such vessel and the passengers thereon as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to perform any of the duties required of him by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to subscribe to the statement required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any immigrant inspector in relation to the matters required by this section to be stated in such list, or who shall knowingly or willfully make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(a) Every vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall be provided with a sufficient number of suitable and proper places on board such vessel, in the steerage or other compartments thereof used for the accommodation of passengers, which shall be so constructed, arranged, and lighted as to admit of a proper separation of the sexes, and the allotment of space to each passenger based upon the number of cubic feet and superficial area contained in such places set apart for their accommodation, and certified by the boarding officer at the port of departure. Every such vessel shall be provided with a sufficient number of berths for the accommodation of the passengers, and no passenger shall be carried or allowed to remain in any compartment of such vessel not certified as aforesaid, and all such compartments and certificates shall be subject to the inspection of the officers of the United States Immigration Service at any time during the voyage of such vessel and during the detention of such vessel at any port of the United States. Any vessel which shall refuse to submit to such inspection or which shall carry passengers in any compartment not certified as aforesaid shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such offense and not to exceed $1,000 for each and every such vessel for each and every such offense.

(b) Every such vessel shall be provided with such medical supplies, including such antiseptics, disinfectants, and apparatus for the administration thereof, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall have on board a duly qualified physician or physicians, to be employed in the medical treatment and care of the sick and in the performance of such other duties in relation thereto as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. Any such vessel arriving at a port of the United States without having on board such medical supplies, or such physician or physicians, or without having the same properly administered and cared for during the voyage, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such offense and not to exceed $1,000 for each and every such vessel for each and every such offense. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $100 for each and every such offense. The decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the remission or mitigation of such penalty shall be final.

(c) If any alien becomes a public charge within two years after the date of his arrival in the United States from any cause affecting his character existing prior to the date of his admission, the question shall be inquired into and determined as provided in section 19 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance shall be paid as provided in said section.

SEC. 29. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of accident, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel entering in the United States from any place outside thereof, and any person in charge of any railway car entering the United States from Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, or the Canal Zone, shall prevent any alien from entering the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, unless such alien has in his possession and presents an unexpired immigration visa and passport, or other travel document in lieu of passport, if and when required by the Secretary of State pursuant to the provisions of section 6 of this Act, or has in his possession and presents a border-crossing identification card issued pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of this Act, and is otherwise admissible under this Act.

(b) Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section, or who aids or assists any alien to enter the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who connives or conspires with any person or persons to bring any alien into the United States at any time or place other than as designated by immigration officers, or who connives or conspires with any person or persons to bring any alien into the United States who does not have an unexpired immigration visa and passport, or other travel document in lieu of passport, if and when required by the Secretary of State pursuant to the provisions of section 6 of this Act, or who does not have a border-crossing identification card issued pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of this Act, or who is not otherwise admissible under this Act, or who shall knowingly harbor any such alien in the United States, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each and every such offense, and shall, moreover, forfeit one hundred dollars for each such alien with respect to whom any violation of this subsection occurs, upon such person as the Secretary of Labor shall direct.

(c) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(d) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(e) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall, if such alien becomes a public charge within two years after such entry from causes not affecting his character prior to the date of his admission, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien during the period of such imprisonment shall be paid to the Secretary of Labor by the person convicted. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $100 for each and every such offense. The decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the remission or mitigation of such penalty shall be final.

(f) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(g) Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall, if such alien becomes a public charge within two years after such entry from causes not affecting his character prior to the date of his admission, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien during the period of such imprisonment shall be paid to the Secretary of Labor by the person convicted. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $100 for each and every such offense. The decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the remission or mitigation of such penalty shall be final.

(h) If any alien becomes a public charge within two years after the date of his arrival in the United States from any cause affecting his character existing prior to the date of his admission, the question shall be inquired into and determined as provided in section 19 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance shall be paid as provided in said section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

This list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 4 (Form I–418) shall not be furnished or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate inspection station is established, a supplemental list will be required. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from foreign port no alien shall be taken off of the same, except in accordance, to the extent of the provisions of this Act, with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and conditions to be endorsed upon the permits herein provided for, as he may deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act; and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of the port of the vessel bringing an alien to the United States, to detain such alien on board or in such vessel at such port until a permit has been issued to such alien or to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel authorizing the landing of such alien, or to deliver such alien to the custody of the immigration officer at such port for examination at such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and to prevent the escape of such alien before such examination or before the issuance of such permit. Any alien who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of which shall violate any of the provisions of this section until the fine herein provided for has been paid or a sufficient sum deposited to cover the amount thereof, and clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which any alien who may be or become subject to any of the provisions of this section may be detained, pending the decision as to whether a fine shall be imposed or deportation ordered in the case of such alien. The Secretary of Labor shall issue rules governing the admission of aliens temporarily to the United States without visas, and may impose such conditions, including the giving of bond, with sureties to be approved by the Secretary of Labor, as may be necessary to assure the return to the country from which they came of those seeking admission temporarily as visitors for pleasure or business, and the compliance by them with the conditions of their admission. The Secretary of Labor may also impose such conditions, including the giving of bond, with sureties to be approved by the Secretary of Labor, as may be necessary to assure the return to the country from which they came of those seeking admission temporarily in pursuance of contracts or agreements to perform labor, and the compliance by them with the conditions of their admission. The Secretary of Labor may refuse admission to any alien who fails to establish to his satisfaction that he is not coming to perform labor of a character for which he is not specifically contracted, or that he is not coming for any purpose or in any manner contrary to the provisions of this Act, or rules made in pursuance thereof. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application to any alien of the provisions of this section relative to the production of passports or visas by such alien if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it is impracticable for such alien to procure a passport or visa, and that he is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act.

(2) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the United States shall not be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of emergency, from the vessel at any port of the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 144.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands not specifically mentioned in section 3 of this Act, who shall refuse or neglect to take such alien on board and remove him to the country from which he came, or to any country which will grant him a permit to enter, on the vessel on which he arrived, or on the vessel on which he shall be ordered removed, or on any other vessel which may be available, within the period of five days after he has been ordered removed, shall pay a fine of $200 for each alien, unless the Secretary of Labor shall, in his discretion, extend the time within which such alien shall be removed. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be collected by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive. Clearance may be withheld from any vessel against which a fine is imposed under this section until the fine has been paid or sufficient sum deposited to cover the amount thereof, and clearance may be withheld from any vessel upon which any alien who may be or become subject to the provisions of this section may be detained, pending the decision as to whether a fine shall be imposed or deportation ordered in the case of such alien. The Secretary of Labor shall issue rules governing the admission of aliens temporarily to the United States without visas, and may impose such conditions, including the giving of bond, with sureties to be approved by the Secretary of Labor, as may be necessary to assure the return to the country from which they came of those seeking admission temporarily as visitors for pleasure or business, and the compliance by them with the conditions of their admission. The Secretary of Labor may refuse admission to any alien who fails to establish to his satisfaction that he is not coming to perform labor of a character for which he is not specifically contracted, or that he is not coming for any purpose or in any manner contrary to the provisions of this Act, or rules made in pursuance thereof. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application to any alien of the provisions of this section relative to the production of passports or visas by such alien if it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that it is impracticable for such alien to procure a passport or visa, and that he is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act.

(3) If the Secretary of Labor shall have received information that any vessel is about to land any alien in violation of this section, he may take, or authorize any immigration officer to take, such measures as may be necessary to prevent the landing of such alien, and may employ such persons and means as may be necessary for the purpose, and may place such persons on board any vessel at the expense of the vessel for the purpose of preventing the landing of aliens in violation of this section. (43 Stat. 161–164, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 191 (Supp. V).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens arriving at the port (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the service of the vessel, the wages they are respectively entitled to, and the amounts paid them, and where they were respectively born, the nearest foreign residence, and the final destination of each alien employee who was discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall, it may, who may have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or reports made as above as required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such tax, and, in the event such tax is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such time be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax. (39 Stat. 886–887; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury to the vessel, or for such other reasons as the Attorney General may prescribe, under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and such seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, to the country whence he came, or to the country from which such vessel sailed to the United States, or to such other country as may be agreed upon by the authorities thereof. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 183.)

SEC. 11. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall knowingly bring into the United States on board such vessel any alien seaman not lawfully entitled to land in the United States, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman found on board at the time of inspection by the immigration officer at the port of arrival and inspected and examined (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board or on the dock designated by the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or has given notice that such inspection is not required, or who fails to deliver such seaman to the collector of customs or to the immigrant inspector at the time of departure of such vessel from a port of the United States, or who fails to report the illness or injury to any such seaman prior to the departure of the vessel from a port, or who fails to detain such seaman on board or on the dock designated by the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or to which the fine ultimately incurred, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation warrants outstanding on the date of its enactment.

(b) Front fines on alien seamen did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector at such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel for deportation.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance shall not be granted pending the settlement of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

ATTESTATION OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, William J. Lane, Master of the American S/S JAMES PICK do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew [illegible] report to have [illegible] for the United States, and that I have made a careful inquiry into the circumstances connected with the shipping of each of the persons mentioned in the list, and the said list is in all respects correct.

I have noted the oath of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra where noted.

[illegible]
Master [illegible] or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 20th day of November, 19 20

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to whom transportation may be refused (Form I-host) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "Alien" as a citizen of a "foreign state" is defined to mean one who owes allegiance to a foreign government or hence qualified for foreign service. It also includes persons who have lost their American citizenship and have not been naturalized in any foreign country.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until he has been granted a conditional permit to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or cancel the same upon such terms as he may deem proper and consistent with the public interest and with the circumstances in any particular case. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving after midnight of June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge mentioned in section 10 from any vessel on which he arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall not depart with any vessel on which he shall have been employed, or with any other vessel, within such time as may be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and shall be required to pay the transportation therefor from the place where he is found to the place where he shall have been originally admitted to the United States, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he is unable to pay such transportation, or that the same has been paid.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any other vessel will be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may, in his discretion, permit the alien seaman to depart from the United States on any vessel which shall be willing to receive him, upon the payment by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel of the cost of his maintenance while detained, and of a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor to defray the expenses of his deportation when ordered. Such alien seaman shall be considered as having been deported in all respects as though deported upon the vessel on which he arrived, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be subject to the same duties and liabilities as to the payment of any fine or expense thereafter incurred in respect of such alien seaman as they would be subject to if such alien seaman had been deported upon the vessel on which he arrived. Nothing in this section shall be construed as repealing, altering, or affecting the provisions of section 16 of this Act relative to the removal of alien seamen. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest, in triplicate, in the English language, containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the service of the vessel, the nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination so far as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and also stating the place of birth, the last residence in the United States, and the intended place of future residence in the United States of each alien employed, and specifying those who have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, and such information shall be subscribed and sworn to before an immigrant inspector, or before a consular officer of the United States at the port of departure of the vessel, or before the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, who is hereby authorized to administer such oath. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to come on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who shall refuse to answer truly any question relative to such list or manifest or to the persons on board such vessel propounded by any such inspector, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each such refusal or neglect, and in addition thereto shall be liable to a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such refusal or neglect occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; entry clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), when such list shall have been duly executed, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have paid all fines and penalties which may have been imposed upon him under the provisions of section 16 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 131), and shall have complied with the requirements of section 18 of said Act, and with the regulations prescribed by said section or to such time prescribed by said section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possessing the power, at the port of arrival, and shall be returned on demand, but shall not be removed by the master from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, including seamen of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the position and the wages paid, and the cause for the separation from the vessel of any alien member of the crew previous to the departure of such vessel from the port, and the intended destination of each alien so separated. Such list shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer by the master of such vessel, and shall be accompanied by a certificate of the master, countersigned by the chief medical officer of the vessel, stating that all the members of the crew have been personally examined by them and that in their opinion no alien member of the crew is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease. Any master who shall refuse to deliver such list, or who shall fail to report and produce for examination each alien member of the crew employed on such vessel, or who shall refuse to such immigration officer the right to question each alien member of the crew concerning matters relating to the administration of the immigration laws of the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs by the detention and sale, if necessary, of such vessel until the fine is paid. The Attorney General may remit any fine or part thereof incurred under the provisions of this section when it appears that the master had complied as nearly as practicable with the requirements of this section. (39 Stat. 885, 8 U. S. C. 142.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or necessity, any alien seaman (which term as used in this section and section 31 includes a person employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board the vessel immediately prior to the departure thereof from the United States, a certificate from a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, based upon a physical examination of such alien seaman made not more than three days prior to the departure of the vessel from the United States, that such alien seaman is not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders which would be a ground for the exclusion of aliens under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917. Any master who violates the provisions of this subdivision shall pay to the Attorney General a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the discretion shall think proper. The master, as aforesaid, shall pay to all members of the crew employed on board any vessel at a port in the United States from a place outside thereof, and not a member of the crew of such vessel as a deserter, shall be paid their wages in full before the vessel shall depart from such port.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain at the port of arrival the certificate required by this section. Clearance may be granted to such vessel notwithstanding such failure upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the penalty which may be imposed therefor, or upon the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof. The Attorney General may remit any penalty or part thereof incurred under the provisions of this section when it appears that the master had complied as nearly as practicable with the requirements of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a national of a country "otherwise" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ports of arrival; or lists containing no names of such persons, if such be the fact, which lists shall be prepared in the form or forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Such lists shall be subject to the inspection of such officer, and the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall answer all questions touching the names, ages, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and destination of all such aliens, the purpose for which they severally came to the United States, whether they have been in the United States before, whether they have a ticket, and who paid for it, whether they have been solicited by any person, company, or corporation in the United States to secure their labor or service, whether they have any relatives or friends in the United States, and if so, who and their last residence, whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether they are coming by reason of any offer, promise, or agreement, parol or special, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, their occupation, and whether they have been deported or excluded from the United States and the cause therefor, and such other information touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such information shall be given orally and recorded by the inspector, and shall be signed by the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof, and sworn to before the inspector. Any master, agent, consignee, or master who refuses to report, or who reports falsely, or who refuses to deliver to the inspector any such list, or who refuses to answer any question touching any such alien, or who refuses to permit the inspection of the list by the inspector, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted vessel until the latter required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, but not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section to do that prescribed by section 38 of said Act have been given and the deposit specified in rule 22 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman employed on board has been given by the master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or operator of the vessel to the United States, except temporary medical treatment, or treatment to such extent as may be necessary to prepare such seaman for deportation, or unless such seaman has been granted a visa as a nonimmigrant under section 3 of the immigration act of 1924 and is in possession of a valid passport containing such visa. Such bond shall be conditioned that such seaman will depart from the United States from the port of arrival or such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor within the period for which he was admitted into the United States, and that he will not become a public charge. Such bond shall be in addition to any other bond required by law, and shall be given in such form and manner and with such sureties as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such bond may be sued for and recovered by the United States for the use of any person who shall become a public charge within five years after the date of the vessel's arrival at a port of the United States, or who shall depart to a foreign country other than the country to which he belongs or in which he has resided for a period of at least two years immediately preceding his departure from the United States, within the period for which he was admitted into the United States, or who shall be found in the United States in violation of this Act, or any amendment thereto, or any other law of the United States, or any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to law, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such seaman has been regularly discharged in the United States with the consent of the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival, or that such seaman has been prevented from departing from the United States within the period for which he was admitted into the United States by sickness or injury, or that such seaman has been deported at the request of the Government of the country to which he belongs or in which he has resided for a period of at least two years immediately preceding his departure from the United States, or that such seaman has been granted a visa as a nonimmigrant under section 3 of the immigration act of 1924 and is in possession of a valid passport containing such visa, or that such seaman has been granted by the Secretary of Labor permission to depart from the United States after the period for which he was admitted into the United States, and has departed within the period for which such permission was granted.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pointing the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing as many of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; to list containing as many of such alien members as may be destined to the United States, and the intended final destination of each; to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien member illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension; and to report to such immigration officer, at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of the vessel's departure, the name of every alien member of the crew who may desert or be left behind, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and to deliver to each such alien member so discharged, at the time of his discharge, a certificate in writing stating his name, age, and last residence, and the date of his entry into the United States, which certificate shall be prima facie evidence in favor of such alien in any proceedings which may be had or taken for the purpose of determining his right to enter, reside within, or travel in and through the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person acting in any such capacity who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, or to give any information required thereby, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be cleared while any such penalty remains unpaid; nor shall any fine be remitted or returned: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 880–881; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board the vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unforeseen cause as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unforeseen cause as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Any such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall not be allowed to land in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless such alien seaman shall have been inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and a certificate issued to him permitting him to land temporarily and specifying the period of time and the conditions and limits under which he may land, or unless such alien seaman shall be specially held for further examination. Such inspection may be conducted on board the vessel before the vessel docks, or at the office of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe. Any such alien seaman may be required to present himself for such inspection at such time and place as may be specified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such alien seaman may be required to present himself for a medical examination by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or at such other time and place as the Attorney General may direct, and may be detained on board or at the immigrant station for such purpose. Such alien seaman may be required to present himself for such immigration officer at the time of departure of the vessel from the United States, and may be required to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which there is space available, in the discretion of the Attorney General. Such alien seaman may be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed by the Attorney General sufficient, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States. Such alien seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed by the Attorney General sufficient, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States. Such alien seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed by the Attorney General sufficient, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States. Such alien seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed by the Attorney General sufficient, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a sufficient number of alien seamen regularly employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States cannot be obtained in the United States who are acceptable to the master of such vessels, and that the refusal to permit the entry of such alien seamen comes within the provisions of section 3 of this Act, he may issue a permit to such alien seaman to enter the United States for the period of the vessel's stay in port, but no such permit shall be granted to any alien seaman who has been certified by the Public Health Service as afflicted with any of the diseases or disabilities which would be grounds for exclusion under section 3 of this Act, other than those which may be certified by the Public Health Service after the alien seaman arrives in the United States. Such alien seaman shall be required to present himself for such immigration officer at the time of departure of the vessel from the United States, and may be required to depart on the vessel on which he arrived, or on any vessel on which there is space available, in the discretion of the Attorney General. Such alien seaman may be granted a conditional permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed sufficient by the Attorney General, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States. Such alien seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed sufficient by the Attorney General, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States. Such alien seaman may be granted a permit to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for any other purpose deemed sufficient by the Attorney General, without the deposit required by subdivision (c) of this section, but such permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman taken on board the vessel before its departure from the United States.

(d) Front clause in alien seamen did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or if he was not reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport, after reasonable notice by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that sufficient deposit or bond has been required of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel to insure the departure of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel has left the port without the deposit or bond having been given, or such deposit or bond is otherwise invalid, the Attorney General may cause suit to be brought for the recovery of the sum of such deposit or bond. Any suit arising under the provisions of this section may be instituted in the district in which the vessel may be found. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. The list or manifest as taken from the vessel (USCIS Form I–418) shall be retained on board the vessel until the immigration officer at the port has completed the examination of each alien listed thereon, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alien arrives at a land border port, the list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the alien's application for admission.

The master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who fails to comply with the requirements of section 231 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1221), or any person who violates any of the provisions of section 243(c) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1253(c)), shall be subject to a penalty of $3,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. Clearance may be withheld or refused and, if granted, may be subsequently revoked in the discretion of the Secretary of Homeland Security or his designee. Failure to comply with the requirements of section 231 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1221) may also result in the imposition of civil penalties under section 243(d) of the Act (8 U.S.C. 1253(d)).

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born, the nearest foreign residence of each alien as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and aliens who are to be landed at the port of arrival shall be separately listed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel if demanded by the immigration officer in charge of the port. When an alien arrives at a seaport for the purpose of entering the United States illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension, the master, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be fined $300 for each such alien: and such vessel shall be detained until a list of all the passengers and crew has been delivered and the immigration officer has been given full access to the vessel for the purpose of examining the crew. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses to deliver lists as required by this section, or refuses to allow any immigration officer access to the vessel for the purpose of examining the crew, shall be fined $1,000. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who lands or permits to be landed any alien, other than a member of the crew, in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be fined $1,000 for each alien so landed, and such vessel may be seized and forfeited to the United States, or the amount thereof may be recovered from the master, agent, owner, or consignee thereof in an action in the name of the United States. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs. Upon refusal by the Attorney General to remit or mitigate such penalty, or any part thereof, the same may be recovered by action of debt. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the facts to be found by him on the remission or mitigation of such penalty. Clearance may be withheld pending the determination of the Attorney General as to the remission or mitigation of such penalty, but clearance shall not be withheld because of the failure to deposit or the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or penalty, or a bond duly executed therefor, pending an application to the Attorney General for remission or mitigation of such fine or penalty. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or penalty, or the execution of such bond with sureties approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all persons arriving subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States who shall not appear to the inspector at the time of inspection to have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence may be required to state whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States and whether he is willing to perform military service on the same basis as a citizen of the United States, and the answers to such inquiries shall be recorded as a part of the inspection. Any alien who shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States under the provisions of this section may be naturalized in accordance with the provisions of section 328 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1439) upon compliance with the requirements of that section as to residence, good moral character, attachment to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and favorable disposition toward the United States, and may file a petition for naturalization upon the filing of the application for a declaration of intention, and may be admitted to citizenship if found entitled thereto upon a hearing before the court.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien becomes impracticable or impossible because the country to which the alien has been ordered deported refuses to receive him, or for any other reason, he may cause the alien to be deported to any country which he may designate which is willing to receive him, such country to be selected in the first instance by the alien if the country is willing to receive him, but otherwise in the discretion of the Attorney General. Before any alien is deported under the provisions of this section, if he is a native, citizen, subject, or national of any country, or was last admitted to the United States through a port in any country, adjacent to the United States, the Attorney General may, in his discretion, cause the alien to be removed to such country, or to any country which was the last foreign port in which the alien embarked before coming to the United States, or to any country in which he resided before coming to the United States, if such removal can be effected without substantial delay. Any alien who is a native, citizen, subject, or national of any country which refuses to receive him after he has been ordered deported, or which unduly delays such reception, may be deported to any country which is willing to receive him, and which the Attorney General may designate. Any alien who is deported under the provisions of this section shall be deported at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws current when the deportation is directed

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned herein (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien entitled to enter the United States under section 4(c) of the Immigration Act of 1924 is destined to a point within the same immigration district (defined in section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917) in which the port of arrival is located, the alien may be transferred to the destination without further inspection at the port of arrival. Any alien who is destined to a point in another immigration district shall be given a certificate showing the name of the alien and the destination, and the alien will be required to present such certificate to the immigration officer in charge of the district in which the destination is located. The master will be required to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of inspection at the port of arrival a correct list of the aliens destined to that district. Any alien who is found to be destined to a point in another district and who fails to present such certificate will be detained for further inquiry.

SEC. 28. (a) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland any alien who is not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa and valid passport, or other travel document in lieu of passport, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document and immigration visa, if required by section 13 of this Act, shall be fined $1,000 for each such alien, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

(b) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland any alien who is not in possession of a valid certificate of admission, if such certificate is required by section 3 of this Act, shall be fined $1,000 for each such alien.

(c) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland any alien who is not in possession of a valid certificate of admission, if such certificate is required by section 3 of this Act, shall be fined $1,000 for each such alien.

(d) The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Dominion of Canada or Newfoundland any alien who is not in possession of a valid certificate of admission, if such certificate is required by section 3 of this Act, shall be fined $1,000 for each such alien.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that the deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may, in his discretion, cancel deportation of such alien, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall not be required to pay the amount of the fine imposed by this section.

(f) Any fine collected from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel under this section shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom there are not correct lists as required by this section shall be paid to the person who reports the violation of the provisions of this section, and the remainder shall be paid into the Treasury: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Duty of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master thereof has complied with the requirements of section 34 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171),[1] have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of identity to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to such time prescribed by section 28 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 168) prevail need waived, the aliens specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, inc. have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to obtain medical treatment, or because of any regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to deport on board any vessel such alien immigrant as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may have detained on board under the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or who shall fail to deport any alien stowaway, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of such detention, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien so detained, or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court, and may be required to provide sufficient and proper food for such detained aliens during the period of detention. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Any vessel arriving in the United States with any alien stowaway on board, whether destined to the United States or not, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien stowaway, which shall constitute a lien upon the vessel, to be recovered by libel in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart. The Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel, remit or cancel any fine, or any part thereof, incurred or imposed under the provisions of this section, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and proper: Provided, That no fine shall be remitted or canceled except upon the production of such vessel's clearance and the payment of the cost of the proceedings and expenses incurred in the case, and the payment into the Treasury of the United States of a sum equal to the wages paid to each alien stowaway during the detention on board the vessel and the estimated cost of his return to the country from which he came to the United States, and the filing of such bond or undertaking as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to indemnify and save harmless the United States against any claim that may be made for the support of such alien stowaway after his departure from the United States.

(b) Every vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be required to report and make entry at the port of arrival, and shall not be granted clearance or allowed to depart from one port to another in the United States until the master has reported and made entry as required by this section and by section 4200 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., title 19, sec. 1433), and has delivered to the boarding officer a correct list, signed and sworn to by the master, of all aliens employed on board the vessel, which list shall contain the name of each alien employed, his nationality, last residence, and intended place of permanent residence in the United States, if any, and whether he has been in the United States previously, and if so, when and where; whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, which; whether he is a polygamist, or an anarchist, or a believer in the practicability or propriety of overthrowing by force or violence the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or a disbeliever in or opposed to organized government, or a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, teaching, or believing in such opposition to organized government, or advocating or teaching the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the Government of the United States or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or advocating or teaching the unlawful destruction of property; whether he is coming in pursuance of any previous promise, agreement, or solicitation, or expectation of employment; whether he has a ticket through to his destination; whether he has been deported, and if so, how many times; whether he has ever been refused admission to the United States, and if so, how many times; whether he has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long he remained; whether he has ever been a member of the Chinese exclusion class of aliens; whether he is a stowaway; whether he has been engaged in the practice of polygamy or as a procurer; shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to obtain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may, in his discretion, cancel deportation of such alien, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall not be required to pay the amount of the fine imposed by this section.

(d) Any fine collected from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel under this section shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom there are not correct lists as required by this section shall be paid to the person who reports the violation of the provisions of this section, and the remainder shall be paid into the Treasury: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry all lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and specifying those of such persons as are to be discharged in the port of entry; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before the granting of a clearance for the vessel, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has deserted or attempted to desert, and the cause of desertion or attempt, if known, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver with such report all certificates issued to such aliens under the provisions of section 3 of this Act. It shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a similar list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at any port in the United States, and the cause of the absence from the vessel at the time of arrival of any alien whose name appears on the list of persons employed thereon at the time of its departure from the last foreign port, and to report in writing to such officer the cause of the absence of any such alien, so far as known or believed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or person in charge of the port of arrival like coordinate immigration officials on board such vessel, examine the boarding officer in charge of the port of arrival; or like coordinate officials on board of such vessel, and ascertain those to be held on board for special inquiry, when and where they were respectively examined or inspected, and certify the same in writing to the boarding officer; and no person arriving at any port of the United States shall be allowed to land from any such vessel until after the inspection required by this section shall have been completed and certified to the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or person in charge of the vessel, and the boarding officer shall have given a permit in writing to the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or person in charge of the vessel to allow the persons therein named to land at the port: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or person in charge of the vessel may appeal from the decision of the boarding officer to the Attorney General, and the decision of the Attorney General shall be final: Provided further, That pending the decision of the Attorney General upon such appeal no person whose case is so appealed shall be landed from the vessel or allowed to land in the United States: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, permit any alien seaman employed on any vessel arriving at a port of the United States to land temporarily for medical treatment, or humane reasons in the discretion of the boarding officer at such port, under the regulations to be prescribed by the Attorney General, and such permission shall not be considered a waiver of any of the provisions of this section. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign mainland or adjacent islands shall be responsible for the proper care while on board such vessel and removal therefrom of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or has caused such seaman to be detained on board or on land under the control of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, as provided in section 16 of this Act. The Attorney General may prescribe rules governing the removal of alien seamen from the United States from any place outside foreign mainland or adjacent islands, and for the payment of the cost of their maintenance while detained in the United States, and for the deportation of any such alien seaman who has been permitted to land temporarily as provided in section 16 of this Act, and may require a bond in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as he shall determine to be sufficient to guarantee the performance of such duties. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, cancel any such bond or reduce the amount thereof, and may require additional bond in his discretion. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such bond, or the giving of a new bond, in the event such fund is increased, while it remains pending: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fund. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board when discharged in the port of arrival; or list or lists containing as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such alien employee at a port in the United States from any foreign port or place, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which the said alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to deliver a duplicate list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a duplicate list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of alone. If any, who are deserted or landed; in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver copy of the list or lists required by the Attorney General, by law to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of said port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be cleared thereafter by the collector of the customs until the payment of such penalty is made or the vessel given a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such sum not exceeding $300 as may be required by the Secretary of Commerce, conditioned upon the delivery of such lists or reports as may thereafter be required. (39 Stat. 874; 8 U. S. C. 131.)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such alien, or for the necessary repair of such vessel, or pending the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or pending his transfer to some other vessel, or pending the arrival of some vessel on which he is entitled to be employed, unless such alien seaman has been given a physical examination by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival for the purpose of ascertaining whether he has any of the mental or physical defects which would be sufficient to warrant the exclusion of aliens from the United States under section 3 of this Act. Such examination shall be made by such medical officer and such assistants as he may require for the purpose. Any alien seaman found upon such examination to have any of such defects shall be detained on board or at such place designated by the immigration officer pending the completion of the physical examination by the boards of special inquiry and the decision of the Attorney General. Such alien seaman shall not be permitted to land in the United States except in pursuance of such decision. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (39 Stat. 884; 8 U. S. C. 163.)

(c) If the Attorney General shall have found deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time he may have been in the United States, the length of time he may have resided therein, and the circumstances of his coming to the United States, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry a list or lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board when discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to deliver a duplicate list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a duplicate list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of alone. If any, who are deserted or landed; in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver copy of the list or lists required by the Attorney General, by law to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of said port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be cleared thereafter by the collector of the customs until the payment of such penalty is made or the vessel given a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration districts subsequent to June 2, 1940.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list recorded below shall be inspected on initial forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port. When an alleged immigrant presents the record in the form of a ticket, the shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The fee of 50 cents or when members of crews (from one) shall not be required or paid, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant immigration officer at the port. When an alleged immigrant presents the record in the form of a "manifest" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or first port of entry a complete list of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be in the United States or who intends to enter the United States, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and while the vessel is in port such list shall be open to the inspection of any immigrant inspector, and no person shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of any such regulation. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs.

SEC. 10. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival or first port of entry a complete list of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each alien who may be in the United States or who intends to enter the United States, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and while the vessel is in port such list shall be open to the inspection of any immigrant inspector, and no person, master, owner, agent, consignee, or other person shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of any such regulation. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. The vessel shall be liable for any fine imposed upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, or other person in charge thereof and may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, the vessel may be detained until the same is paid, or in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, a sufficient sum deposited with the collector of customs to cover such fine. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such fine in cases where a bond with sufficient sureties in such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned for the payment of such fine as may be imposed after consideration by the Secretary of Labor, shall be given by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or other person in charge of the vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

In a clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished and not then unless notice of inquiry to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 34 of said act cannot have been served the person thereto in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10 (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his detention, or detention of his vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except for the purpose of and in connection with his departure on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel, or for the purpose of and in connection with his departure on board some vessel from a port in the United States to a foreign port, or for the purpose of and in connection with his transfer in transit to another vessel within the United States for departure on board such vessel from a port in the United States to a foreign port, or for the purpose of and in connection with his departure on board some vessel from a port in the United States to a foreign port, or for the purpose of and in connection with his transfer in transit to another vessel within the United States for departure on board such vessel from a port in the United States to a foreign port, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such alien seaman shall be deported as provided in this section and in sections 19 and 20 hereof. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port in the United States shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive deportation in the case of any alien seaman who shall have been employed on board a vessel of the United States for a period of three years next preceding his application for such waiver, and who shall have married a citizen of the United States prior to such desertion, and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be of good moral character, and who, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, was not actuated by any motive inimical to the welfare of the United States in deserting his vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it has otherwise contracted to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master or agent, commander, or owner of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master or agent, commander, or owner of any vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a list or manifest of all persons employed or carried on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each person who may be in the United States or who may apply for admission thereto, and such additional information relative to such persons as the Secretary of Labor may require, and it shall be the duty of such master or agent, commander, or owner to deliver to the principal immigration officer at each port at which such vessel may stop after her first arrival at a port in the United States a supplemental list or manifest containing the names of all persons employed or carried on board such vessel since the departure from the last previous port, and such additional information relative to such persons as the Secretary of Labor may require. Such lists or manifests shall be made out in such form and contain such particulars as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe; and the master, agent, commander, or owner of any such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such other information as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations require relative to the right of such alien to enter the United States, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each such alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigration officer, or for each such alien not included in such lists, or for each such alien concerning whom any person who may be charged with the duty of preparing such lists or furnishing such information shall refuse or willfully neglect to furnish such information or furnishes information which is false, unless it shall be proved by the master, agent, commander, or owner that he could not by the exercise of reasonable diligence have obtained such information, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by suit, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which she may arrive; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such suit or the payment of such penalty, if demanded before the vessel is cleared, or the bond hereinafter provided for given: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine; and such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded, and in the event that it is finally determined that such fine or any part thereof was improperly exacted or collected, the same shall be refunded out of any moneys appropriated for the enforcement of the immigration laws upon certificate of the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, commander, or owner of any such vessel shall be liable to the payment of such fine, and, in the event that such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded, and in the event that it is finally determined that such fine or any part thereof was improperly exacted or collected, the same shall be refunded out of any moneys appropriated for the enforcement of the immigration laws upon certificate of the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, commander, or owner of any such vessel shall be liable to the payment of such fine, and, in the event that such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded, and in the event that it is finally determined that such fine or any part thereof was improperly exacted or collected, the same shall be refunded out of any moneys appropriated for the enforcement of the immigration laws upon certificate of the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien assumed did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit that landing money or bond required by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to obtain such clearance would cause undue hardship to such alien, the Secretary of Labor may cause him to be deported on another vessel in its expense of its vessel on which the alien shall be granted clearance upon the deposit with the immigration officer at the port of entry of such sum as the Secretary of Labor may require, not exceeding $300, for the transportation of such alien to the port of foreign embarkation.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and coming to any port of the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States from any place in contiguous territory to which such seamen may proceed, and

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended future residence of each person who may be applying for admission to the United States, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, and such other lists or information in relation to the persons on board such vessel as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, or by any such officer. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted entry, except that in case of sickness of the master or officer delivering the same, or his unavoidable absence from the vessel, they may be delivered within twenty-four hours after entry upon production by the master or officer making delivery of a certificate of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or of a civil surgeon of the United States Army or Navy, to the effect that such sickness or absence existed at the time of entry. Any master or officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to answer truly and correctly all questions propounded to him concerning the persons on board his vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master or agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board thereof any alien passenger when ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by any person authorized by him, or by the Secretary of Labor, or by any court or judge authorized by any law to order the detention of aliens for special inquiry in connection with their landing or admission to the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to take any such alien passenger to the proper place for such inquiry, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain such alien passenger at such place for the time prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to return such alien passenger for examination at the time and place prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any duty required of him by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, in connection with the exclusion, detention, or deportation of any alien passenger, or who shall obstruct or hinder or attempt to obstruct or hinder in any manner the proper officer in the performance of his duty in connection with the exclusion, detention, or deportation of any such alien passenger, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master or agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax imposed by law upon any alien passenger brought by such vessel into the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the same upon demand of the Commissioner General of Immigration, or any person authorized by him, or the Secretary of Labor, or any person authorized by him, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to deliver on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board such vessel such seamen as shall be certified by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, or who fails to deliver such seamen on board vessel after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, or who fails to pay the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit or cancel such bond. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, in whole or in part, upon the payment of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such remission is in the discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all domiciled alien seamen employed on vessels of 1,000 tons or more.

(d) Front [and] an alien seaman did not appear upon the onloking manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or [and he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain a detail after readjustment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to any person or persons in the United States, he may cancel the fine and permit the alien seaman to depart on any vessel willing to accept him, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, until a permit to land has been granted by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, and such seaman may be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and his return to the place from which he came, or to give other security for such purposes. Such deposit or security shall be returned or canceled when the purposes for which required have been accomplished. Any such seaman who has been granted a permit to land and who fails to return to the vessel or other place designated by the immigration officer within the time specified in such permit, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of other aliens who have entered the United States illegally. Any such seaman who is employed on any vessel arriving at a port of the United States and who is certified by the examining medical officer to be suffering from any disease or disability for which he is likely to require hospital treatment or to become a public charge, or who is certified by the examining surgeon to be suffering from any mental disease or defect of such character as would be likely to cause him to become a public charge, shall be detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge until examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and certified by him as not coming within the foregoing classes, and any such seaman who shall land in the United States before being certified as aforesaid, or who shall land in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to deliver on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board such vessel such seamen as shall be certified by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, or who fails to deliver such seamen on board vessel after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, or who fails to pay the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit such fine, in whole or in part, upon the payment of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, when such remission is in the discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all domiciled alien seamen employed on vessels of 1,000 tons or more.

(d) Front [and] an alien seaman did not appear upon the onloking manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or [and he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain a detail after readjustment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to any person or persons in the United States, he may cancel the fine and permit the alien seaman to depart on any vessel willing to accept him, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended future residence of each person who may be applying for admission to the United States, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, and such other lists or information in relation to the persons on board such vessel as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, under the direction of the Secretary of Labor, or by any such officer. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted entry, except that in case of sickness of the master or officer delivering the same, or his unavoidable absence from the vessel, they may be delivered within twenty-four hours after entry upon production by the master or officer making delivery of a certificate of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, or of a civil surgeon of the United States Army or Navy, to the effect that such sickness or absence existed at the time of entry. Any master or officer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to answer truly and correctly all questions propounded to him concerning the persons on board his vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master or agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board thereof any alien passenger when ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by any person authorized by him, or by the Secretary of Labor, or by any court or judge authorized by any law to order the detention of aliens for special inquiry in connection with their landing or admission to the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to take any such alien passenger to the proper place for such inquiry, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain such alien passenger at such place for the time prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to return such alien passenger for examination at the time and place prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any duty required of him by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or by the Secretary of Labor, in connection with the exclusion, detention, or deportation of any alien passenger, or who shall obstruct or hinder or attempt to obstruct or hinder in any manner the proper officer in the performance of his duty in connection with the exclusion, detention, or deportation of any such alien passenger, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master or agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax imposed by law upon any alien passenger brought by such vessel into the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the same upon demand of the Commissioner General of Immigration, or any person authorized by him, or the Secretary of Labor, or any person authorized by him, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such refusal or neglect, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly to said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the cause of vacancy opposite the name of each person who has ceased to belong to the vessel, and the time and place of shipping each person who has been engaged during the said voyage. I have also noted the number of the certificate issued to each person who is a seaman, and the date and place of issue of such certificate. I have made a like entry in the case of each person who has been shipped since the vessel's departure from the last port at which she has been entered. I have also noted the name of each person who has died or been left behind during the said voyage, and the cause of death or reason for leaving behind, and the property left by each such person. I have also noted the number of distressed seamen brought on board during the said voyage, and from what vessel or place they were taken, and the reason why they were so taken. I have also noted the name of each distressed seaman left behind at each port, and the reason why he was so left behind. I have also noted the number of distressed seamen brought on board during the said voyage, and the vessel or place from which they were taken, and the reason why they were so taken. I have also noted the name of each distressed seaman left behind at each port, and the reason why he was so left behind. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the port of arrival; or else containing as much of such information as may be obtainable in regard to those immigration officers, in writing, as may be prescribed in the rules and regulations hereinafter provided for, and also stating all cases in which vva such alien has been detained by the master or other officer in charge of such vessel, and the cause or reason therefor. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to refuse to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which vva such alien has been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of vva such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to the crew, giving the reasons therefor, and the additional information required in the case of those originally listed. Whenever, in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, any alien employee shall have departed, temporarily, or so to report such cases of desertion or illness, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be required to deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided: but no such vessel shall be refused clearance because of the failure to deliver the lists herein required: and no such vessel shall be detained more than a reasonable period: nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof complies with the applicable requirements of section 251 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 141). Compliance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) have been prepared, the deposits specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unavoidable detention, or to secure a substitute as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if landed by such immigration officer at the port, or who fails to detain such seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all deserting alien crewmen irrespective of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(b) Every alien in alien seaman did not above upon the outbreak hereof of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for hospitalization if such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer in charge at the port to be suffering from a contagious disease, or to secure his return to the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to another vessel.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who lands or permits to land on shore any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection may be made while such vessel is en route to the dock), and has delivered to the master of such vessel a permit in writing authorizing the master to cause such alien seaman to land temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or for hospitalization if such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer in charge at the port to be suffering from a contagious disease, or to secure his return to the vessel or to another vessel which is scheduled to depart prior to the expiration of such time as may be specified in such permit, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such permit at any time and cause the deportation of such alien seaman in the manner provided by law. Any alien seaman who remains in the United States after the expiration of the period of time specified in such permit, or after the withdrawal thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by law, unless the Attorney General is satisfied that such alien seaman has remained in the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service essential to the maintenance of vessels in which he arrived, and that no citizen of the United States is available to perform such labor or service, and that such alien seaman intends to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, and that such alien seaman is not a member of any class of aliens ineligible to citizenship, or a person who at any time has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, unless the Attorney General in his discretion waives the deportation of such alien seaman. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States within the period of time specified in such permit, or within such period of time as may be allowed by the Attorney General

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like continuing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; the names of all aliens who have been employed on such vessel, and specifying those who were not discharged in the port of arrival; the intended final destination of each alien who is to be discharged in the United States; the name, birthplace, and last residence of each alien passenger, and the final destination so far as known; and such information as may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and while the vessel is in port the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall furnish to any such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as practicable, and before the departure of any such vessel if demanded before such departure, the name of each person employed on such vessel who is not then a member of the crew, and such information as may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: and while the vessel is in port the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as practicable, and before the departure of any such vessel if demanded before such departure, the name of each person employed on such vessel who is not then a member of the crew, and such information as may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and while the vessel is in port the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as practicable, and before the departure of any such vessel if demanded before such departure, the name of each person employed on such vessel who has been discharged, and the cause and circumstance of such discharge. If any, who have been signed on and have not been discharged, and who have left the vessel, and the cause for their leaving the same, so far as known or reasonably ascertainable; and if any such person has died, the fact and circumstances thereof, so far as known or reasonably ascertainable. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who violates any provision of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 898, 899; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), when such vessel is ready to depart, has been delivered to the administrative officer designated in the Attorney General's list of medical officers, or to the medical officer at the port of arrival, if no such officer is stationed at the port, and has been signed by him. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a list containing the name of each alien employed on board such vessel, the capacity in which employed, the date and port of shipment, the intended final destination of each alien shipped from the United States, and the name and address of the person in the United States from whom each alien received his employment certificate, if any. Such list shall be prepared on a blank form approved by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose, and shall be executed in quadruplicate, and the information required shall be typewritten. Such list shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure not later than 24 hours before the departure of the vessel, unless the vessel departs within 24 hours after its arrival, in which case the list shall be delivered before the departure of the vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any provision of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 898, 899; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport such seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration grants subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the onboarding manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after reshipment by the immigration officer of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that the deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman if he were cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived or which may be substituted therefor, the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be retained on board but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as names of such aliens and such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been relieved from duty, and the cause therefor, and the name of any such alien who has landed, with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of alien members of the crew who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein provided for, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 890 [8 U. S. C. 173].)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the nonimmigrant classification of aliens entering the United States temporarily as seamen, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for such medical treatment, or unless specifically admitted as a nonimmigrant under section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or as an immigrant if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws, and application for such admission is made within the period of time allowed by the terms of the conditional permit granted him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the purpose of obtaining a visa. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall land from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, otherwise than as permitted by the immigration laws and this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156). Any such alien seaman who shall be found upon any vessel after such vessel shall have departed from the last port in the United States shall be deported as provided in such sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, unless he shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor the right to land temporarily in the United States, or unless he shall have been admitted to the United States as an immigrant if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws. Any such alien seaman who shall be found upon any vessel after such vessel shall have departed from the last port in the United States shall be deported as provided in such sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, unless he shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor the right to land temporarily in the United States, or unless he shall have been admitted to the United States as an immigrant if otherwise admissible under the immigration laws, and application for such admission is made within the period of time allowed by the terms of the conditional permit granted him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the purpose of obtaining a visa. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any place outside thereof, otherwise than as permitted by the immigration laws and this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than in transit across the continental territory of the United States from a foreign port to a foreign port, shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly examined by one of the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or if there be no such officer at such port, by a surgeon designated for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, before such alien seaman leaves the port, or, if such vessel shall depart from such port before the expiration of such time as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary for the examination of such alien seaman, by the first such officer who thereafter shall go on board such vessel at any port in the United States. Such examination shall be made in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner(s). Every such alien seaman (which examination in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), found to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be sufficient under the immigration laws to exclude such alien seaman from admission into the United States, shall be certified to the master of such vessel, and unless such alien seaman is forthwith removed from the United States on such vessel, or on another vessel, or otherwise, to the country to which he belongs, or country in which he resided prior to coming to the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, within the time fixed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master thereof, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while such alien seaman remains on board, except that clearance may be granted prior to the removal of such alien seaman upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such expense as determined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, and the return of such alien seaman to the port of arrival is secured by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, or unless such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer of the port to be suffering from a disease or mental or physical defect or disability which would be sufficient under the immigration laws to exclude such alien seaman from admission into the United States, and such certification is approved by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, otherwise than as permitted by the immigration laws and this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than in transit across the continental territory of the United States from a foreign port to a foreign port, shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly examined by one of the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival, or if there be no such officer at such port, by a surgeon designated for the purpose by the Secretary of Labor, before such alien seaman leaves the port, or, if such vessel shall depart from such port before the expiration of such time as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary for the examination of such alien seaman, by the first such officer who thereafter shall go on board such vessel at any port in the United States. Such examination shall be made in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner(s). Every such alien seaman (which examination in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), found to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities which would be sufficient under the immigration laws to exclude such alien seaman from admission into the United States, shall be certified to the master of such vessel, and unless such alien seaman is forthwith removed from the United States on such vessel, or on another vessel, or otherwise, to the country to which he belongs, or country in which he resided prior to coming to the United States, or to such other country as may be willing to receive him, within the time fixed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, such alien seaman shall be detained on board such vessel at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master thereof, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while such alien seaman remains on board, except that clearance may be granted prior to the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman for a period of not to exceed five days, and the return of such alien seaman to the port of arrival is secured by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, to the satisfaction of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, or unless such alien seaman is certified by the medical officer of the port to be suffering from a disease or mental or physical defect or disability which would be sufficient under the immigration laws to exclude such alien seaman from admission into the United States, and such certification is approved by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, and such certification by the medical officer of the port and the approval by the commissioner of immigration at the port of departure, shall be conclusive upon the Secretary of Labor in the absence of fraud in obtaining such certification or approval. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, otherwise than as permitted by the immigration laws and this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889, 890; 8 U. S. C. 155, 156).

(b) Proof shall be taken as to each seaman who shall not appear upon the conclusive manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port, or from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon written notice of the master or other officer in charge of the port of arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterlists and manifests of all persons arriving on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's country, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons named in the lists who have been previously admitted to the United States, and the intended final destination of all such persons so far as known or ascertained, which lists or manifests shall be produced at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival and before any of the persons named therein shall be landed therefrom, and shall be corrected, if necessary, by the master of such vessel upon the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and before the vessel shall depart therefrom, in accordance with such additional information as may be elicited from any of the persons named therein by the said immigration officer. Such lists or manifests shall be signed and sworn to before the said immigration officer by the master of such vessel, who shall also indorse upon the same or deliver therewith a certificate signed by the surgeon, if there be one, and if there be no surgeon, then by the master of such vessel, stating the number of sick persons, if any, who have been landed from the vessel, stating a description of such sick alien, following, as far as practicable, the classification of aliens hereinafter prescribed, and the nature of the sickness and infirmities of each of them, so far as the same can be ascertained by such certificate; and the master of such vessel shall furnish to the said immigration officer at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind at any foreign port or place, and the reasons therefor, and the names of all alien members of the crew who have been shipped at any port or place in the United States during the period the vessel has been in port, and the intended destination of each of them. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, following, as far as practicable, the classification of aliens hereinafter prescribed, and the nature of the sickness and infirmities of each of them, so far as the same can be ascertained by such certificate, and the names of all alien members of the crew who have been left behind at any foreign port or place, and the reasons therefor, and the names of all alien members of the crew who have been shipped at any port or place in the United States during the period the vessel has been in port, and the intended destination of each of them, so far as known or ascertained, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the said officer the lists or manifests required of him, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question propounded to him by any such officer touching any matter or thing concerning which information is required by this Act to be furnished by the master of such vessel, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board such vessel or other vessel or boat under the master's control any alien member of the crew when ordered by such officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival like counterlists and manifests of all persons arriving on such vessel at any subsequent port or place in the United States at which such vessel may arrive, or who shall refuse or neglect to report to the said officer the illness or infirmities of any alien crew member who may be found on board such vessel after her departure from any such subsequent port or place, and the probable length of time he will be ill, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the said officer the certificate of the surgeon, if there be one, and if there be no surgeon, then of the master, as to the illness or infirmities of any such alien crew member who may be found on board such vessel after her departure from any such subsequent port or place, and the probable length of time he will be ill, or who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board such vessel or other vessel or boat under the master's control any alien crew member when ordered by such officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the said officer on demand any such alien crew member detained on board such vessel or other vessel or boat under the master's control, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the cost of maintenance and transportation of such detained alien crew member to the immigration station designated by the said officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port of arrival to the port of destination of such alien seaman, or to any other port, or shall be granted clearance papers after such clearance shall have been withheld, except after such clearance papers shall have been granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond duly sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine or any part thereof incurred under this section, as amended, and may pay to all persons giving information leading to the recovery of any fine hereunder a sum not to exceed $200 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think just. That section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Front fines on alien seamen did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or if he were rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a collector of customs that such seaman has illegally landed from such vessel.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on which the vessel is to depart is necessary, he may require that such vessel not depart from the port of arrival until the fine has been paid or sufficient security given therefor. Such vessel may depart before the fine is paid upon the deposit of sufficient security to cover the fine, but such deposit shall not relieve the vessel from the payment of the fine. Any vessel which departs from the port of arrival without the consent of the Attorney General shall be liable for the fine, and such vessel may be libeled in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of arrival is located. The Attorney General may remit any fine or any part thereof incurred under this section, as amended, and may pay to all persons giving information leading to the recovery of any fine hereunder a sum not to exceed $200 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think just. That section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival. One shall be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "non-immigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of arriving American citizens seeking admission as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from a foreign port or from a possession of the United States, the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof, shall present to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and shall indicate the nationality, last permanent residence, and the final destination of each alien. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered to the immigration officer at such port as the Attorney General may by regulation prescribe; and shall be verified by the oath of the master or agent, consignee, or owner thereof, before the departure of any such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before any such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant the same, the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall deliver to the collector or other officer a certificate issued by the immigration officer at the port of arrival that all aliens mentioned in the list or manifest have been duly reported, examined, and admitted or otherwise disposed of according to law. It shall be unlawful for any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to bring to the United States any alien who has been refused admission to the United States at the time of the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, unless such alien has been specifically readmitted in writing by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigration officer any list required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to such immigration officer any such list in his possession, or who shall refuse or fail to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States which may be propounded by any such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien for examination in accordance with any regulation made by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the United States the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such omission or failure occurs, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of any such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver to the Attorney General such seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, or to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or if such seaman was not entered on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, to the immigration officer at the port of departure of such vessel, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such seaman was not employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States, except upon certification by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman has been certified to the Secretary of Labor by the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived as a member of the crew or otherwise, and that such alien seaman has been found by the Secretary of Labor to be not unacceptable to the master of such vessel or to the owner of the vessel or his agent in charge of the port, and has been certified by the Secretary of Labor to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who employs any alien seaman in violation of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so employed on such vessel; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of any such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver to the Attorney General such seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, or to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or if such seaman was not entered on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, to the immigration officer at the port of departure of such vessel, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such seaman was not employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the United States.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required by section 12 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival is to be in addition to this list.

When no alien passengers are carried, a "no-manifest" is required to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no alien seamen are to be discharged, all copies of the list are to be so indorsed, and the master or agent must sign the indorsement.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 3. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, steamboat corporation, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of the first arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ships' company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they intend to land at the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, steamboat corporation, or owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or shipped, and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to report either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if ordered by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like refund is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such vessel be granted clearance thereafter. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

[SEC. 6 CLEARANCE SHALL NOT BE GRANTED ANY VESSEL until the lists required by section 34 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless copies of lists have been certified by section 34 of the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act have been made.]

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. NO alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment, or pursuant to such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 10. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except a vessel duly arriving in the United States from a foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, who shall employ on board such vessel, within the boundaries [not to exceed 60 miles] shall be presumed to intend to bring such alien into the United States, and shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 8 of this Act, unless such alien shall be duly inspected and admitted by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and a landing certificate issued in his behalf. Such certificate shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be in addition to any other report which may be made or manifest required.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to secure the payment thereof provided by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, Allan E. Gustafson, Master of the SS Nittanooka do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posting the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including the members of the crew, whether citizens of the United States or aliens, employed on such vessel, stating the position which they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who sign articles in a foreign port and who are to be discharged in the port of arrival; to which list shall be added, before the departure of such vessel from such port, the name of every person who may be employed in the place of any person named in the list, and the reason for such change. Such list shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master of such vessel, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Attorney General touching the nationality, identity, and last permanent residence of each person mentioned therein. Such list shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and a like list, corrected to the time of departure, shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of departure. When no alien seaman is employed, a list to that effect shall be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel before such vessel departs from the United States, or to the proper officer of the customs at the last port in the United States from which such vessel departs, a sufficient number of such lists of persons on board such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the immigration officer or the Attorney General of so many of the persons named in such lists as may be necessary to determine whether they are entitled to enter the United States under the immigration laws), or to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a like list, corrected to the time of departure, containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board such vessel after such inspection or to depart such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to such less sum not less than $300 for each seaman, as he may deem reasonable, and may, upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, remit such penalty. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final.

(b) Proof that any alien seaman did not depart upon the discharge manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immigration officer at such port of arrival as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such seaman on board such vessel for departure.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be charged against the vessel in connection with the settlement of the Attorney General's accounts with any collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon such terms as he may prescribe, remit any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred or claimed under this section, or any part thereof, if he finds that such fine, penalty, or forfeiture was incurred without fraud or willful negligence and that remission is not inconsistent with public policy or the due administration of this section. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), (b), (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes or additions thereto, if any, shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens when no such aliens are employed on such vessel, which lists shall be prepared in the port of arrival, or such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be in such form and contain such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and while the arrival of any such vessel is delayed for any cause at any port or place of the United States it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port, and not included in any list theretofore delivered; and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of every such vessel to report the illness or injury to any alien employed thereon, and the sickness or death of any such alien, stating the cause thereof, and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port a full and true list of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have been left behind in the United States, and the cause for detention of each, and the final disposition of the case. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit on board such vessel while in port a sufficient number of lists of aliens employed on board such vessel, to enable the master to deliver the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917, or who fails to deliver such lists to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who fails to report the illness or injury to any alien employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection shall in all cases be made before the vessel leaves the dock), or who fails to detain on board such vessel such alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen or has been notified that such seamen are not required to be detained for special inquiry, or who fails to detain on board such vessel such alien seamen as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention of such seamen on board vessels in lieu of detention on shore, or who fails to deliver such seamen for medical examination on board or ashore when required so to do, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pursuant to the provisions of section 4197 of the Revised Statutes, as amended, while any fine imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the case is pending on appeal, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving at ports of the United States on and after January 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was treated by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, how such seaman may be

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) shall before the departure of such vessel cause a complete list to be made of all persons on board such vessel, including a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), setting forth such facts as may be required to establish whether any such person belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States, and deliver a duplicate of such list to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure. Such list shall be prepared in such manner and contain such particulars as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before any immigration officer at the port of departure. The Attorney General may require any such person to be detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been furnished with such list. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer questions concerning persons on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each person in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the administrative fine imposed by this section, as remitted, shall have been paid to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same, and may upon such terms as he shall deem just and proper refund any money paid in pursuance of such determination.

(b) Every alien seaman, while employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or after he has been so employed, shall be subject to the provisions of section 19 of this Act, and shall be required to depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on any other vessel leaving the port of arrival, unless specially permitted by the Attorney General to depart on another vessel or to remain in the United States for the period of his employment on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or for such longer period as may be necessary to enable him to secure the payment of wages due him, or to make complaint or give evidence in connection with any alleged violation of the immigration laws, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Attorney General. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on such vessel as the Attorney General may permit him to depart on, shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of an alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel or the owner thereof shall be liable to the payment of a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. When any such vessel is about to depart for a foreign port from the United States, the collector of customs shall withhold clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or remit the same, and may upon such terms as he shall deem just and proper refund any money paid in pursuance of such determination.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in a port of the United States shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he shall have been unable to secure employment sufficient to pay his passage to a foreign port, and that he has reported to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure the fact of his desertion and the circumstances connected therewith, and has satisfied such officer that he has remained in the United States for the sole purpose of attempting to secure such employment, and has been unable to secure the same. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on such vessel as the Attorney General may permit him to depart on, shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

(e) If any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or departure of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) shall before the departure of such vessel cause a complete list to be made of all persons on board such vessel, including a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), setting forth such facts as may be required to establish whether any such person belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States, and deliver a duplicate of such list to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure. Such list shall be prepared in such manner and contain such particulars as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before any immigration officer at the port of departure. The Attorney General may require any such person to be detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been furnished with such list. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer questions concerning persons on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver such list to the immigration officer at the time of departure of such vessel from a foreign port, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the persons on board such vessel, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such refusal.

(b) Every alien seaman, while employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or after he has been so employed, shall be subject to the provisions of section 19 of this Act, and shall be required to depart with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or on any other vessel leaving the port of arrival, unless specially permitted by the Attorney General to depart on another vessel or to remain in the United States for the period of his employment on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or for such longer period as may be necessary to enable him to secure the payment of wages due him, or to make complaint or give evidence in connection with any alleged violation of the immigration laws, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Attorney General to justify such action, as amended, shall apply to all seamen while employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in a port of the United States shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he shall have been unable to secure employment sufficient to pay his passage to a foreign port, and that he has reported to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure the fact of his desertion and the circumstances connected therewith, and has satisfied such officer that he has remained in the United States for the sole purpose of attempting to secure such employment, and has been unable to secure the same. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on such vessel as the Attorney General may permit him to depart on, shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without the permission of the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States without inspection at the time of his last entry, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

(e) If any alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place is found in the United States, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel had no reason to believe that such alien seaman was not a bona fide member of the crew of such vessel, and that due diligence was exercised by such master, agent, consignee, or owner to prevent the desertion of such alien seaman. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the payment of such penalty has been secured or provided for to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, or the master has deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment to such destination as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall have inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and no alien seaman shall be allowed to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, unless and until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted to such alien seaman a landing certificate, or a duplicate thereof, for the purpose of obtaining a visa. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe rules and regulations governing the inspection of such seamen and the issuance of landing certificates or duplicates thereof. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section, or who shall fail to remain with the vessel on which he arrived, or to depart therein or on some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the Attorney General, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, as amended, and shall be ineligible to citizenship. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, in such cases and under such regulations as he may prescribe, permit an alien seaman to enter the United States solely for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment, and such alien seaman shall not be required to obtain a visa therefor. Any alien seaman who shall enter the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, as amended, and shall be ineligible to citizenship.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port in the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list, in triplicate, of the crew, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, calling, and port at which each seaman shall have been shipped, and the date and place of birth of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel. Such list shall be certified by the master of such vessel and by the first officer thereof, or by the purser, surgeon, or person acting in the capacity of any of such officers. Such list shall be prepared at such time before the departure of such vessel from the United States as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe, and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of any alien seaman who shall have been left behind, and full information concerning the cause of his detention. Any such vessel which shall depart from the United States without having on board thereof all alien seamen duly listed therefor, except such as shall have been certified to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure as left behind for the reasons stated, shall be required to enter and clear at the customhouse of each port at which it shall thereafter touch before proceeding to a foreign port or place, until such certificates shall have been delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the last port of the United States from which such vessel departed. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen employed on vessels arriving after the date of the enactment of this Act.

(c) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the particular vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily or permanently unable to depart upon the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain a bond to secure the payment of such fine, or to deport such seaman, which shall be certified by the immigration officer at the port of departure to the Attorney General.

(d) If the Attorney General finds that any person has failed to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section, or any rule or regulation made in pursuance thereof, or has connived or conspired with any seaman to violate any provision of this section, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing, remit any fine imposed upon any person under the provisions of this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms as he may deem just and reasonable under the circumstances. Such remission may be granted before or after judgment, or during the pendency of any appeal. (43 Stat. 161–162, 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be scratched or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternative manifest is used, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, aliens destined to Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States should be listed separately.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival such countries and ports as the said alien has been a resident of for the five years immediately preceding the application for admission to the United States, and the length of residence in each, and such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor concerning the said alien, together with the number of the certificate issued therefor, and the name and address of the consul by whom issued. Any person who shall refuse to furnish information required by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any person who shall knowingly and willfully furnish false information in the preparation of the list herein provided for, or who shall refuse to subscribe thereto under oath before a duly authorized immigration officer when required so to do, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to deliver to any such immigration officer, in addition to the list herein provided for, a further list or lists of the persons employed on board his vessel, containing such information concerning them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any such question concerning the persons employed on board his vessel as may be propounded by any such immigration officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by any such immigration officer, or who shall refuse to prevent any such alien from landing in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the Attorney General, or who shall refuse to take any such alien back to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other foreign port which will accept him, on the same vessel upon which he arrived in the United States, or upon the vessel next arriving at the port from which such alien came to the United States, if ordered so to do by the Attorney General, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to pay the head tax levied by section 1 of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to pay the expenses of any alien ordered deported under the provisions of this Act, or who shall refuse to pay the passage money of any alien required to be paid under the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both. Any master who shall refuse to pay the commutation head tax provided for in section 2

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required to be prepared by section 4 of the Act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1214; U. S. Comp. Stat. 1918, sec. 8468), in the case of aliens arriving at ports for which such lists are required, may be used for the purpose of this list, if it contains all the information required by this list, and the additional information required by this list is noted thereon before the list is delivered to the immigration officer. The list or manifest of aliens arriving at ports for which lists are required shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel is admitted to pratique, but shall not be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at any port other than the port of arrival. The term "master," as used in this list, shall be construed to include any person having command or charge of any vessel. Attention is directed to the penalties prescribed by section 10 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 878; U. S. Comp. Stat. 1918, sec. 8468), for failure to deliver lists required by section 4 of the act of March 3, 1903, or for making any false statement in connection therewith.

Each question must be answered. If the answer to any question is "none" or "not applicable," that fact must be stated. Any additional information desired by the immigration officer must be furnished.

Sec. 16. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other person in charge thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position that each respectively holds in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged at the port of arrival; to make a declaration before the immigrant inspector at the time of delivering such lists that the matters and things therein contained and set forth are true to the best of his knowledge and belief; and to furnish such additional information relative to the aliens employed on such vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any person authorized by him to require the same. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before any of the passengers have landed from the vessel, stating a description of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of any such alien who may illegally land from the vessel. It shall be the duty of the master to detain on board or at the station designated by the immigrant inspector all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a United States port until a physician designated by the Secretary of Labor has examined them and certified to the number found to be suffering from any contagious disease, and to the number found to be mentally or physically defective, and has furnished the master with a certificate stating the number of aliens so detained, and the name of the port to which they belong. Any alien employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States who is not listed on the lists required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector, or who is not certified by the master to the immigrant inspector as having been discharged at a previous port of arrival, or who has been employed on such vessel at any time after the vessel has departed from the last port outside the United States, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported as provided by law, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he came into the United States through no fault of the master, purser, or other person in charge of the vessel upon which he arrived, and that such master, purser, or other person in charge of the vessel has complied fully with the provisions of this section relative to such alien. Any master, purser, or other person in charge of any vessel who refuses to deliver the lists required by this section, or who refuses to detain any alien thereon when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port, or who refuses to pay the cost of such detention, or who refuses to deliver any such alien certified by the medical examiner as suffering from any contagious disease, or who refuses to deliver any such alien certified by the medical examiner as mentally or physically defective, or who refuses to pay the cost of such medical examination, or who refuses to deliver any such alien duly certified by the Secretary of Labor or any commissioner of immigration or immigrant inspector in charge to the proper officer of the immigration service at the time of the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, or who refuses to pay the cost of such alien's maintenance and care while in the hospital, or who refuses to pay the cost of such alien's return if ordered by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay any fine imposed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate any penalty so imposed by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, and upon the recommendation of the Public Health Service, remit the payment of the cost of maintenance and care of any alien in the hospital, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost. (39 Stat. 884; U. S. C. 1918, 8468.)

Sec. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to any place in the United States from any place outside thereof any alien (whether or not such alien is ultimately destined to the United States) who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and the vessel on which such alien shall arrive shall be held liable for the payment of such fine. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the fine imposed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the payment of such fine or any part thereof if it appears to his satisfaction that the master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel had no reason to believe that the alien was afflicted with such disease at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place and that the existence of such disease could not have been detected by the exercise of due diligence. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the remission or refusal of remission of such fine. (39 Stat. 884–885; U. S. C. 1918, 8469.)

(b) Every alien, including an alien in transit through the United States, who shall come into the United States from any country, foreign island, or insular possession in which a contagious disease exists, and which disease is subsequently found to exist in the United States, shall be detained for observation by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival for a period not exceeding five days unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor a longer detention is necessary, and if found to be afflicted with such disease shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor, and unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he came into the United States through no fault of the master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel upon which he arrived in the United States, and that such master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel has complied fully with the provisions of this section relative to such alien, he shall be deported as provided by law. Any alien certified by the Secretary of Labor or any commissioner of immigration or immigrant inspector in charge to the Attorney General as afflicted with any such disease, other than one which is easily curable, shall be deported as provided by law unless after examination by the Attorney General he shall be of opinion that the admission of such alien would not be contrary to the interests of the country, and shall furnish to such alien a certificate stating the fact, and such certificate shall be presented to the proper immigrant inspector at the time of the application for admission of such alien. (39 Stat. 884; U. S. C. 1918, 8469.)

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person, company, or transportation officer or agent to bring to the United States any alien who is afflicted with any such disease, unless such alien is in transit through the United States to a country wherein he is not excluded because of such disease, or unless such person, company, or transportation officer or agent has been authorized by the Secretary of Labor to bring such alien into the United States for medical treatment, and any person, company, or transportation officer or agent who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any such disease, except as above specified, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and the vessel on which such alien shall arrive shall be held liable for the payment of such fine. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the fine imposed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the payment of such fine or any part thereof if it appears to his satisfaction that the master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel had no reason to believe that the alien was afflicted with such disease at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place and that the existence of such disease could not have been detected by the exercise of due diligence. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the remission or refusal of remission of such fine. (39 Stat. 884–885; U. S. C. 1918, 8469.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be temporarily permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of necessity, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

Sec. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to any place in the United States from any place outside thereof (while inspection is in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), any alien who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien so brought, and the vessel on which such alien shall arrive shall be held liable for the payment of such fine. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to pay the fine imposed, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit the payment of such fine or any part thereof if it appears to his satisfaction that the master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel had no reason to believe that the alien was afflicted with such disease at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place and that the existence of such disease could not have been detected by the exercise of due diligence. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final as to the remission or refusal of remission of such fine. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

(b) Every alien, including an alien in transit through the United States, who shall come into the United States from any country, foreign island, or insular possession in which a contagious disease exists, and which disease is subsequently found to exist in the United States, shall be detained for observation by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival for a period not exceeding five days unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor a longer detention is necessary, and if found to be afflicted with such disease shall be certified to the Secretary of Labor, and unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he came into the United States through no fault of the master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel upon which he arrived in the United States, and that such master, purser, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel has complied fully with the provisions of this section relative to such alien, he shall be deported as provided by law. Any alien certified by the Secretary of Labor or any commissioner of immigration or immigrant inspector in charge to the Attorney General as afflicted with any such disease, other than one which is easily curable, shall be deported as provided by law unless after examination by the Attorney General he shall be of opinion that the admission of such alien would not be contrary to the interests of the country, and shall furnish to such alien a certificate stating the fact, and such certificate shall be presented to the proper immigrant inspector at the time of the application for admission of such alien. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below is prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and is ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be entered (from 1 to 888) is limited on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "New" means arriving aliens, including seamen to arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other agent thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board, whether they were part of the crew or the cabin service, and whether they were cabin passengers or not, and specifying such facts as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or such other information as the Attorney General may by regulation prescribe; but such lists shall not include the names of persons employed in the service of the United States or the Panama Railroad Company. Such lists shall contain a description of such alien, following, as near as may be, the form of words used in the Immigration Act, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or the Attorney General, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or purser of the vessel, or the first or second officer, or such other officer as may be designated by the master and approved by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be admitted to entry, and before any of the passengers or crew shall be landed from the vessel, except in such cases as may be provided by rules and regulations made by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, purser, or other agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely any question touching the matters about which information is required by this Act to be given by the master, purser, or other agent of any vessel, before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such information officer is stationed, shall pay to the collector of customs at such port the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, or whose name shall, if required by the Attorney General, be refused a landing certificate, temporary or otherwise, by the principal immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall be found unlawfully landed from any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, unless such master, purser, or other agent shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has exercised due diligence to prevent such unlawful landing. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, purser, or other agent thereof has paid the said sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, or has produced the certificate of the principal immigrant inspector at the port of arrival that the master has complied with the requirements of this section in respect to such alien. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

SEC. 21. That the head tax of $8 imposed by section 1 of this Act shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located at the time of the payment of such head tax, and by him shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States and accounted for as other moneys received from head taxes collected under the provisions of the immigration laws. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to pay the said head tax shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, or whose name shall, if required by the Attorney General, be refused a landing certificate, temporary or otherwise, by the principal immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall be found unlawfully landed from any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, unless such master, agent, owner, or consignee shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has exercised due diligence to prevent such unlawful landing. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the said head tax has been paid or satisfactorily provided for. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 192.)

SEC. 1.50. Liens of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) shall have been refunded, and not then unless notice of intention to deport the alien employee shall have been given to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization as provided by section 20 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1201).

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman (except a master) may be admitted into the United States under the immigration visa laid before he has been examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and certified by him to the immigration officer at the port of entry as not affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which may be the basis for the exclusion of aliens from the United States under section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, and to the effect that such alien seaman has been successfully treated for any such disease found to be curable. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence in any proceeding under the immigration laws, and the decision of the medical officer shall be subject to review only by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who has been certified by the medical officer as afflicted with any such disease found to be curable shall be detained on board or at quarantine until he has been successfully treated and certified to be no longer afflicted with such disease, unless he is permitted to land in the United States under bond, in such sum and with such security as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, to indemnify and save harmless the United States and all officers thereof from any charge for his care or maintenance. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 201.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be fined $200 for each such alien brought in violation of the provisions of section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and in addition shall be liable to the head tax and to the expenses incident to the detention and deportation of each alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 201.)

(b) Every alien seaman (except a master) arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be subject to the provisions of section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens, and for the purpose of such exclusion and deportation shall be deemed to be an alien seaman employed on board a vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States, notwithstanding the fact that such alien seaman may have been admitted to the United States temporarily or may have been allowed to land temporarily in the United States under bond or otherwise.

(c) The owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so brought, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the payment of such penalty as may thereafter be imposed. The Attorney General shall have power to remit or mitigate such penalty, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to any immigrant inspector any such alien seaman shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman so refused delivery. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the payment of such penalty as may thereafter be imposed. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in any amount not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect to whom such default occurs. Upon such remission or mitigation shall such alien seaman be allowed to land temporarily in the discretion of the Attorney General in the interest of any bona fide line of vessels. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 202.)

(d) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 203.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be fined $200 for each such alien brought in violation of the provisions of section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, and in addition shall be liable to the head tax and to the expenses incident to the detention and deportation of each alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 201.)

(b) Every alien seaman (except a master) arriving in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be subject to the provisions of section 2 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, as amended, relating to the exclusion and deportation of aliens, and for the purpose of such exclusion and deportation shall be deemed to be an alien seaman employed on board a vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States, notwithstanding the fact that such alien seaman may have been admitted to the United States temporarily or may have been allowed to land temporarily in the United States under bond or otherwise.

(c) The owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman so brought, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty with the collector of customs, or a bond with sufficient surety in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the payment of such penalty as may thereafter be imposed. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty in any amount not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect to whom such default occurs. Upon such remission or mitigation shall such alien seaman be allowed to land temporarily in the discretion of the Attorney General in the interest of any bona fide line of vessels. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 202.)

(d) Every alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 203.)

The list described below is prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and is ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be entered (from 1 to 888) is limited on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "New" means arriving aliens, including seamen to arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or other agent thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board, whether they were part of the crew or the cabin service, and whether they were cabin passengers or not, and specifying such facts as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or such other information as the Attorney General may by regulation prescribe; but such lists shall not include the names of persons employed in the service of the United States or the Panama Railroad Company. Such lists shall contain a description of such alien, following, as near as may be, the form of words used in the Immigration Act, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or the Attorney General, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or purser of the vessel, or the first or second officer, or such other officer as may be designated by the master and approved by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be admitted to entry, and before any of the passengers or crew shall be landed from the vessel, except in such cases as may be provided by rules and regulations made by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, purser, or other agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and completely any question touching the matters about which information is required by this Act to be given by the master, purser, or other agent of any vessel, before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such information officer is stationed, shall pay to the collector of customs at such port the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, or whose name shall, if required by the Attorney General, be refused a landing certificate, temporary or otherwise, by the principal immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or who shall be found unlawfully landed from any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, unless such master, purser, or other agent shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has exercised due diligence to prevent such unlawful landing. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the said head tax has been paid or satisfactorily provided for. (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 192.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival full information concerning the persons on board such vessel, whether the same be passengers, members of the crew, or others, and such other information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and it shall be the duty of the master, or person in charge of such vessel, to report to such immigration officer, at arrival at each port of the United States at which such vessel may call, the presence on board such vessel of any alien who has attempted illegally to enter the United States or any territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof, specifying the facts in connection therewith. Before the departure of any such vessel from any port of the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the name of all aliens employed on such vessel who are to be left behind at such port, together with such information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Attorney General at the time of his departure from the United States. Before the departure of any such vessel from any port of the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port a list containing the name of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been discharged from the vessel at such port, together with such information concerning each such alien as may be required by the Attorney General at the time of his discharge from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; but no such master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel shall be required to deliver to the immigration officer any such list concerning any such alien who shall have been duly discharged from such vessel in a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island dependent thereon, if the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States a list containing the name of each such alien so discharged during the period covered by the list: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who knowingly fails to deliver to the immigration officer any list required by this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is not paid clearance may be withheld thereby or such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which the port of departure is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum. (39 Stat. 889–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at any port in the United States from any place outside thereof, or depart from the United States as a seaman on board any vessel bound for any place outside thereof, until such alien shall have been granted a landing permit by the Secretary of Labor, or by such immigration officer as he may designate for the purpose, and such permit shall not be granted if, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor or such immigration officer, the master of such vessel refuses to employ such alien on the same terms as are paid to other seamen of similar grade employed on board such vessel. Any alien seaman who deserts from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof, and the cost of his maintenance while in custody pending deportation shall be a lien against such vessel, to be collected by the Attorney General as provided in section 4 hereof. Any alien seaman who remains in the United States after the vessel on which he arrived departs without the permission of the Secretary of Labor shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who departs from the United States as a member of the crew of any vessel without having been granted a permit to land, if required by this section, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in Alaska, Hawaii, or Puerto Rico, or in contiguous territory, and who shall not secure a permit to land in the United States, shall be deported as provided in section 19 hereof. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel at any time within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, and who is employed on board any vessel within two years after the date of such landing

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born as far as the aforesaid General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of the cause, if any, why any have been discharged or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists of the aliens, or any master, agent, consignee, or owner to report any such alien illegally landed, or to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of departure the list of aliens employed on such vessel, or any master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the name of every alien employed on such vessel who may be discharged between the time of the arrival and the departure of such vessel, he shall pay to the Alien Property Custodian, for the use of the United States, a sum not exceeding $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like penalty for if not made as above required; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted the vessel until the fine is paid or remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–890; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien's departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who, he may be required by the master of such vessel so as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman as required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, he may cause him to be detained on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. ATTENDANT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, John H. Greaves, Master, of the Motorboat VM F.E. Lovelox do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master.

Sworn to before me this 27th day of November, 1950

Immigration Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an attendant assumes it a "notewey", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens assumed, include names of attendant American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship, and when and where they were respectively signed on and the ports at which they have been engaged to touch during the intended voyage; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to report and deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall leave the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall fail to report the illegal landing from the vessel of any alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who shall fail to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival the list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by the principal immigration officer touching the right to land of any alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the departure of any such vessel, any alien employee who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer a true list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave the port thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by such immigration officer touching the right of any alien employee to land, or who shall conceal, harbor, or secrete, or assist in concealing, harboring, or secreting any such alien employee who has illegally landed from such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the master of any vessel shall not be required to deliver lists showing the names of or other information concerning any alien employee who has been lawfully admitted into the United States and who is destined to a port in the United States at which the vessel will touch en route to the port at which the master, agent, consignee, or owner is required to deliver lists under the provisions of this section, but such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall in such case deliver with the lists of the other aliens employed a certificate stating the number of aliens listed who are destined to such ports: Provided further, That the master of any vessel who has on board as an employee at the time of her departure any alien who has been ordered excluded from admission and deportation by any board of special inquiry shall deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure a certified copy of the order excluding and deporting such alien, which order shall be the warrant for the deportation of such alien. (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the Canal Zone any alien who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be required to detain such alien on board the vessel or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the period required by the Public Health Service, and such detention shall be at the expense of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel. Such detention shall be in addition to any quarantine detention required by the Public Health Service.

(b) Any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(c) Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees; manifest clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof has complied with the provisions of section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to file a declaratory statement of intention to become a citizen of the United States has been filed by each alien employee who is required by the provisions of section 3 of the Act of June 29, 1906, as amended (34 Stat. 596; 8 U. S. C. 382), to file such statement, or unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner has been notified by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization that the filing of such statement is not required in the case of any alien employee. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master, agent, consignee, or owner has delivered to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located the sum of $10 for each alien employee, or manifest shall be rejected by the Attorney General, two to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located, for the payment of such head tax as may be required by the Attorney General: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such head tax if the master, agent, consignee, or owner has deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such tax. (39 Stat. 889–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for bringing to the United States any sick or injured person, or because of illness of any alien seaman, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and has granted a permit to land. Upon the inspection of any such seaman not duly certified by the medical examiners to be clear of trachoma, the immigration officer in charge at the port shall cause such seaman to be detained for examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for bringing to the United States any sick or injured person, or because of illness of any alien seaman, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and has granted a permit to land. Upon the inspection of any such vessel not duly certified by the Attorney General to be clear of trachoma, the trachoma district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deserting seamen subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, or waive the same upon such terms as he may deem just, but shall be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master, owner, or person in charge of the port of arrival to have a list or manifest made containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens employed in the port of arrival; to have said list or manifest ready for delivery to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival at the time of the entry of the vessel at such port; and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of such entry a correct list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, and to answer truthfully all questions propounded to him by such immigration officer concerning such aliens and their employment. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to comply with the provisions of this section, or any person who knowingly makes any false statement in relation thereto, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. Any such list or manifest may be inspected by the United States immigration officers at any time after the vessel has been admitted to entry, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall furnish a correct list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the inspection, which list or manifest shall contain such additional information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses to furnish such list or manifest, or who knowingly furnishes a false list or manifest, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct list is not delivered to a duly authorized immigration officer at the port of arrival at the time of the inspection of such vessel, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report the illegal landing of any alien from such vessel prior to the departure of such vessel from the port, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report the illegal landing of any alien from such vessel prior to the arrival at the first port in the United States, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report the illegal landing of any alien from such vessel at any port or place in the United States, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to detain on board or on the dock any alien when ordered so to do by the immigration officer, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port or place in the United States any alien who has been ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be deported, and for the payment of such fine a lien is hereby imposed upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in the district court of the United States in the district in which such vessel may be found. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any fine, penalty, or forfeiture provided for by this section when it is made to appear to his satisfaction that such fine, penalty, or forfeiture was incurred without fault on the part of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and that no intention to violate the provisions of this section existed.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, E. L. Hilton Master of the M.V. The Dennis Edes, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 41 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

E. L. Hilton
Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 17th day of May, 1924 at Norfolk, Va.

A. A. Armstrong
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members or crews (Form 524) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether they intend to depart from the United States or not. Such lists shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel at the port of arrival, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master, agent, consignee, or owner has obtained from the principal immigration officer at the port a certificate stating that the lists required by this section have been delivered and that the master, agent, consignee, or owner has complied with the requirements of this section in respect to all aliens employed on such vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who knowingly delivers a false list, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who refuses to deliver to such inspector any such list in his possession, or who refuses to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by such inspector in relation to any such alien or aliens, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: That clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 2. That the provisions of this Act shall be enforced by the Secretary of Labor, and he may prescribe rules and regulations as to the manner of inspection of aliens arriving in the United States from foreign contiguous territory, the form of lists or other documents to be used, and the administrative procedure to be followed in the United States in connection therewith, and may employ such additional inspectors, clerks, and other employees as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act. Such rules and regulations shall be approved by the Secretary of Labor before they become effective, and shall have the force and effect of law. Any person who violates any such rule or regulation shall be fined not more than $100 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to a port prescribed by section 38 of said act remain need served, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 41. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for hospital treatment, or because of sickness or injury, or to secure his personal baggage, unless he is in possession of a valid seaman's identification certificate issued to him by the Secretary of Labor upon application in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the uniform issuance of certificates of identification to seamen employed on board vessels arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and such certificates shall be issued only to aliens found to be admissible as seamen after special inquiry, medical examination, and such other investigation as may be considered necessary by the Secretary of Labor. Such certificates shall be valid for such period of time, not exceeding four months, as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be subject to such conditions as to the payment of a bond or the deposit of money, the production of passports, the giving of notice of the arrival, departure, or movements of the holder, and such other matters as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any such certificate may be revoked by the Secretary of Labor or by any officer authorized to issue certificates of identification under this section if the holder thereof has violated any of the conditions of the certificate or any of the provisions of this section, and such revocation shall be conclusive and shall not be reviewable by any court, and no such certificate shall be granted to any alien who is within any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917, unless the Secretary of Labor in his discretion shall deem such alien's admission to be in the public interest or shall believe that such alien's admission would not be contrary to the national welfare, safety, or security, and the Secretary of Labor may in his discretion waive the application of any provision of this section to any alien or class of aliens if he shall find that the collection from masters, owners, agents, consignees, or charterers of vessels of taxes imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 26, 1919, entitled "An Act to provide revenue, and for other purposes," upon aliens entering the United States in the service on board vessels will be unduly burdensome or that the imposition of such taxes will disturb the commerce between the United States and foreign countries.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall land temporarily for hospital treatment, or because of sickness or injury, or to secure his personal baggage, shall be required to deposit with the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance while in the United States, such deposit to be refunded to him or his representative upon his departure, or upon his death the cost of burial, or upon his removal from the United States for hospital treatment, by the immigration officer at the port of departure, or by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of an alien seaman who has been granted a certificate of identification will be unduly burdensome or that the cost of maintaining such alien seaman pending deportation will be unduly great, he may cause such alien seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs until the master has complied with the requirements of this section.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(e) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(g) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(i) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(j) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(k) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(l) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(m) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(n) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(o) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(p) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(q) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(r) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(s) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(t) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(u) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(v) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(w) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(x) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

(y) Every alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws, unless he shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have remained in the United States with the consent of the Government of the country to which he belongs, or to be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States, and in such case he shall be given a certificate in lieu of his certificate of identification.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, where born and where they were respectively shipped to engage, but specifying those of the said aliens, if any, who are not destined in the port of arrival; to make corrections as much of such list as may be found necessary, and to report to such immigration officer, in writing as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien shall desert, conceal, or attempt to conceal himself prior to the departure of such vessel from the port; and to pay to the collector of customs for each and every such alien who shall so desert, conceal, or attempt to conceal himself a tax of $100, unless such alien shall have been granted by the Secretary of Labor the right to enter the United States, or unless such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has complied with the provisions of this section and that he could not prevent such desertion. Any such vessel departing from any port of the United States without the certificate required by this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every such alien not specified therein who shall be found thereon after such departure, and no such vessel shall have clearance granted her from any port of the United States while any such penalty remains unpaid. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, remit any penalty or portion thereof incurred under this section. (39 Stat. 889–890; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15 Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been satisfied, or the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel has executed a bond to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located and in a penal sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, in the case of the failure to report any alien employee as provided by law, or in the case of the failure to pay the tax of $10 for each alien employee who is not duly reported for deportation, or in the case of the failure to deport any such alien employee when ordered to do so by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the payment of such fine, tax, or expenses of deportation, or any of them, which may be imposed or incurred in connection with such alien employee. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 898–899; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity of such seaman as a witness in connection with the prosecution of the master or members of the crew of such vessel charged with violation of the immigration laws of the United States, or pending the departure of such vessel, or pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor in a case of such seaman who has been ordered deported, or pending the transportation of such seaman to a country willing to receive him, or pending the procurement of a passport or other travel document necessary for the entry of such seaman into a country other than the United States. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 203.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be liable to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and the Secretary of Labor have been notified of the intention to discharge such seaman (which notification in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and such alien shall have been inspected by such immigration officer or his assistants, or by such examining surgeon as the Secretary of Labor may designate for the purpose, and a certificate issued by such immigration officer to the effect that such alien seaman is entitled to be discharged from such vessel under the provisions of this Act. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who shall fail to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and the Secretary of Labor have been notified of the intention to discharge such seaman (which notification in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who shall fail to detain such seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers while the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. (44 Stat. 559.)

The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States. (44 Stat. 560.)

(d) Every alien in any alien seaman who did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien seaman reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a taxing officer of the United States that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section relating to such alien seaman. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any such penalty or any part thereof incurred under this section upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. (45 Stat. 161–162; 48 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens embarked on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the alien's country of last permanent residence and whether destined to or through the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Attorney General, and shall deliver to each alien any such card or identification number as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Such lists shall be prepared at the port of arrival and delivered to the immigration officer at the time of arrival. If the vessel sails from a foreign port without having on board any alien required to be listed, the master shall so report. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel failing to deliver such lists, or any master failing to report the departure of any alien therefrom, or any master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any such vessel who shall refuse to furnish, or conceal or attempt to conceal, or cause or procure to be concealed or prevented from appearing, any such alien for examination or who shall refuse to allow the immigration officers to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the persons on board thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom any such default occurs, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily to the extent and under such conditions as may be prescribed by rules and regulations to be made by the Secretary of Labor, and such alien seaman shall be deported on the vessel bringing him to the United States or on any vessel then in port or thereafter arriving in port and departing for any place outside the United States from the port of arrival, and the cost of maintaining such alien seaman pending such deportation shall be borne by the owner, master, consignee, or agent of such vessel. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel (other than a vessel of war of any foreign nation or a vessel solely engaged in the business of pleasure) bringing to the United States any alien (other than an alien seaman entitled to and seeking admission solely as a member of the crew of such vessel) who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other document required by this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, or other travel document, or document of identity and nationality if such document is required under the regulations issued by the Secretary of State under section 2 of this Act, shall be required to take such alien back to the country from which he came or to the country which issued the vessel on which he arrived to the United States, or to deliver such alien to the immigration officer at the port of arrival for inspection at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived. Such vessel shall be required to detain such alien on board while in port, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the owner, master, consignee, or agent of such vessel. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor by such owner, master, consignee, or agent, permit such alien to be detained on board or at quarters provided by such vessel, subject to such conditions as he may prescribe, pending the determination of the question of the admissibility of such alien to the United States. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien beyond the time when he is required to be taken from the United States by the provisions of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel departing for a foreign port within the period of time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or within such further time as may be granted by the Attorney General in his discretion, shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of this Act, and the cost of maintaining such alien seaman pending such deportation shall be borne by the owner, master, consignee, or agent of the vessel on which he arrived. The Attorney General may, upon such terms as he shall prescribe, issue a certificate in lieu of a bond, with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such expenses, in any case in which a bond is required under the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any immigration officer at the port of arrival has refused to permit the landing of any alien seaman who has been certified by the Attorney General to be entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of this section, or any alien seaman who has been permitted to land temporarily as a witness for the United States, such officer shall be dismissed from the service of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act.

(d) Every alien seaman, shall apply to all immigration officers at any seaport in the United States for examination, and every such alien seaman who fails to apply for examination prior to the departure of the vessel on which he arrived to the United States from any place outside thereof, or who fails to present himself for examination at the time and place specified by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, shall be deemed a person who has remained in the United States for the purpose of evading the provisions of this Act, and shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States without having been granted clearance shall upon his return be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was unable to obtain clearance prior to his departure from the United States without fault or negligence on his part. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 166 (a), (b), (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien seaman who is not lawfully admitted for permanent residence to the United States or who does not depart with the vessel upon which he arrives or upon the vessel upon which he is lawfully entitled to be transferred within five days after the refusal of a boarding officer to grant him a permit to land in the United States, except seamen employed in good faith as members of the crew of any vessel engaged in the business of carrying passengers for hire between foreign ports and ports of the United States and seamen who are in transit through the United States to join vessels in foreign ports or for the purpose of being treated in hospitals, and who are certified by the consular officer who issued their passports to be in need of such treatment, shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each such alien seaman so brought. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel liable to the payment of such tax until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof has produced to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of clearance is located the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival showing the payment of the tax imposed by this section or establishing to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor the fact that no such tax is due. Such tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in admiralty, and the payment thereof may also be enforced by the withholding of clearance. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

(b) Every alien seaman who is employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall, before such vessel departs from the port at which it arrives, be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, or hospital treatment, or because of illness requiring detention, or for the purpose of applying for a visa, or for the purpose of taking passage on a vessel departing from the United States, or for the purpose of proceeding in immediate transit through the United States to join a vessel in a foreign port or place, or for such other reasons as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor in his discretion, unless and until he has been granted a landing permit by such officer. Every such alien seaman who is granted a landing permit shall be deported on the vessel which brought him to the United States or on any other vessel which may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that it is impracticable or unreasonable that such alien seaman be deported on such vessel or that the interests of such alien seaman will be served by permitting him to remain in the United States for a longer or shorter period than that for which such vessel is scheduled to remain in port, and shall grant such alien seaman a landing permit for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such purpose. Every such alien seaman who is granted a landing permit shall be deported on the vessel which brought him to the United States or on any other vessel which may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that it is impracticable or unreasonable that such alien seaman be deported on such vessel or that the interests of such alien seaman will be served by permitting him to remain in the United States for a longer or shorter period than that for which such vessel is scheduled to remain in port, and shall grant such alien seaman a landing permit for such period of time as he may deem necessary for such purpose. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will result in undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the treatment to which he will be subjected if returned to the country whence he came, or for any other reason which he may deem sufficient, he may cause such alien seaman to be granted a visa and admitted to the United States for such time and under such conditions as he may prescribe, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or laws regulating the admission of aliens to the United States. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to entitle any alien seaman to remain in the United States for the purpose of obtaining permanent residence therein unless such alien seaman shall be admissible under the immigration laws in force at the time he shall seek admission for permanent residence.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deported at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman shall be deported to the country whence he came, to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he resided, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. The cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman while detained under this section, and the cost of his deportation, shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be collected from the master, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel liable to the payment of such cost until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof has produced to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of clearance is located the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival showing the payment of the cost imposed by this section or establishing to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor the fact that no such cost is due. Such cost shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in admiralty, and the payment thereof may also be enforced by the withholding of clearance. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

(e) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be deported at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien seaman shall be deported to the country whence he came, to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he resided, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. The cost of maintenance of any such alien seaman while detained under this section, and the cost of his deportation, shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be collected from the master, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel liable to the payment of such cost until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof has produced to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of clearance is located the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival showing the payment of the cost imposed by this section or establishing to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor the fact that no such cost is due. Such cost shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in admiralty, and the payment thereof may also be enforced by the withholding of clearance. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTERS

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew, if any, will be prepared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the Principal Immigration Officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete and accurate list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged at the port of arrival; or if there be no such officer in charge of the port of arrival, to the collector of customs of the district in which the port is situated, and such list or manifest shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or who shall refuse to subscribe the same, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. No such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the existence of any such offense or the collection of the fine or penalty imposed therefor, or while the master or owner thereof is under arrest upon charge of committing any such offense. Before any such vessel shall be granted clearance papers as aforesaid the master thereof shall, upon the demand of the commissioner of immigration of the port, or his assistants, produce and deliver to him the list or manifest required by this section to be delivered before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers, and shall subscribe and take and subscribe before such commissioner of immigration or assistant a declaration that the list or manifest produced contains a full, true, and correct account of all aliens employed on board such vessel at any time during the period intervening between the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival and the time of the delivery of the list or manifest required, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief no alien employed on board such vessel at any time during the period aforesaid has been omitted from such list or manifest. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall fail to produce any such list or manifest, or to subscribe and take and subscribe the declaration required by this section, or who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him under the provisions of this section, shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year and by a fine of not more than $1,000. Any such fine may be remitted or refunded in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce upon the recommendation of the Commissioner-General of Immigration. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection the certificate of the physician who examined the alien abroad, as required by section 2 of this Act, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $200 for each such offense. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection the list of aliens required by section 4 of this Act shall be punished by a fine of not more than $200 for each such offense. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal, the presence on board his vessel of any alien who has been refused a visa by the consular officer, or who has been certified by the examining surgeon as afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 2 of this Act, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concealed or attempted to be concealed. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any alien specified in section 2 of this Act when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to report, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal, the presence on board his vessel of any alien who has been certified by the examining surgeon as afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 2 of this Act shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concealed or attempted to be concealed. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any alien specified in section 2 of this Act when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien. Any such master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any alien certified by the examining surgeon as afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port or place of arrival of the vessel at the time of her entry. The list or manifest of aliens required by section 12 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, must be verified by the oath of the master or first officer of the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed in ink by the master or first officer, and must be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel shall be admitted to entry. Any master who refuses to deliver the list or manifest required of him, or who fails to prepare the list or manifest in the manner directed, or who refuses to subscribe to the oath required, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false statement in the list or manifest, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens on board, which lists shall be prepared on ordered, and subscribed under oath by the master in the form of manifest prescribed in the port of arrival: or lists containing no names of such aliens when no such aliens are employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and subscribed under oath by the master in the form of manifest prescribed in the port of arrival: or lists containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and subscribed under oath by the master in the form of manifest prescribed in the port of arrival: or lists containing no names of such aliens, or lists containing the names of such aliens, together with any information likely to lead to its deportation; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed and discharged, and the cause, if any, for such discharge. Such lists shall be prepared, respectively, according to or as near as practicable to the form and in the manner prescribed by the immigration officer in charge of the port. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who refuses to deliver either of the lists required, or who wilfully delays the delivery of any such list, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false statement in any such list, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like penalty if such lists are not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been remitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open and unpaid, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or temporary detention of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who lands or permits to land on shore any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to whom leave to land has been granted by the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such question with the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which such alien deserted, or who shall depart from the United States prior to the completion of the investigation of his case, shall be reported by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien shall have departed from the United States prior to the completion of the investigation of his case shall be reported to the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally cleared until such expense has been borne by the employer found responsible for the deportation of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Jacob Jacobsen, Master of the Norwegian M/S "Skarpo" do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Sworn to before me this 20 day of November, 1928.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the vessel at the port of arrival, and no alien shall be admitted to the United States from any foreign port or place if all the forms are not delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "non-quota" immigrant, the location to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking admission, include names of arriving American citizens seeking admission as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if all the crew, except the master, officers, members of the crew employed on such vessel, alienage, and nationality, and last permanent residence of all such aliens, together with the name and last known address of the nearest relative or friend in the country from which such alien came, and the final destination of such alien, so far as known, and whether or not such alien has been in the United States before, and if so, when and where, and whether or not such alien has been deported or excluded therefrom, and whether or not such alien has a ticket through to such final destination, and whether or not such alien has been in prison or in a almshouse or asylum or hospital for the insane or for treatment of mental disease or in any institution for the support of the poor, and whether or not such alien is coming in pursuance of a previously existing labor contract, and if so, what the terms of such contract are, and whether or not such alien intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether or not such alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend, and whether or not such alien has ever been refused admission to or deported from the United States, and if so, the date of each such refusal or deportation, and whether or not such alien is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing any labor or service, and if so, what kind of labor or service, and whether or not such alien is a polygamist, and whether or not such alien is an anarchist, and whether or not such alien believes in or advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, believing in, advocating, or teaching the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether or not such alien is a person who has been, is, or at any time shall be, by reason of mental, physical, or educational defect, inadmissible to the United States under the provisions of this Act, or any other Act or Acts regulating the immigration of aliens into the United States, and whether or not such alien is in possession of and has been rejected from any other immigration station within two years prior to the date of application for admission to the United States, and whether or not such alien has a round-trip ticket, shall be prepared on the prescribed manifest of the master, commander, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel, and shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port of arrival and before the vessel shall be admitted to entry at such port. The master, commander, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall furnish the immigration officer at the port of arrival with such additional information concerning the persons named in the manifest as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or by any other officer charged with the administration of the immigration laws. The master, commander, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel shall furnish a separate manifest for all such persons destined to the United States who embark at any port in a country not contiguous to the United States, and such manifest shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States. Such manifest shall be prepared in such form and contain such particulars as the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe. Any master, commander, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such manifest in the manner and form and within the time prescribed by this section, or who delivers a manifest which is incorrect or incomplete in the opinion of the Commissioner General of Immigration, the Secretary of Labor, or the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance shall not be withheld, nor the penalty above prescribed be incurred, because of any inaccuracy in such lists unless it shall appear that some person concerned therein knowingly suppressed or misrepresented some fact in relation to some alien mentioned therein: Provided further, That clearance shall not be withheld, nor the penalty above prescribed be incurred, because of the inability of the master to procure a list containing the names of aliens who have been passed through the immigration lines at a previous port of departure: Provided further, That clearance shall not be withheld, nor the penalty above prescribed be incurred, because of the inability of the master to obtain the information required by this section as to the final destination, intention to become a citizen, ticket through to such destination, or previous deportation of any alien who shall have been in the United States for two years or more prior to the departure of the vessel from a foreign port or place, or who is a native of the adjacent islands, or who shall have been a resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, or the Republic of Colombia for a period of two years or more prior to the departure of the vessel from a port or place in one of said countries, or who shall have been in the United States or any of said countries since the passage of this Act, or who shall be in possession of a passport issued by the United States Government or by any of said countries, or who shall be in transit through the United States to a foreign country, or who shall be a bona fide seaman employed on board of a vessel which shall depart from the United States within the time limited by section 35 of this Act, or who shall be a member of the crew of a vessel which has been in port for a period of less than twenty-four hours, or who shall be a person in charge of animals for exhibition purposes, or who shall be a person in charge of a sick or injured person coming to the United States solely for medical treatment, or who shall be the accompanied wife or child under sixteen years of age of any such alien specified in this proviso, or who shall be in charge of a child specified in this proviso coming to the United States solely for medical treatment, or who shall be an officer or employee of the United States Government or of any State, Territorial, or local government coming to the United States on official business, or who shall be an attendant accompanying any such official traveling on official business, or who shall be the wife or child under sixteen years of age accompanying any such official traveling on official business, or who shall be a bona fide actor, artist, lecturer, or singer coming temporarily to the United States solely in the pursuit of his profession, or who shall be the wife or child under sixteen years of age accompanying any such actor, artist, lecturer, or singer coming temporarily to the United States solely in the pursuit of his profession, or who shall be a bona fide student coming to the United States solely to prosecute a course of study at such college, university, seminary, or academy as may be approved by the Commissioner General of Immigration after such investigation as he may deem necessary, and who shall have such evidence of acceptance by any such institution as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or who shall be the wife or child under sixteen years of age accompanying any such student coming to the United States to prosecute such course of study, or who shall be a professional entertainer, or the manager or representative of any such professional entertainer, coming temporarily to the United States solely for the purpose of such entertainment, and who is not otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws of the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit the entry of any alien otherwise admissible who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be entitled to enter the United States under such treaty provisions as may be in force at the time of the arrival of such alien, and who establishes such entitlement to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor before sailing from the port foreign to the vessel on which he arrives in the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit the entry of any alien otherwise admissible who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be entitled to enter the United States solely to carry on trade between the country of which he is a citizen or subject and the United States, under and in pursuance of the provisions of a present existing treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and such country, and to perform such services in connection with the trade as an employee of the nationality of the country with which such treaty exists as the Secretary of Labor may authorize him to perform, for such time as the Secretary of Labor may limit, and who establishes such entitlement to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor before sailing from the port foreign to the vessel on which he arrives in the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit the entry of any alien otherwise admissible who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be entitled to enter the United States solely to perform services in connection with the construction, maintenance, operation, or repair of aircraft, or any parts thereof, of the nationality of which he is a citizen or subject, when the foreign aircraft corporation or company employing such alien is engaged in such construction, maintenance, operation, or repair upon aircraft of which more than fifty per centum of the interest is owned by citizens of the United States or corporations or associations created under the laws of the United States or any State thereof, and establishes such entitlement to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor before sailing from the port foreign to the vessel on which he arrives in the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may, in his discretion, permit the entry of any alien otherwise admissible who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be entitled to enter the United States solely to perform services in connection with the operation, maintenance, or repair of aircraft, or any parts thereof, of the nationality of which he is a citizen or subject, when the foreign aircraft transport company employing such alien is engaged in the transportation of mail, passengers, or property by aircraft between the United States and foreign countries

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

The Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, and the Act of May 22, 1924, as amended, require that a complete list or manifest of all persons be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and that a separate list be prepared with respect to certain classes of aliens. Special inquiry officers will be detailed to take testimony concerning the admissibility of any alien. Sufficient space should be allowed between the entries to permit the writing of the decision rendered in each case.

Masters of vessels will be fined $200 for each alien not listed. Masters will also be fined $200 for each alien who is landed at a port other than a port designated by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, unless the master has been ordered by the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival to land such alien at some other port. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien who is allowed to land in the United States from a vessel in violation of the regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States.

Masters will be fined $200 for each stowaway found on board vessel after departure from last port of call in foreign country, unless such stowaway has been reported and a proper certificate issued by the consular officer at such port. Masters will be fined $200 for each deserting alien seaman unless a certificate is produced showing that such alien seaman has been lawfully granted permission to land, or has been arrested, or has died, or has been otherwise accounted for to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of Immigration at the port of arrival. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien seaman employed on board vessel at any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of vessel to report the name of such alien seaman to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien seaman employed on board vessel at any port in the United States if such alien seaman shall not be duly reported and entered on the crew list of vessel by the master, agent, consignee, or charterer of vessel to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien seaman employed on board vessel at any port in the United States if such alien seaman shall not be duly reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the departure of vessel from such port. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien seaman employed on board vessel at any port in the United States if such alien seaman shall not be duly reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the departure of vessel from such port. Masters will be fined $200 for each alien seaman employed on board vessel at any port in the United States if such alien seaman shall not be duly reported to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival before the departure of vessel from such port.

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel, stating the positions they temporarily hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied for enlistment, and the positions they will hold in the ship's company during the time the vessel remains in port. Such lists shall also contain the name of and such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing as much of such information as may be obtained by the exercise of due diligence. Any person who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of this section, as amended, shall upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee with respect to whom such failure occurs. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel by the collector of customs until the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure lists containing the names of all such alien employees, their positions on board the vessel, and such other information concerning them as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. Such lists shall be in such form and contain such information as the Attorney General may require to enable him to perform the duties imposed upon him by this section. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver such lists, or who knowingly delivers incomplete or inaccurate lists, or who knowingly fails to show on such lists the name of any alien employee, or who knowingly shows on such lists the name of any person as an alien employee who is not an alien employee, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee with respect to whom such failure occurs. Upon such failure the Attorney General in his discretion shall refuse clearance to the vessel, or cancel the clearance granted to the vessel, or both. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any vessel on account of the failure of any alien employee to arrive thereon, if the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien has been lawfully discharged, or that his departure from the United States on account of illness or other cause was necessary, or that he has been forcibly detained. Any vessel which shall depart from the United States without having complied with the requirements of this section, as amended, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens embarked at foreign ports for the United States, whether destined to the United States or to foreign countries, and to all vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign ports, whether or not such vessels are bound in part or in whole to foreign ports. (43 Stat. 161; 8 U. S. C. 180.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such extent as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 180.)

Sec. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from a foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands not separated by an arm of the sea from the United States, or arriving at the Canal Zone, shall cause all alien seamen employed on such vessel duly inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land from such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has granted such seaman (unless a bona fide resident of the United States returning to his home after a temporary absence) a landing certificate, or has granted such seaman a permit to land temporarily, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and has certified upon the manifest of the vessel that such seaman has been granted a landing certificate or permit to land temporarily. Such landing certificate or permit to land temporarily may be granted to such seaman by the Attorney General or by such immigration officer as he may designate for that purpose. Upon the granting of such landing certificate or permit to land temporarily to such seaman, he shall be given a identification card containing his name, age, nationality, race, final port from which he departed, and such other information as the Attorney General may prescribe, and a duplicate thereof shall be delivered to the master of the vessel. Such seaman shall be required to present such identification card upon each subsequent entry into the United States during the period of his employment on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States. Such seaman shall be required to present himself for examination by the immigration officer at the port of arrival each time he shall enter the United States, unless the master of the vessel on which he arrives certifies that such seaman will depart on the same vessel, and such certification is noted on the manifest of the vessel by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such seaman shall be required to depart on the vessel on which he arrives, unless prevented by illness or other cause beyond his control, or unless he has been granted permission to depart otherwise than on such vessel by the Attorney General or by such immigration officer as he may designate for that purpose. Such seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens, and at the same expense, unless he shall depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be responsible for the deportation of such seaman. Such seaman shall be deported to the country to which he belongs, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, or to the country in which the foreign port was located from which he sailed to the United States, at the option of the Attorney General. Such seaman shall not be entitled to be admitted to the United States as an immigrant or temporary visitor until the expiration of one year after his deportation, unless prior to his application for admission he shall have obtained the consent of the Secretary of Labor to his application.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the Attorney General shall be satisfied that such seaman has been lawfully discharged, or that his departure from the United States on account of illness or other cause was necessary, or that he has been forcibly detained. Any vessel which shall depart from the United States without having complied with the requirements of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman with respect to whom such failure occurs. Clearance shall not be granted such vessel by the collector of customs until the master has delivered to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien employees, their positions on board the vessel, and such other information concerning them as the Attorney General may require to enable him to perform the duties imposed upon him by this section. Any master who knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of this section, as amended, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien employee with respect to whom such failure occurs. Upon such failure the Attorney General in his discretion shall refuse clearance to the vessel, or cancel the clearance granted to the vessel, or both. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any vessel on account of the failure of any alien employee to arrive thereon, if the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien has been lawfully discharged, or that his departure from the United States on account of illness or other cause was necessary, or that he has been forcibly detained. Any vessel which shall depart from the United States without having complied with the requirements of this section, as amended, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers for the United States required to be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) shall not be destroyed or removed from the vessel by the master or any other person before the delivery of such list or manifest to the immigration officer, or his authorized representative, at the immigration station, or other place designated by the immigration officer for the inspection of aliens, or after such delivery without the permission of such officer. Any master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be subject to a penalty of $300 for each violation. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. A. § 180.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or any person who shall bring into the United States from any place outside the foregoing any alien not lawfully entitled to enter the United States, shall be liable to the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act, and in addition thereto, if any such alien is found in the United States, he shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, unless prior to the issuance of the permit for the vessel to depart from the United States he shall have delivered to the Commissioner of Immigration a certificate from the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been granted the privilege of entering the United States solely for the purpose of performing temporary service or labor specified in such certificate, and that such service or labor is of such character that citizens of the United States cannot be obtained to perform it, and that such alien will depart from the United States upon the completion of such service or labor, or upon the revocation of the certificate, and has furnished a bond to insure the departure of such alien in accordance with such certificate, in such amount, not exceeding $500, as the Secretary of Labor may require. Upon the filing of such certificate and the giving of such bond the master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of the vessel may be relieved from the payment of the penalty of $1,000 for each such alien, and the Secretary of Labor may cancel such bond at any time within two years after the date of the same upon the surrender of the certificate. Any such alien who shall enter the United States in violation of the terms of such certificate shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act (8 U. S. C. A. §§ 155, 156), irrespective of the time or manner of his entry into the United States. Any such alien who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted in such certificate shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act (8 U. S. C. A. §§ 155, 156), irrespective of the time or manner of his entry into the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside the United States, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel or a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand or modify the penalty so incurred, and shall not be required to state his reasons for such action. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General cannot make proper disposition of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived within sixty days after his arrival, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate until such vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses and penalties incurred shall constitute a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the penalties imposed by this section have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888, 889; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees: When clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 30 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of intention to file application for such clearance has been given to the master of such vessel at least twenty-four hours before the filing of such application. Such notice may be served by any immigrant inspector. Applications for clearance papers must be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or attorney of such vessel, and must be sworn to before the collector of customs or his deputy. Clearance papers will not be issued until the vessel has been released from detention by the immigration officers, or a bond has been given to secure the payment of any penalty which may be incurred under the provisions of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), and the regulations issued thereunder.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment as enemy aliens, or pending examination as to his admissibility to land in the United States, or pending the removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. A. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall bring into the United States from any place outside the foregoing any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arriving and inspected and seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board vessel such inspection is to be made, shall be notified by such immigration officer to the Attorney General to do so, and fail to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand or modify the penalty so incurred, and shall not be required to state his reasons for such action. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel or a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman to the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand or modify the penalty so incurred, and shall not be required to state his reasons for such action. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of the date of their entry into the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General cannot make proper disposition of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived within sixty days after his arrival, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate until such vessel is ready to depart from the United States, or may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses and penalties incurred shall constitute a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the penalties imposed by this section have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. A. 188; 8 U. S. C. 151 (a), 151 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of churches of other denomination to which any of the persons named therein belong may be added to the list. The list shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is in force at the port of arrival, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, which lists shall be prepared and delivered by the master of such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from each foreign port or place at which such vessel may touch on her way to the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens may be required by regulations prescribed and in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor as to any vessel arriving from the Canal Zone, or the ports of Puerto Rico, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States. Whenever any alien employed on such vessel, during the period of her stay in port, shall desert or shall be ordered on board a vessel about to depart from the port, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report such desertion, with all facts in connection therewith, to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, and in default thereof shall be liable to the penalties provided in section 8 of this Act in the case of the failure of such master, agent, consignee, or owner to report the illegal landing of such alien. Every master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall, before the departure of such vessel from any foreign port or place, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States a certificate or manifest of the persons on board such vessel, which certificate or manifest shall be in such form as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall state the full name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of every passenger, and such additional information concerning each passenger as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, whether the passenger is an immigrant, a nonimmigrant, or an alien in transit through the United States, and such other information pertaining to the passengers and the vessel as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Every master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall, before the departure of such vessel from any foreign port or place, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate or manifest of the crew of such vessel, which certificate or manifest shall be in such form as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall state the full name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of every member of the crew, whether he is to be discharged in the United States or not, and such other information pertaining to the crew as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Every master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall, before the departure of such vessel from any foreign port or place, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a list of all stowaways on board such vessel, which list shall contain such information concerning such stowaways as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Every master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall, before the departure of such vessel from any foreign port or place, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a list of all persons employed on such vessel who have been left behind in foreign countries, or who have been signed on articles in foreign countries to proceed to the United States, and the reasons for such persons not arriving, which list shall contain such information concerning such persons

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the first port of entry, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members, or crew (Form 632) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an entirely seaman is it a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry a list containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the crew who are known or intended to be left behind at the port of entry; or if there be no alien members of the crew, a list containing a statement to that effect; and it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien members who were not members of the crew at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien members who were not members of the crew at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness, to procure hospital treatment, or for any other cause, and the cause for which left behind, and the destination of each of such persons, so far as known, and the intended movements of such alien after departure, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of this section with respect to any such alien shall be $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending: not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act remain open served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 21. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury to such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge of the port, or his assistant to whom such authority may be delegated by said officer, shall be satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the removal of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has been notified of such intended departure of such alien seaman (which notification in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport any such seaman on board such vessel when such vessel is ready to proceed to sea from such port, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be on the alien seaman that he was not employed on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, or that he was transferred to such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a violation of subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien seaman may be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of the fine to obtain or deport alien readmitted by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof shall be on the alien seaman that the conditions mentioned in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, or that he was transferred to such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a violation of subdivision (a) of this section.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the M.V. "RYAN" ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States and its possessions, including any crew member who has been forcibly detained on board against his will, or who has been left behind by reason of illness or injury and intends to rejoin the vessel at a later port or place.

I have noted the color of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended (8 U.S.C. 132), and the color of sections 251 and 252 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 889; 8 U.S.C. 211 and 212), which appear below.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ..... 19 ..

..... Immigrant Inspector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from which such alien deserted, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alienage examination of such alien seamen, or unless such alien is certified by the Attorney General to the Secretary of Labor as a bona fide seaman entitled to demand and obtain on board vessel of the same line on which he arrived, or on board another vessel of the same line sailing from the same port, the wages due him, and the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that such vessel has sailed from the United States: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been employed on board any vessel engaged in trade between the United States and any adjacent foreign country or possession thereof, or between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between the United States and any island possession thereof, or between any two such island possessions, or between any port in the United States and the high seas, or between any port in the United States and any port in the Republic of Panama, or between any port in the United States and any port in the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or Haiti, if such alien seaman has been employed on board such vessel for a period of not less than one year prior to his application for admission into the United States, and if such vessel is regularly scheduled to depart from such port or ports within five days after the departure of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived in the United States, and if such alien seaman is in possession of a valid passport issued by the country of which he is a subject, or other satisfactory evidence of identity as a seaman, and is destined to the country which issued such passport or to the country in which he resided at the time of his last departure for the United States, and if such alien seaman is not afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be sufficient reasons for excluding him from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may issue rules and regulations governing the admission of alien seamen under bond in accordance with the provisions of this section.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, until he shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause to depart from the United States in the port of arrival all alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has determined that such alien seaman is not a member of a class subject to such examination, or has procured a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the landing to permit the departure of such alien, or such alien is granted a temporary permit to land, or such alien has been granted clearance upon a bond, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond duly executed by a surety company approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond or bonds upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States, or upon such alien's being granted permission to land temporarily or permanently, or upon the deportation of such alien, or upon such alien's having been granted clearance by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or upon such alien's having been granted clearance from the United States, or upon such alien's having been granted clearance from a foreign port on a vessel other than that on which he arrived in

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien employed, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; also the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who are discharged in the port of arrival; the cause or reason for the discharge of each alien so employed, and the name and last known address of the person in the United States to whom such alien has been engaged, and such other information in regard to such aliens as may be required by the Attorney General. Such list or manifest shall be prepared and delivered under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, at such time as he may demand, a certificate or manifest of the crew of such vessel, stating and describing as to each member thereof such particulars as may be required by the Attorney General, and also stating the number of persons in the crew who have been discharged in the port of arrival; also stating the number of persons who have died on board during the voyage, and the cause and place of death. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such list or manifest, or to furnish such certificate, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully and fully any question touching the matters aforesaid, or any of them, put to him by any such officer, shall pay to the United States the sum of $10 for each such refusal or neglect, and in addition thereto the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom any such refusal or neglect occurs; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the production of such list or certificate or the answering of such questions or the payment of such sum or sums of money, or any part thereof, for which the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel may be liable under the provisions of this section, or pending the determination of the question of such liability: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888, 889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from any place in the Dominion of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, or Panama, unless such vessel shall subsequently have been in any place outside thereof), shall pay a sum of $8 for each alien seaman (which term shall include a person holding a seaman's certificate) who is found on board such vessel after such arrival, and who is not lawfully entitled to be admitted and landed under the immigration laws, or who fails to remain on board after such inspection or to depart with such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, and shall pay a like sum to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such fine, or may refund any money paid for the same if remitted subsequently to the payment thereof.

This section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen who may arrive from the outlying territory of the United States in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who may arrive in the United States from any place in the Canal Zone, whether such seamen are passengers or members of the crew, and whether or not they intend to land, but shall not apply to any seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or to any seaman who has been certified by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit such sum: Provided, That the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, in his discretion, cancel any fine or portion thereof which may be imposed under the provisions of this section.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart from the outlying territory of the United States with the vessel on which he arrived shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit such sum: Provided, That the Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, in his discretion, cancel any fine or portion thereof which may be imposed under the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue delay, and such vessel is otherwise ready to depart from the United States, he may, in his discretion, authorize such vessel to depart from the United States without the deportation of such alien seaman, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to which it shall be the duty of the master, purser, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and while the vessel is at the port of arrival it shall be the duty of such master, purser, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has fallen ill and been taken from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, purser, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall join such vessel from the time of her departure at any port in the United States; and also the names of aliens who have been left behind in the country, and the reasons therefor, so far as known. It shall be the duty of the master, purser, commander, or master of any vessel bound from a foreign port to a port in the United States to detain any alien employee who fails to appear on board the vessel before departure from such foreign port, and report the facts to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless such alien shall have been regularly discharged in accordance with the immigration laws and regulations prescribed thereunder, or shall have died or escaped. Any master, purser, commander, or master of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, or who refuses to detain any alien employee as required, or who fails to report the facts in connection therewith; but no alien shall be detained on board any vessel for the purpose of this section. Any alien employee who fails to appear on board the vessel before departure from a foreign port, or who lands in the United States at any time prior to the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, may be arrested without warrant and taken before the commissioner of immigration or the inspector in charge at the port of arrival, and if, in the opinion of the commissioner of immigration, such alien is found to be a member of a class which is prohibited from entering the United States, he shall be deported in the same manner as provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any such alien employee may be required to remain in the custody of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, or of the owner of such vessel, while in port, or may be kept in custody on board such vessel or in the immediate charge of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, pending the completion of his examination and the decision as to his admissibility, and such master or owner shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien employee who is not produced when required. Any such alien employee who shall be ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States subject to the immigration laws, which has brought to the United States any alien, whether a stowaway or otherwise, who is found to be inadmissible under the immigration laws, or who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be required to take such alien back to the place from which he came to the United States, or to any place where he boarded the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may direct. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall also be required to pay the cost of maintenance, while on land, of such alien and of his guard, if any, and the cost of his removal from the United States. Clearance may be withheld in the case of any vessel upon which any such alien is employed until the requirements of this section are complied with. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom he fails to comply with the requirements of this section or with any rule or regulation issued thereunder. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms as he shall deem just, or may be recovered, pursuant to law, in an action on the case in favor of the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, or from any insular possession of the United States subject to the immigration laws, which has brought to the United States any alien, whether a stowaway or otherwise, who is found to be inadmissible under the immigration laws, or who is afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be required to take such alien back to the place from which he came to the United States, or to any place where he boarded the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may direct. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall also be required to pay the cost of maintenance, while on land, of such alien and of his guard, if any, and the cost of his removal from the United States. Clearance may be withheld in the case of any vessel upon which any such alien is employed until the requirements of this section are complied with. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom he fails to comply with the requirements of this section or with any rule or regulation issued thereunder. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms as he shall deem just, or may be recovered, pursuant to law, in an action on the case in favor of the United States. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada or Mexico, shall be required to take back to the place from which he came to the United States, or to any place where he boarded the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, as the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may direct. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall also be required to pay the cost of maintenance, while on land, of such alien and of his guard, if any, and the cost of his removal from the United States. Clearance may be withheld in the case of any vessel upon which any such alien is employed until the requirements of this section are complied with. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom he fails to comply with the requirements of this section or with any rule or regulation issued thereunder. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms as he shall deem just, or may be recovered, pursuant to law, in an action on the case in favor of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(a) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and in any event before the departure of the vessel from such port, by the master, purser, or commanding officer of such vessel, or by the agent, consignee, or owner thereof, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe. Such proof shall show the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other particulars as may be required by the Attorney General of each alien employed on such vessel who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who has been employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, and the name of the vessel on which each such alien arrived, and the date of such arrival, and shall show the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of each such alien. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who has been permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, and the particulars of such temporary landing, and the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have died during the period of employment, and the particulars of such death, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have escaped during the period of employment, and the particulars of such escape, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind in the country, and the reasons therefor, so far as known. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the period of employment, and the particulars of such disease, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be a member of any class which is prohibited from entering the United States, and the particulars of such case. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the period of employment, and the particulars of such disease, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be a member of any class which is prohibited from entering the United States, and the particulars of such case. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the period of employment, and the particulars of such disease, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be a member of any class which is prohibited from entering the United States, and the particulars of such case.

(b) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and in any event before the departure of the vessel from such port, by the master, purser, or commanding officer of such vessel, or by the agent, consignee, or owner thereof, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe. Such proof shall show the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other particulars as may be required by the Attorney General of each alien employed on such vessel who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who has been employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, and the name of the vessel on which each such alien arrived, and the date of such arrival, and shall show the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of each such alien. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who has been permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, and the particulars of such temporary landing, and the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have died during the period of employment, and the particulars of such death, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have escaped during the period of employment, and the particulars of such escape, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind in the country, and the reasons therefor, so far as known. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the period of employment, and the particulars of such disease, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be a member of any class which is prohibited from entering the United States, and the particulars of such case.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is impracticable, or that the public interest will be served thereby, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken from the vessel and deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expenses shall not be charged against the vessel in excess of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such finding occurs, nor shall the Attorney General in the discretion shall fixing proper. The section as amended, shall apply to all deportation aliens independent to June 2, 1940.

(d) Proof shall be filed as soon as practicable after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and in any event before the departure of the vessel from such port, by the master, purser, or commanding officer of such vessel, or by the agent, consignee, or owner thereof, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as the Attorney General may by regulations prescribe. Such proof shall show the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other particulars as may be required by the Attorney General of each alien employed on such vessel who has been ordered excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who has been employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, and the name of the vessel on which each such alien arrived, and the date of such arrival, and shall show the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of each such alien. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who has been permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, and the particulars of such temporary landing, and the particulars of the departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have died during the period of employment, and the particulars of such death, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have escaped during the period of employment, and the particulars of such escape, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind in the country, and the reasons therefor, so far as known. Such proof shall also show the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease during the period of employment, and the particulars of such disease, and the name of each alien employed on such vessel who shall have been found to be a member of any class which is prohibited from entering the United States, and the particulars of such case.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is impracticable, or that the public interest will be served thereby, he may cause such alien seaman to be taken from the vessel and deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expenses shall not be charged against the vessel in excess of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such finding occurs, nor shall the Attorney General in the discretion shall fixing proper. The section as amended, shall apply to all deportation aliens independent to June 2, 1940.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or list containing as much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien member of the crew has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, on demand, any such alien member of the crew who was not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may be found on board or connected with the vessel; and also the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those in any above-described class who may be found on board. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 888, 889; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

SEC. 15.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied.—Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 151), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of departure has been served upon the master in accordance with section 33 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 180).

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or such alien seaman has been otherwise inspected by such immigration officer at a time and place satisfactory to the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such failure occurred independent of any fault.

Time section as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens embarking at the ports of the world on vessels arriving in the United States after January 1, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deposit after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

I have noted the color of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from any port or place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, as required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and color of sections 15 and 30, Act of May 22, 1924, supra, about to depart.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector portside the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens in the manner of all aliens members, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position therein, the wages per month paid each alien, and specifying those to be landed in the United States, those destined to foreign countries, and those to be landed at another port in the United States; and before the departure of any such vessel from a port in the United States a like list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position therein, the wages per month paid each alien, and specifying those landed in the United States, those destined to foreign countries, and those who died during the voyage, and the cause of death of each; and after the arrival of any such vessel at a port in the United States a like list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position therein, the wages per month paid each alien, and specifying those who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who were employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel from the United States, and also those who have been employed on such vessel since her departure from the last port in the United States, and the reasons for the absence from such vessel of those employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who were not on board at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to replace those who have left the vessel, and the names of all persons who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel at the time or not later than the departure of such vessel from the United States, and the reasons for the absence from such vessel of those who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave such vessel at a later time, together with information likely to lead to the apprehension and identification of any such alien who may unlawfully enter the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, which list shall be prepared in such manner and contain such particulars concerning each alien as the Commissioner General of Immigration may require, and shall be produced, together with the crew list, for the inspection of any immigration officer at any time before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such list is required to be delivered. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who refuses or neglects to answer truly any question relating to the information required by this section, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a time before it has been made as above required: and no such vessel shall be cleared while it remains during the determination of the inspection of the immigrants, and the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unavoidable detention, or to such extent and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and any such alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board such vessel, unless prevented by sickness, injury, or detention by the immigration authorities, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act. (42 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, whether such alien seaman (whether inspection or to depart such seaman if employed by such immigration officer or the Attorney General) is destined to depart from the United States, except temporarily for medical examination by the medical examiners). to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer or the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Proof shall be filed as alien seaman did not appear upon the conditions mentioned in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart as required by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list is changed to alien immigrant, and "nonalien" is inserted to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection at ports of crews (from 1-100) shall not be crowded on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, addition to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, indicate names of alternate addresses given as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

Sec. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, which said white lists were respectively subject as the aforesaid General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any such alien has unlawfully landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on the vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill the vacancies who have been discharged, and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid he shall be punished by the aforesaid fine for each alien not listed. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such lists by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of departure, upon the execution by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of a bond in the penal sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, suit may be instituted against the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel for the recovery of the same. (39 Stat. 889-895; 8 U. S. C. 151.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164 8 U. S. C. 166)

Sec. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because detained as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164 8 U. S. C. 166)

arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial alien seamen employed on vessels arriving in the United States.

(b) Proof taken on alien seaman shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the effect that such alien seaman has been duly reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seaman by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of churches of alien members, including names of relative American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

port. When an alleged seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of relative American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the time of its departure from the United States. The list or manifest of aliens employed on such vessel shall be subject to the same inspection by officers of the Public Health Service as the aliens on board such vessel, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the inspection of the said list or manifest by the said officers of the Public Health Service and the immigration officers, unless the master of such vessel shall make oath that the said list or manifest contains a full and correct account of all aliens employed on board such vessel who have been discharged or who have died during the period intervening since the last preceding list was prepared, specifying the names of those discharged or who died, the reasons for their discharge, and the amounts due and credited to them respectively, and that he has no knowledge or information of any other such persons who should properly be shown upon said list. Any master of a vessel who refuses to furnish forthwith, upon demand of the proper immigration officer, the list required by this section, or who refuses to make oath to the said list when required, or who knowingly makes a false statement in said list, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master of a vessel who fails to deliver such list or manifest at the time of the departure of his vessel from the United States, or to make oath to the same when required, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each and every such failure. The Attorney General may remit the fine provided for in this section or any part thereof in the case of vessels putting into United States ports in distress.

(a) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of an alien ordered on the vessel on which the master is employed was occasioned by the master's negligence or by his failure to perform any duty imposed upon him by this section, the Attorney General may, in addition to any other penalty provided by this section, refuse clearance to the vessel on which the master is employed during a period not to exceed one year from the date of the violation of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman shall be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival before he is permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel from a place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment in the United States, shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner(s), to determine whether each seaman (after inspection of all crews) has any of the diseases or defects described in section 16 of this Act, and shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the result of such examination on board vessel after such inspection of to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so. Any fee to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such seaman is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay the said penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to pay the penalty on the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty. Such penalty is not less than $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and the Attorney General may, upon application in writing from the master, withdraw such question from the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, remit any penalty in excess of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as to the Attorney General in the discretion shall seem just, but not less than $300 for each seaman in such cases as the Attorney General shall deem proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1920.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound vessel of the master on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall depart after condemnation of his landing, or who shall depart without having been granted permission so to depart by the Attorney General, shall be deported as an alien seaman unless the Attorney General finds that such deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall depart after condemnation of his landing, or who shall depart without having been granted permission so to depart by the Attorney General, shall be deported as an alien seaman unless the Attorney General finds that such deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the fact that the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof has sailed from the port of arrival before the expiration of the time required for the examination of such seaman by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at such port, or for any other cause not due to the fault of such seaman. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel on which a deportable alien seaman arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof until the master shall have complied with the provisions of this section relative to such seaman. Clearance may be granted prior to the departure of such seaman upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of his maintenance while detained, the cost of his passage to the port to which he is destined, and an additional sum sufficient to cover the head tax payable under the provisions of section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, if such tax is applicable to such seaman. Such deposit shall be held to meet the payment of such items only, and any unexpended balance shall be returned to the person who made the deposit. (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

The line described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The line of cleavage on said manifest must be completed before the vessel is admitted to pratique. "Workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; to list separately the names of all aliens in the crew who are not to be discharged in the port of arrival, but who intend to depart from the United States in the vessel on which they arrived; to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been taken from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to report the subsequent movements of any such alien, whether he shall be found on board such vessel or not. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question as to the payment of such penalty: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the duration of the detention of any alien who may be certified to be afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in section 20 of this Act, or who may be certified by the examining surgeons to be liable to become a public charge, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the United States, or who may be excluded under the provisions of section 3 of this Act, or who may be detained for special inquiry under the provisions of section 16 of this Act, or who may be detained for the action of the Secretary of Labor in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of this Act, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the United States by reason of the provisions of section 1 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the United States by reason of the provisions of section 2 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the United States by reason of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the United States by reason of the provisions of section 4 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or who may be certified by the Secretary of Labor to be a person who cannot lawfully enter the IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry. The list of changes on other side shall be prepared from the vessel's manifest, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes on other side may be prepared by the master, a subordinate officer, or the purser (steward), but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where no principal immigration officer is stationed, delivery shall be made to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry. (Form I–418.) "Master," a subordinate to whom such duties may be delegated, is defined to include the agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, or the officer in charge of the vessel when in port.

The list shall show the full name of every alien, including members of the crew, and the last permanent residence of each alien. Where no permanent residence is known, the last temporary residence should be shown. In order to facilitate inspection, the names of aliens members of the crew should be listed first, followed by the names of other aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by the medical officer in charge of the port or the Commissioner of Immigration to the Secretary of Labor, or for the purpose of obtaining surgical treatment which cannot be obtained on board such vessel, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in case of shipwreck or other disaster, or for the purpose of participating in the defense of the United States, or for such other cause as the Secretary of Labor may deem sufficient, but shall be deported in the same manner as provided by law in the case of other aliens ordered excluded from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who shall fail to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportations arising independent of June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or with some other vessel within the period of time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or who shall depart from the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found remaining in the United States after the departure of such vessel, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be detained beyond the period of time allowed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the departure of such vessel, except upon the certificate of the Attorney General that such detention is necessary. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees; manning clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit prescribed by section 26 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 168) prevail been served, the deposit specified in 8 CFR 150.61–150.71, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of entry a list containing the names of all aliens who may be employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who intend to land in the port of entry; or lists containing no more or other information than is required by this section may be used. Such lists shall be delivered at the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer until the master has delivered to the said immigration officer a list containing the names of all aliens who have been employed on board such vessel during her stay in port, or certified on the list previously delivered that no alien was employed during such stay. Upon the arrival at a foreign port of any vessel having on board any alien employed on such vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those who have been shipped in the port for the voyage, a list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel before her departure at the time of her departure, and also the names of those who have been shipped in the port for the voyage, a list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel before

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, FRED T ADAIR, Master of the MSNS MARINE LYNX, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 3, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Master, FIRST ASSISTANT ENGR

Sworn to before me this 13 day of November, 20 51

Immigrant Inspector.

20-11/831-SJP

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes or additions thereto, required by section 12 (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a native citizen of a "most-favored" nation to whom the provisions of section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, apply, the list shall indicate the nationality of such seaman, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, charterer, or owner pro hac vice thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspection officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied to or engaged, and specifying those who do not belong in the port of arrival; to state concisely on such lists the sex, age, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination so far as known, of all aliens who have been taken on board at any foreign port or place and intend to land at the United States port of arrival, and the name of the vessel on which each such alien will depart from the United States, and to report additions to or departures from the list before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and deliver a supplemental list containing the names of and required information concerning such aliens, in like manner as the original list; to report the name of any alien employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind at any port, the cause for such alien's detention, and the intended destination of such alien, so far as known; to report the name of any alien who shall have died during the voyage, and the cause of death; to report the name of any alien who shall have been transferred to any other vessel, and the name of such vessel; IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, including names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from foreign port of any vessel in the United States from foreign port, or upon departure from one port to another in the United States, every master, commander, or agent of any vessel bringing to, or bringing or carrying from the United States any alien, or having any alien under his charge or control, shall before the departure of such vessel from the port at which such alien is to be landed from such vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at such port a list or manifest, prepared in quadruplicate, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, containing such information in regard to each and every alien on board such vessel, whether he is a citizen or subject of some foreign country or not, and such additional information relative to such aliens as the Commissioner General of Immigration may deem necessary for the proper administration of the immigration laws of the United States, and the master, commander, or agent of such vessel shall subscribe and deliver to such inspector a certificate to the effect that to the best of his knowledge and belief the information contained in such list or manifest is correct and true in all respects. Such certificate shall be sworn to before the inspector at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States. The master, commander, or agent of every such vessel shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel in any capacity, and of all aliens who have been discharged in any foreign port or place during the period intervening since the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States, which list or manifest shall show the name, nationality, last residence, and such other facts and information in regard to such employees and discharged aliens as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such list or manifest shall be subscribed and sworn to before the inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of the United States by the master, commander, or agent of such vessel in the form prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also deliver to the inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel a certificate signed by the surgeon of the vessel, if there be a surgeon employed thereon, and if there be no surgeon employed on such vessel, then by the master, commander, or agent thereof, stating the number of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been rejected and who have been treated in hospital during the voyage, giving the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, port at which embarked, and cause of rejection or treatment in hospital of each such alien, and the number, if any, who have been buried at sea during the voyage, giving the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, cause of death, and such other facts and information in regard to such cases as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel a certificate signed by the surgeon of the vessel, if there be a surgeon employed thereon, and if there be no surgeon employed on such vessel, then by the master, commander, or agent thereof, stating the number of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been rejected and who have been treated in hospital during the voyage, giving the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, port at which embarked, and cause of rejection or treatment in hospital of each such alien, and the number, if any, who have been buried at sea during the voyage, giving the name, age, sex, nationality, last residence, cause of death, and such other facts and information in regard to such cases as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, whether a citizen or subject of some foreign country or not, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to be of assistance in the identification of such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to be of assistance in the identification of such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, but who have been employed thereon at some time during the period of such vessel's last voyage, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to be of assistance in the identification of such alien as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such master, commander, or agent shall also furnish to the inspector at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been discharged in any foreign port or place during the period intervening since the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at before arriving at a port of the United States, which list or manifest shall show the name, nationality, last residence, and such other facts and information in regard to such aliens
